CARRY STOMACH JOY IN YOUR VEST POCKET

Daniel J. Fry Has Such Faith In This Dyspepsia Remedy That He Guarantees It.

One of the greatest successes in the sale of medicine has been achieved by Mi-o-na, the standard dyspepsia remedy, and its sale is increasing so rapidly that Daniel J. Fry, the popular druggist, has had to keep a stock on hand. It is very popular with bankers, ministers, lawyers and others where business or profession keeps them closely confined, while those who have brought on indigestion through irregular eating, worry, or other causes, have found relief in this reliable remedy.

Mi-o-na comes in tablet form and is sold in a metal box especially designed for convenience in carrying the medicine in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take, gives quick relief, and should help any case, no matter how long a standing. This remedy has been so uniformly successful that Daniel J. Fry will in future sell Mi-o-na under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it should not prove entirely satisfactory. No other dyspepsia medicine ever had a large enough percentage of cures so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If any one has dyspepsia, today is the best time to begin curing it.

Lining of Coat May Convict the Bandits

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 28.—An old coat from which a portion of the black lining had been cut together with a revolver and several shells, found in the grass near the spot where Cecil and Earl Jordan were arrested at their mother's ranch, are in the possession of the local police today, following a search of the Jordan apartment. The police say the lining of the coat is identical with the cloth masks worn by the Benton bank robbers, one of which was discarded in the bank. No trace of the $1,400 taken from Cashier Gilliam, was found.

Detectives and King county deputy sheriffs are co-operating with local authorities in obtaining evidence against the suspected pair.

Read the Death Notices

In any daily paper for two or three days, and note how few people live as long as you want to live, and how many die in the prime of life. Why should you go on and on, and allow waste food to ferment in your large intestine and pile up poisonous microbes and send them through your system?

Intestinal microbes cause short lives. They shorten the lives of four people out of five. They produce various poisons which bring premature decay to vital organs—then what?

Microbes in the large intestine cause inflammation of the kidneys, disturbances of the liver, of the organs of digestion and of the whole system, and living is not, and cannot be, the pleasure of other days. Premature old age may be prevented by the use of Intest-Fermin Tablets. They destroy microbes and arrest intestinal fermentation. Intest-Fermin Tablets contain lactic acid properties of double strength—and lactic acid has the endorsement of Prof. Metchnikoff. They are a druggist's treatment to drive microbes from your large intestine.

"I have suffered for five months. The Tablets are doing a good work." A well-known business man wrote this.

Miss Pickins, of Portland, has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sargent, this week.

Alex Harold made a business trip to Portland last Wednesday.

Mr. Elbert Powell and Miss Ella Powell, teacher of Brooks school, spent Sunday at Clear Lake. They were teachers of Clear Lake last year.

Mrs. Curtis Cole and her little son have been visiting their grandmother at Glen Harold. Her husband and her father, G. P. Harold, came down in their auto Sunday and returned the same day.

Mrs. Chas. Beckner has gone to spend a few weeks with her son, Everett Wheeling, who is spending the winter at Dr. George's home attending high school at Cloverdale. She will also visit friends at Tillamook before she returns.

Mr. J. C. McFarland made a business trip to Portland.

Mrs. Bob Cole has gone to visit Miss Curtis Cole, of Stayton, and other relatives and on her return will leave for California to take in the fair at San Francisco. She expects to be gone for some time.

Mrs. Becca Johnson, of Brooks, is spending a few weeks with the Beckner family.

Mr. Curt Chatfield, of South Prairie, made a business trip to Portland Tuesday.

Miss Anna Harold, who is teaching the Fairfield school, spent Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark McFarland, of Rosedale, and their little daughter, spent Sunday at his sister's, Mrs. Geo. Beckner's.

The Boys' club of Clear Lake Sunday school held their first meeting for some time with the Sunday school teacher, Mr. Brown. Refreshments were served by Mr. Brown.

Next Sunday Clear Lake will have a rally day. It will be an all day service.

***** PRETTY, WAVY, CURLING ***** HAIR WITHOUT HOT IRON *****

Let me tell you of a simple method which is a favorite of the belles of a certain exclusive social set. I'm sure you would like to know of it, because it will give your hair such a pretty curliness and lustre and permit you to do away with the ruinous waving iron forever.

Just get from any druggist a few ounces of ordinary liquid shimmerine, and at night apply a little with a clean tooth brush, drawing the hair down the full length of the hair. In the morning you will have a real surprise, the fascinating, fluffy, wavy effect will appear so natural, and there will be no greasy, grummy, streaky or other unpleasant trace of this harmless liquid. You will also find this a splendid dressing for hair—Mona Morrow in the Clubwoman.

Nobody to Blame For Submarine Sinking

Washington, Oct. 28.—Nobody to blame. This in brief tells the story of the report by the official board of inquiry into the F-4 submarine disaster at Honolulu.

The only thing wrong about the ill-fated submarine was that her lead battery lining was faulty, some rivets were loose, and that she dived the wrong way.

That was why 21 men lost their lives. Fifteen of them, the report said, died in the engine room where they sought refuge when the ocean flooded their craft; six others died at their posts in the forward compartment.

None of them was to blame, the report held. Nor did it place responsibility on any one.

OREGON HAS DRASTIC SUNDAY CLOSING LAW

Theaters May Run But Baseball Is Forbidden—Most Businesses Must Close

Portland, Ore., Oct. 28.—That there is a law in Oregon compelling the closing on Sunday of practically every place of business is the decision today of District Judge Dayton.

The judge upheld the validity of the law when he fined Dan Kelleher $23 for keeping his grocery store open on the Sabbath day.

Kelleher has declared he will appeal the case until it reaches the supreme court of the United States if the lower tribunal decide against him, on the ground that the law constitutes class legislation.

The law was passed in 1864 and lay dormant until resurrected several months ago, through the arrest and conviction of a Eugene tobaccoist.

His case was appealed to the supreme court which found against him.

Because of its antiquity, the law presents many incongruities, it has been pointed out. Livestock stables, butcher shops, bakeries and drug stores may remain open, but garages and groceries must close; regular theatres may operate, but every other form of amusement including baseball is barred.

Fifty Charred Bodies; Twelve More Will Die

protesting, they crowded the windows, while the flames and smoke came dangerously near.

Others jumped. Below, strong men tried to catch them with outstretched arms. By this time, blankets had been brought. Forming a ring, men held firmly to the edges of these improvised nets saving a score of children as their bodies lurched from the windows.

Many were injured in leaping. Blinded by the thought of flames licking up behind them, crying despairingly, they did not stop to see where rescuing hands were outstretched.

There were no fire escapes. The children were trapped.

Pile of Crushed Bodies.

Pushing, terrorized, through the smoke and flames many reached the main door only to find it jammed with bodies. It opened inward. There was no chance for the panic-stricken children. They were compelled either to jump from windows or perish.

It was a pitiful sight when the firemen finally forced the main entrance. There, piled up behind it, were charred and crushed bodies. Some of the children and suffocated. Others were crushed as their school mates trampled over them in the terror of death.

Many could not be recognized. Others, whom the flames had not seared or the heels of fleeing companions had not crushed, showed the agony of death on their features. They were twisted. They showed the horror of seeing death coming up in a cloud of fire, with life and safety just the other side of a door that swung the wrong way.

Roasted to Death.

There were many pathetic scenes. Mothers who a brief while before had sent their children off to school, frantically searched for them. For most of them there was happiness, but for some there was the despair of either actually knowing their little ones were dead or the probability that they were among the unrecognizable corpses.

The faces of some of the children were burned to a crisp. With arms extended, and cries to nurse or parents on their lips, they virtually roasted to death.

The structure was merely a brick shell, with an inflammable interior and no fire escapes. The fire roared like an oven when it got under way in the wooden interior.

The building, erected six years ago, was the largest school in the city.
