Annual Federation of Women's Clubs Closes With Report On Resolutions

The fifteenth annual meeting of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs came to an end yesterday afternoon with the final disposition of the various resolutions that were worked over by the resolutions committee. The regular time for the report of the resolutions committee was in the forenoon but this time was given over to the election of officers and the report of the resolutions committee was received later in the afternoon session.

The convention provided that the sum of $200 be taken from the anti-tuberculosis fund each month for a year and paid to the state anti-tuberculosis hospital in Salem. When this has been paid and the pledges for cases in hand are met there will be but little of the fund that was raised by the sale of Red Cross seals last winter. This fund has in reality been the bone of contention for some time. At an earlier session the clubs decided not to turn the money they had earned over to the national society for the prevention of tuberculosis, but to dispose of it themselves, of course, for the purpose for which it had been accumulated. While the questioners were still asking who would manage this amount and spend the money the plan was announced and the stipulated sums ordered paid to the state institution.

A resolution providing that only men who favored suffrage be elected was lost. Mrs. Frederick Eggert said of this: "We should not be willing to adopt the methods of English suffragettes and their imitators in this country."

Several suggestions advanced by Mrs. Evans in her report were favored. A fund for crippled children will be started; the federation will be incorporated; children with contagious diseases will be prohibited from going into public places and spreading disease, and the child labor law will be upheld.

Mrs. Minnie Schorn, of Eugene, favored making poverty exceptions, but Mrs. Trumbull contended that the child should not be sacrificed to provide for the family.

As an interlude, some merriment was caused by the resolution protesting against "the senseless and ever-changing fashions of women's dress" and suggested a uniform style of street attire.

The cigarette habit as a menace to the boys of the country got a rap in another resolution and the women will take up with the attorney-general the custom of giving coupons with packages of cigarettes.

A memorial to Mrs. Abigail Scott Duniway, late honorary president, will be considered.

Resolutions along peace lines didn't get far. One asking that a special session be called before a great war should be commenced was laid on the table.

Laws protecting the waterways and forests will be supported by the club-women.

Mrs. Sarah A. Evans, who closed her tenth year as president, was urged to accept the office of honorary president, but declined.

Auto drives to the various state institutions were arranged by the commercial club, and a reception was given in Eaton hall, with the Willamette university women as hostesses.

In the receiving party were: Miss Julia Todd, Mrs. Carl Gregg Doney, Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Mrs. Richardson Avison, Mrs. E. T. Barnes, Mrs. A. A. Lee, Mrs. M. C. Findley, Mrs. G. H. Alden, and assisting were Mrs. J. O. Hall, Mrs. F. W. Chase, Mrs. Absen, Mrs. William Kirk, Mrs. Florian von Eschen, Mrs. J. H. Lanterman and Mrs. A. N. Moore, presided at the table and a bevy of pretty college girls assisted.

INSTRUCTIONS TO TAX COLLECTORS SENT OUT BY TAX COMMISSION

Delinquent Tax Lists and Certificates of Delinquency Explained

The state tax commission, in response to numerous inquiries from sheriffs and tax collectors and tax payers, has issued full instructions to these parties in a circular letter treating of delinquent lists and the issuance of certificates of delinquency for unpaid taxes of the year 1914.

The letter follows:

Section 2063, Lord's Oregon Laws, as amended by Section 27 of Chapter 184, Laws of 1913, provides in part: "Any day after the expiration of one month after the taxes charged against real property are delinquent the sheriff shall have the right, and it shall be his duty, upon demand and payment of the taxes, penalty and interest, to make out and issue a certificate or certificates of delinquency against such property."

Section 3009, Lord's Oregon Laws, as amended by Section 30 of Chapter 184, Laws of 1913, provides in part: "After the expiration of four months from the date of delinquency, when any property remains on the tax rolls for which no certificate of delinquency has been issued, the sheriff shall prohibit any certificate of delinquency on said property to the county, and shall file said certificates when completed with the county clerk."

The intention to establish a period of three months during which applicants for certificates of delinquency may obtain the same, before they can be issued to the county, is evident.

Section 1 of Chapter 301, Laws of 1913, provides in part: "Four months after the date when taxes charged against real property are delinquent, the tax collector shall cause to be published once each week for four successive weeks in the newspaper or newspapers, selected by the county court to publish county court proceedings, a notice stating a description of the several parcels of real property upon which taxes are delinquent, the amount of taxes and the name of the owner, if shown upon the tax roll, and a statement that six months after such taxes are delinquent a tax certificate of delinquency will issue thereon, as provided by law."

Said Chapter 184 was filed with the secretary of state February 25, 1913. It is a part of the general code which, among other provisions, sets out the procedure for the issuance of certificates of delinquency and collection of delinquent taxes, but does not provide for publication of notice of delinquency. Said Chapter 301, which was filed with the secretary of state February 27, 1913, supplements the general tax code with the requirement that such notice shall be published for a definite period and, further, that the notice itself shall contain a statement to the effect that certificates of delinquency will not be issued until six months after the taxes became delinquent.

Following the well settled rule of construction that the later act shall be taken to correct set forth the legislative intent, we are of the opinion that Sections 27 and 30 of Chapter 184, Laws of 1913, have been implicitly repealed by Section 1 of Chapter 301, Laws of 1913, in so far as relates to the time when certificates of delinquency may be issued. Publication of notice being required by statute, certificates of delinquency cannot properly be issued in the absence of or prior to such publication.

In view of the foregoing statement, the following instructions are issued to the tax collectors of the several counties:

1. The final date of delinquency of unpaid taxes charged on the tax rolls of 1914 was October 1, 1915.
2. Four months after said date, or February 1, 1916, publication of the delinquent tax lists shall begin and continue once each week for four successive weeks, in the manner provided by law. (While it is true that certain taxes became delinquent on September 1, 1915, much confusion will be avoided, without injury to any taxpayer, by including all the delinquent taxes of the year in one publication.)
3. Certificates of delinquency for taxes charged on the 1914 rolls should not be issued to applicants until at least six months from the date of delinquency and, in any event, not until publication has been made as required by said Section 1 of Chapter 301, Laws of 1913.
4. Certificates of delinquency for 1914 taxes should not be issued to the county before nine months from the date of delinquency, thus retaining the period of three months for issuance to individual applicants, as intended by law.

I sold them."

"Have you any in hook?" asked the examiner.

"No," replied Considine, "I sold them outright. I never hooked any thing."

THEATRICAL MANAGER CONSIDINE IS BROKE

On Witness Stand Says He Let Money Just Dribble Through His Fingers

Seattle, Wash., Oct. 29.—John W. Considine, noted theatrical manager and reputed millionaire, by his sworn admission in superior court here today is broke—flat broke.

"Worse than that," declared the head of the Orpheum and other theatrical syndicates, "I am personally responsible for between $50,000 and $60,000, owed by Sullivan and Considine, incorporated, and my private debt is about $30,000."

"When I borrowed money, the other fellow always made me sign a note, but when I loaned I took the other fellow's word that he would pay it back. I never kept any account of how much I loaned but it went, here, there and everywhere in little digs and dabs, anywhere from $10 to $250 at a time."

Considine was being examined as to his ability to satisfy a $2,500 judgment obtained on an over due note.

He told Judge A. W. Frater that he had tried every means to raise money, but owing to the chaotic business conditions could not lay hands on a dollar.

"How about all your diamonds?" inquired Attorney George H. Rummus, examining him. "I suppose you also have parted with them?"

"Yes, months ago," replied Considine. "They brought me a drop in the bucket, and the money was spent long ago. They were of so little importance I don't even remember the date when

Half a Million For the Alaskan Coast

Washington, Oct. 29.—Nearly $500,000 will be spent on life saving stations and lighthouses for the Alaskan coast if plans of Light House Commissioner George Putnam are approved.

His estimates show that the government in connection with its railway building in Alaska, will spend more to save ships and lives there than on any other American coast.

Among the large expenditures listed are $250,000 for a light house tender; $115,000 for a light house for Cape Saint Elias; $60,000 for 25 or more small flashing lights along the coast.

The Southern California-Oregon clash will undoubtedly prove one of the biggest gridiron events ever staged in this end of the state. Dopesters figure the long trip will take some pep out of the Oregonians, but leave them enough to give the Trojans the fight of their lives. U. S. C. indulged in light practice today. Tomorrow the Trojan rest and go to the Whittier-Oregon game. On Monday Coach Glaze will start practice for the big affair, going strong on open plays and the forward pass.

Oregon will probably arrive here Thursday or Friday of next week, so the invaders will have a chance to get acclimated.
