The Cigarette of Quality

HOW ENGLAND VIEWS IT.
London, Oct. 22.—The British papers today called Miss Edith Cavell's execution by Germans at Brussels: "Secret savagery." "Insatiable beastliness." "Frightfulness without any mercy." "Foul minded brutality." "A arrogant barbarism." Then, too, they said, "German system is a deadly menace to civilization," and that the name of Cavell should become the British battle cry. As a parting shot, they said, "The kaiser should be hanged."

Helen Gould Adopts John Doe Number 104

New York, Oct. 22.—"John Doe, No. 104, alias Austin McCleary" used to be his name. He was just a waif, left to the mercies of a big city—thrown away on the steps of St. Patrick's cathedral a year ago.

Today, he is the adopted son of Finley J. Shepard and his wife, the former Helen Gould, and heir to untold millions.

It was a pair of twinkling blue eyes, a mass of curly light hair and the smile of an angel that attracted Mrs. Shepard and determined her to take him as her own, after she found him in St. Christopher's home.

The child's name is Finley J. Shepard, Jr.

"He is our son in every sense of the word," the foster father said today. "The adoption is no experiment. We love him and we wanted to have a son. He will be my heir."

Shepard had tried to locate the parents for months but failed. Today he intimated he was prepared to fight any attempt to take the waif away and he suggested that it was criminal of the parents to abandon the kiddie on the cathedral steps.

"He gives evidence of coming from a good family," Shepard said. "I believe he is the most remarkable five-year-old I ever saw. He is full of life and most intelligent."
