COURT HOUSE NEWS

A suit for divorce has been filed in the circuit court by Charles A. Gantz against Elizabeth Gantz. The couple were married in Montana in January, 1911, and have one child, Lloyd Gantz, aged one year. The plaintiff alleges that his wife refused to come to Oregon with him and that she returned to the home of her parents with the child. He asks a decree of absolute divorce on the grounds of desertion and also that the child remain in the custody of the mother. Carey F. Martin is attorney for the plaintiff.

County School Superintendent W. M. Smith and Supervisor Dr. A. L. Daulton went to Mt. Angel today to attend the poultry, fruit, corn and educational exhibit which is being held in Mt. Angel. The Mt. Angel fair association has aroused lively interest in their local fair this year and it shows a vast improvement over the first one which was held last year.

An inventory and appraisal has been filed in the probate court in the matter of the estate of Thomas Fuchs deceased. The appraiser of the estate sets forth two notes aggregating $4,700 as the personal property of the deceased. The appraisers were Frank Kroeneberg, Paul Kroeneberg and Celine Fuchs. P. S. Fuchs is executor.

A marriage license was issued today by the county clerk to Chester B. Frazer, a sheet metal worker of this city, and Alice Viola Fisher, a trained nurse also of Salem. Lewis Raymond Sawyer, a carpenter of Gervais, and Edith Beer, of Gervais, likewise secured a glory ticket from the county clerk.

In the case of E. J. Bulgina and W. K. Bulgina, his wife, against C. C. Polk and others Judge Bulgina overruled the demurrer and gave the defendant 10 days to answer. A demurrer was also overruled in the case of W. H. Morgan against John Rubie and William Wilkins.

Scandalous Report Without Foundation

It having been learned by Councilman Macy that a report was being circulated to the effect that he was implicated in the ticket scandal at the state fair, he addressed the following letter to Superintendent Jones, and the appended official reply was received:

Mr. W. A. Jones, Secretary State Fair Board, Salem, Ore.

Dear Sir: It has come to my ears repeatedly, that certain persons have stated that I was implicated in the ticket scandal at the state fair, and that the matter was hushed-up to shield and protect me.

Will you kindly advise me if my name has been connected with said scandal, or if the board has any evidence against me this year, or any prior year?

Yours truly, B. W. MACY, Salem, Ore., October 23, 1915.

Mr. B. W. Macy, Salem, Ore. Dear Sir: Yours of the 22nd received and in reply to your questions will say that there is no evidence in this office that you were connected in any way with the ticket-gate scandal, which was unearthed during the recent state fair this year or any former year; and furthermore that this matter has never been hushed up, as you suggest, by the state fair board to shield or protect you or any one else.

Trusting that this is answering your questions satisfactorily, I am, Yours very truly, W. A. JONES, Secretary-Manager.

State Library Secures Back Files of Oregonian

Dr. S. C. Stone, of this city, who has carefully preserved his files of the Oregonian for the last 20 years sold the entire file to the state library today which will be bound and placed in the reference department. The library commission has only been in charge of the state library for 10 years and have complete files from 1905. Dr. Stone's files extend back to 1895. Miss Cornelia Marvin, state librarian, says that the files of Dr. Stone have been carefully preserved and are in excellent condition with not a single number missing. The back numbers of the papers are in constant demand at the state library. Laid flat, they made a stack 2 feet high. The doctor says he has been reading the paper for the past 40 years, but at times in the early part of his career let the subscription drop.

The child of Fred Roper, who has been quite sick is reported to be improving.

M. L. Thompson and family and C. J. Pugh went to Portland Friday, returning Sunday.

RUSHING WORK ON ALASKA RAILROAD

Secretary Planning To Continue Work During Winter - Will Guard Leases

Washington, Oct. 23.—The practicability of continuing at least part of the work of construction on the government's Alaskan railroad all through the winter will be discussed by Chairman William C. Eiles of the Alaskan engineering commission, and Secretary of the Interior Lane when Eiles arrives here in a few days. He is now on his way from Alaska.

At that time, too, the form of coal land lease to be permitted on the government lands will be finally approved. Secretary Lane has been working on this for some time, in conjunction with his legal advisers. It is the intention to make the leases so iron bound that it will be impossible for large and valuable sections of this new part of the public domain to be exploited for the benefit of large interests in this country.

The progress of the work on the railroad is said at the department here to be extremely satisfactory. The government engineers have pushed ahead so rapidly that they are now doing work which it was originally estimated would not be reached until next February of March. The only difficulty in the path of an all winter work program is one of finances. The appropriations for the railroad are running low because of the speed with which the work has been pushed and the new appropriations will not become available until July 1. Secretary Lane is now considering a way around this difficulty.

The richness of the country being tapped by the railroad is being emphasized every day. Two gold fields have been discovered along the right of way. One is at the Tolovana river, about 65 miles north of Nouna, where a definite pay streak has been located for a distance of four miles. Another is in the Kautishan district, where several quartz claims have been taken up.

Grant Junior High Wallops Washington Junior High 35 to 0

Grant Junior High school trimmed the Washington Junior High on Willamette field this morning by a score of 35 to 0. The winners smashing the line of their opponents at will and scoring five touchdowns and one safety. The young eleven went at it hammer and tongs from the start off and played the game like veterans. Individual stars were hard to select as every man was on his toes and the boys went into the game with vim.

The routers in the grand stand displayed more "pep" to the square inch than any other crowd that ever inhabited the W. U. grand stand and between halves the supporters of the winning team serpented on the field. The juvenile jell leaders had trained their followers in some lively yells and the enthusiasm with which they pulled them off might prove a good example to some other crowds who watch games from the same stand.
