PEACE PROPOSALS IN BASEBALL LEAGUES

Federals and Nationals May Get Together—Football and Other Sports

By George R. Holmes.
(United Press staff correspondent.)
New York, Oct. 28.—Like a 90 mile gale today came denials of Chicago's latest baseball peace proposals. Everything from President Toner, of the National League, to the fourth assistant ground keeper of the Polo grounds freely consented to be quoted today to the effect that such talk was forty kinds of prevarications.

The feverishness of these denials, however, was suspicious. Seemingly there is an undercurrent of truth in the reports that the Federals and Nationals are about to get together, that the Giants will be sold to the Newark Federal owners, and that the Federal and organized baseball teams in Brooklyn, St. Louis, Pittsburg, Chicago, Buffalo and Kansas City will be united.

Only the personal enmity of Ban Johnson and Jim Gilmore has kept the peace waiting. The Federal league has proved unprofitable, while only three National and three American league teams made money last season.

The death of Robert Ward, angel of the Brooklyn Federals has affected the Federal situation, and has helped to ward the reported peace negotiations.

In addition to a big change in the lineup, Schaeffer announced today that he has called in four more coaches to help him.

Lockhart will be shifted from guard to tackle, and Saunders will take his place. Hicks will probably go in at halfback, while Dan Foster, who has been playing quarterback, will be tried at center, replacing Jack Smith, who will fill in at guard. Gibb will be replaced by Ginnelli for the rest of the practice games.

Hurry Braddeck will have charge of the end men for the remainder of the season; Benny Stroud will train the centers; Maier will train the guards, and Marx will take care of the tackles.

Idaho, stinging from several defeats, is determined to make the strongest possible showing against the collegians, who have already overwhelmingly defeated the two big Oregon teams.

Coch Mathews' first light team is rounding into form for the biggest battle of the year on the Willamette gridiron, when they meet U. of O. Saturday.

Mathews has been giving the team hard scrimmages and when they line up against Bezek's heavy veteran team Saturday the outcome will be a doubtful proposition.

Oregon this year has a heavy as well as heady team, that will average about 170 pounds. That Oregon's team is fast the Whitman-U. of O. game proved by the score of 21 to 0 for Oregon.

THE MARKETS

Although wheat continues on the decline in Portland, the Salem prices still hold good at the 85 cent quotation. Figuring from the cost of sacks, freight and delivery to Portland, the home market is really two cents more than Portland. Oats are steady. At the reduced price of wheat, very little is offered in the state.

Egg prices now seem to be based on just how bad the grocer or commission man wants them. From a Portland standpoint, eggs in the city are two cents above the market. Scarcity and general demand for onions is responsible for the advance to $1.50 a hundred. Retail prices on flour vary about 10 cents a sack in the retail market.

Japanese "Brides" Are Brown Slaves

San Francisco, Oct. 28.—United States secret service officials were declared today to be in possession of information today that many of the so-called picture brides from Japan are brown slaves, victims of a vast prostitution ring, which sends hundreds of them yearly into Japanese resorts in the United States.

This information was furnished the secret service of this country by M. L. Ryan, of San Francisco, who recently returned from Japan. Ryan, living many years in Japan and fluently speaking the language, says he overheard nine of 50 Japanese girl picture brides bemoaning their fate as "brown slaves" while returning to this country on the steamer Chio Maru.

"They were sitting in a circle on the deck holding hands and crying," said Ryan. "I asked them what was the matter and they said they had left home under promise of marriage and a home in America, but they had learned after they boarded the steamer that they were to be sold into lives of shame in the United States."

"They told me that overtures had already been made to them by men through the master of their gang on the boat, and that when they had grown indignant they had been told that their's was a life of shame henceforth."

"At Honolulu two batches of the picture brides were taken off the boat. The rest were shipped to San Francisco."

"I notified the secret service and they told me they were working on the problem and suspected a Japanese in Honolulu known as the leader of the ring."

Northwest Facing Serious Car Shortage

Tacoma, Wash., Oct. 27.—With every indication that there will be a serious car shortage in the northwest, the interstate commerce commission today notified local railroad freight departments to exert their best efforts to keep cars in service without unnecessary delays, and to urge upon shippers the necessity of prompt methods of loading and unloading.

Samuel Wilson, assistant general freight agent of the Milwaukee railroad, said today that if the grain crisis of the northwest were to start moving in volume there would be a shortage of cars immediately.

The commission urges shippers to cooperate to see to the prompt and full loading of cars and their prompt release.

WILLAMETTE NOTES

Rein Jackson, '19, took a trip to Portland Tuesday to visit friends. He came back last night.

The Men's Glee club met today for practice instead of yesterday, owing to Dean Chance being at Eugene.

The Willamette Institute of Scientific Research will meet this evening at 7:30 p. m. in science hall for their weekly meeting. Professor Nelson of the Salem high school, will talk to the assembly.

The Women's Willamette club met this morning and practiced songs for tomorrow evening in preparation of the big rally. The rally will be a strictly campus affair, but nevertheless will be one of the liveliest ever held by Willamette students. The academy and the freshmen are each going to stage good stunts, and a mystery surrounds the stunt which is to be given by the girls of Lousanne, just what its nature is can not be found out, but the girls have some stunts worked up that is to be a winner.

The fellows are going to be taught how to serpentine properly, the yell leader states that everyone of them must participate. A number of new yells have been added to the many old ones, and by Saturday the grandstand will be one grand pandemonium.

Tomorrow night at the bonfire speeches will be made by President Duney, Prof. J. O. Hall, Coach Mathews, Captain Flegel, "Prex" Jewett, Jack Bartlett and Manager Gilette.

The ladies of the Willamette faculty gave a reception this afternoon to the Assembled Women's Club Federation. That the ladies are ardent suffragists was shown by the manner in which they decorated the halls in honor of the visitors. They did the work themselves without the help of the mere men.

The Webstersian last night held the liveliest meeting that will perhaps ever be held again this year, when the 11 new members were administered their initiation. In speaking of the matter after it was over several of them stated that it was the warmest time they had enjoyed for many a day.

The Philo joint last night was a grand success, about 70 people being present. The halls were decorated in autumn colors, with jack-o'-lanterns hung about the halls for light. All in all it gave a very weird appearance and the fortunetellers and palmists with the addition of numerous ghost stories made the entertainment have the desired effect of a gruesome witches' celebration of her return from her cob-web sweeping trip. After the entertainment for the evening was over, the lights were turned on and a "feed" enjoyed.

Football practice for the remainder of the week will consist in perfecting the work of tackling, punting, passing and blocking interference. Coach Mathews' team show great development over the one that played recently at O. A. C. and when Oregon lines up Saturday for the big game she will face as game and scrappy a team as ever represented Willamette on the gridiron. The line-up for Saturday's game will perhaps be known by tomorrow.

Prof. M. E. Peck gave an interesting but short talk in chapel this morning. He stated that a revenged dead is never satisfied, it is a trait of human nature to wish to return the deed with interest. "One who forgives an evil committed against him without feeling an inner rebellion against the action is a weakling."

War Stocks Still Hunting the Bottom

New York, Oct. 28.—What the Lusitania tragedy, together with its reference to America's relations with the guilty government, accomplished with extravagant stock speculation in the spring, has been accomplished in the autumn merely by rumors of peace. The contrast may seem a bit grotesque. But the truth is that on each occasion a top-heavy market with reckless "plunging" by the outside public had created a condition in which the market merely awaited something which could undermine it.

A break of four to 20 points which these notorious gambling rotators had to sustain—made up four days of restitutions reckoning. Half a dozen war shares whose market values have been most wildly inflated declined 15 to 27 points each with an average loss of about 25.
