SOCIETY

An exceedingly enjoyable social was given Friday evening under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers association of the Mountain View school, of Polk county, at the school house. The program was replete with interest. Miss LaVon Coppock and Charles Dillard, of the Anna Rogers High School of Exposition giving several entertaining numbers. The first group of readings by Miss Coppock consisted of "At the Phone," and "The Elf Child," the second, "The Lisper," and "Moo Cow, Moo." She responded to queries with "Alone at Night," and "The Shave Store." Miss Coppock's work shows a sympathetic interpretation of children's numbers and was appreciatively received. Charles Dillard elicited much applause from his audience by his selection, "Darius Green and His Flying Machine," and "Dat Apple Tree." He gave as encores, "Jane Jones," and "Little Yawelstrauss." A decided cleverness was shown by this youthful reader in handling dialogue parts. The social which was for the benefit of a piano fund was a decided success. The Parent-Teachers' association of that district will start work for the winter and regularly organize at its first business meeting, November the 19th.

The Portland Symphony Orchestra will begin its fifth season tomorrow afternoon at the Heilig theater, with M. Christensen as conductor. The program will open with Johan Severin Svendsen's symphony in D Major, and close with the overture to "Husitela" by Antoine Dornik, the Bohemian composer. "The Queen of Sheba" by Karl Goldmark, the late Hungarian composer will be a strong number.

The lighter numbers will be "Adagio Pathetique," by Benjamin Godard, the French composer; "Talbriere a Musique Valse Badinage," by Anatole Lindoff, the Russian composer, a work written for woodwind and harp, and an arrangement for strings only of "Molly on the Shore," by P. A. Granger, the Australian composer who is now concertizing in this country. Carl Denton, a former Salemite who has been with the orchestra since its organization, is one of the first violins.

The Highland Mothers club met at the school house Tuesday afternoon, October 19, the opening session beginning with the new school year. Officers were elected and committees appointed, laying the foundation for a successful year's work. Much enthusiasm and interest was displayed when the president distributed witty sayings, questions and answers, which were numbered. It was the work of the recipients to match them, which created much merriment, after which each were read aloud. Mrs. Smart and Mrs. Thrapp served refreshments. The next meeting will be the fourth Tuesday in November.

Miss Lula Barber, of New York City, spent a few days this past week with her zirkhood friend, Mrs. C. C. Clark, of 523 N. Cottage street. Miss Barber is now visiting the exposition at San Francisco, and will later visit San Diego, spending the winter in Los Angeles and vicinity.

The Berean class of the First Baptist church held their regular monthly class meeting at the church last Wednesday evening. The time was spent in playing games and a delightful supper was prepared after the guests arrived.

The Loyal Woman's class of the First Christian church met at the home of Mrs. R. E. Wilson on South Commercial street Thursday afternoon. The living room and reception hall were very daintily decorated in autumn foliage, ferns and cut flowers, the dining room in masterpieces. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. May and considerable business was transacted, a scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Kirby, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Thomas. Mr. F. T. Porter gave a much appreciated talk, and read a humorous selection on a rainy day, which was in keeping with the prevailing weather. Mrs. Galsons selected reading, "Her Answer," was highly enjoyed by all. A bountiful lunch was served by the hostesses of the day, who were as follows: Mesdames R. E. Wilson, B. C. Kenedy, Jorey, J. L. Riggs, C. Nolan, Hansen, M. Baker, Misses M. Mortenson Aline Hunt, Oth-

The Cherry City Thimble club met at the home of Mrs. J. E. Prunk on North Church street last Thursday afternoon. The rooms were decorated with autumn leaves and pink roses. Assisting the hostess in serving were Mrs. W. F. Briezke. Those present were: Mrs. O. L. Donaldson, Mrs. A. Lundberg, Mrs. Elmer Duce, Mrs. Will Dandala, Mrs. L. W. Gleason, Mrs. Grant Flake, Mr. Frank Flake, Mrs. Homer Marsh, Mrs. W. McAlvin, Mrs. W. E. Briezke and Mrs. J. E. Prunk.

The Salem Festival Chorus will hold its second rehearsal next Thursday evening at the Presbyterian church at 7:30. At the first meeting it was decided to make Tuesday evening the regular rehearsal night. Officers were elected as follows: A. A. Schramm, president; F. A. Legg, vice-president; Lucile Kuntz, secretary; Grace Young, treasurer; R. B. Jones, manager. As a part of the concert program, Mr. Mendelssohn's beautiful Hymn of Praise, in connection with this some secular work will be given. Any new members will be welcome at the rehearsal next Tuesday evening.

The biggest social event of the year at Willamette university took place last evening at Eaton hall when the faculty reception to res. and Mrs. C. G. Doney was held. The reception began promptly at 8:00 p. m. and from then until the close there was a steady stream of friends and students who came to meet the new president of Willamette university and his wife.

WOMAN CONDUCTORS "GABBLE TOO MUCH"

Outside of Her Propensity to Talk Makes Better Conductor Than the Men

By Wilbur S. Forrest United Press Staff Correspondent London, Sept. 29. (By mail).—Women tram conductors have come to stay—at least in England.

In her fight for emancipation, the English woman has established her right and ability to hold the rear platform. Serious consideration is even being given to ceding her the front platform. Motor-women seems a question of but a few months.

Since the beginning of war, women have been employed as conductors in Germany, France, Italy and England. Nearly 2,000 now have permanent positions. Another 15,000 have applications on file. From these every vacancy is being filled in preference to men.

The crowning culmination came when the seal of official approval was placed upon her employment by the municipal tramway association of the United Kingdom, in annual conference. There was not a single protest against her employment and when the proposal of "motor-women" was made critics of "Why not?" rang from all parts of the room.

The assembly found that woman trolley car conductors brought certain problems and these were discussed. The delegates from Glasgow, where nearly 1,000 women are employed, stated that it was feared the skirts of the conductors would prove an impediment in winter in running up and down stairs on the double-deckers.

The Glasgow corporation proposes to remedy this by furnishing the women conductors with gaiters.

Glasgow has been so won to the woman conductor idea that a permanent school of instruction has been opened. A ticket inspector is the teacher.

Each pupil is put through the process of inquiring the destination, issuing and pinching tickets, and calling stations until she is letter perfect in her route.

One of the few complaints registered against the women was their lack of appreciation of the value of time. They find it difficult to realize that the matter of being a few moments late in signing on or in taking up a relay is serious. The companies are trying to overcome this difficulty through inspectors.

One of the most frequent causes for this delay it was reported was that "a woman conductor had something to say to another woman and would not go on duty until she finished it."

At the Glasgow school, while one woman is being put through her recitation the others listen. This acquaints them with all routes in the city.

It was agreed that women between 24 and 35 make the best conductors. Their influence has been all for the best. Even on the "roughest and toughest" routes they can control obstreperous passengers better than the men conductors.

So successful has been their work, that the congress decided to ask the county council of London to remove its ban against their employment. London is the one city in the British Isles that so far has held out against them.

Dot Carson, First Royal Woman Chauffeuse, drives Queen Mary and is thanked.

London, Sept. 24. (By mail).—England's first royal "chefeuse," or whatever you call a woman chauffeur, Dot Carson, member of the volunteer aid detachments the war called into being, has the honor not only of being the first woman chauffeur to drive Queen Mary but even to be complimented by the latter on the achievement.

Queen Mary decided to visit Barn House at Whitstable. There was not a single male chauffeur to meet Her Majesty at the station. Miss Carson took the assignment, acting not only as a chauffeur but also as footman. She is 18.

The guests were presented to the receiving line by Prof. J. T. Matthews, who introduced them in the line were: President and Mrs. G. Doney, Dr. and Mrs. A. Talbot, Dean and Mrs. Geo. Alden, Dean and Mrs. I. H. VanWinkle. The main corridor of Eaton hall was decorated with verdant fir boughs and trailing ivy festoons. The dining room was a charming bower of vari-colored clinging vines, with twinkling candles on the serving table. Mrs. E. J. Hendricks and Mrs. T. B. Kay had charge of the serving from 8:30 to 9:30, when they were relieved by Mrs. A. N. Moores and Mrs. P. Wallace, who had charge until 10:30. The senior girls served. Over 300 were served, and many did not remain for refreshments, so that in all probability there were over 400 present. The senior girls also served punch at the end of the corridor. All the while that the reception was held, the W. U. orchestra under the direction of Dean and Mrs. Chace, played entrancing music in their ivy concealed bower at the head of the landing on the first floor stairs. Mrs. W. M. Kirk and Mrs. Ebsen had charge of the dining room. Mrs. Alice Dodd, chairman of the reception committee, with the aid of the committee composed of Miss Todd, Miss M. Gill, deserve a great deal of credit for their efforts in making the reception a success. The following ladies assisted in entertaining: Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Mrs. A. A. Lee, Mrs. N. L. Pindley, Mrs. F. Von Eschen, Miss A. Todd, Miss M. Reynolds, Miss I. Davi, Mrs. J. O. Hall, Miss Jones, Mrs. R. Ford, Mrs. Chace. Members of the senior class met the guests at the door.

Water colors by English painters of note are being exhibited at the Frame Shop & Gallery on North Commercial street. These pictures are the brush work of G. H. A. Brown, Royal Academy exhibitor; Leyton Forbes, painter of exquisite old English cottages and gardens and by-ways, awarded the gold medal by the Walker Gallery, Liverpool; Tom Rowden, whose fine cattle roam on the rugged hills and moors of Scotland; J. Miss Marguerite Flower was warmly welcomed last evening, when she gave a concert of thirteen selections at Dayton, her former home town. Frequent applause called Miss Flower back repeatedly to give her old-time friends the privilege of hearing again that voice of rare sweetness, which has won so many admirers throughout Oregon. The concert was held at the First M. E. church, of Dayton.

The Girls' Glee club of the high school, of thirty-five voices, will sing at the Teachers' Institute Monday morning at nine-thirty, at the high school. In the afternoon at one-thirty, a mixed chorus of fifty voices will sing.

The Samedai club met last Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Henry Fawk on South Commercial street. The early part of the afternoon was passed with needle-work, after which an exceedingly interesting program was enjoyed, consisting of sketches from Jane Addams and Helen Gould Saepherd and a discussion on the culinary topic, "Hot Breakfast Bread." The daughters of the hostess, Miss Elene Fawk and Mrs. Knight, assisted in the serving. The hostess for the next meeting will be Mrs. E. E. Botsford on North Church street.

Baptist Convention In Salem Next Year Returning this morning from the Baptist state convention at Eugene, the Rev. Harry E. Marshall announces that Salem was selected as the next meeting place to be held in October, 1916. This will bring here about 600 delegates of the Baptist churches from all parts of the state.

The convention this year was in session from Monday of this week until last night and was attended from this city by the Rev. Harry E. Marshall, Mrs. F. H. Reasoner, Miss Mena Gille, Albert Conley, Joseph Cooley, Mrs. Leila Lynch, Mrs. John Engdahl, Miss Hanna Olson, Alouza Seamster, and Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Harlan.

The delegates all report an enthusiastic session, so much so that the Eugene convention adopted the five year program of the Northern Baptist convention, as follows:

1. A million additions to our church by baptism.
2. A missionary force of 5,000 men and women in America and the non-Christian world.
3. Two million dollars of endowment for the ministers and missionaries benefit board.
4. Six million dollars for additional educational endowment and equipment at home and abroad.
5. An annual income of six million dollars for missions and benevolence.

Observer Keeps Tab at Railroad Crossing An observer, who is located near the fair ground road where it crosses the Southern Pacific track, has come to the conclusion that the average man, whether driving a car or a team, or riding a bicycle is inviting trouble when he crosses the railroad track by not looking to see if there is an approaching train.

Yesterday this observer noted that not a single car, wagon, bicycle or pedestrian stopped before crossing the track. Of the hundreds of drivers of automobiles crossing, but 21 looked in both directions before driving on the track, although the drivers of teams were a little more careful and the average pedestrian glanced both ways. Quite a number of the automobile drivers took the trouble to look one way down the track as a mere matter of safety, and a few of the drivers of teams did the same. But when it comes to the record kept of those who neither stopped or were careful enough to look either way, the observer was of the opinion that a great majority of the drivers take it for granted a train is not approaching, or just trust to luck. During the day, 24 automobile drivers neither stopped or looked either way for approaching danger, 21 drivers of teams were just as careless, and even 10 riders of bicycles trusted to the goddess of luck by riding across the railroad track without even caring to "stop, look and listen."
