Beautiful Irish and German Damasks

Are banked together in peaceful profusion in our Linen Department, despite the confusion their home countries are in. But the CONFUSION is making the manufacture of linens a decided uncertainty for the future. Some are claiming that in a year's time there will be no damask on the market that will retail for less than $1.75 a yard. Be that as it may, WE HAVE A LARGE STOCK and HAVE NOT RAISED OUR PRICES. And ACCORDING TO OUR CUSTOM, WHICH WAS ESTABLISHED LONG AGO, WE OFFER SOME WONDERFUL VALUES IN NOVEMBER.

We have some very fine Linen Damask that the edges of the bolts are soiled. There are no better Linens to be had in America than these at their regular prices, but owing to their soiled conditions we offer them at the following prices:

Rogue River Courier: Probably the richest copper ore ever shipped from Josephine county is that now being loaded from the Copper Queen mine at Leland, is shipping about two cars a week. In the present workings pure native copper is being found in considerable quantities. So-called kidneys of this grade of ore are struck in the main ledge and when the mineral is brought to the surface it is as bright and attractive as lumps of gold. Mr. Maloney, one of the owners and present manager, is erecting on the property new sheds and buildings and making other preparations for the rainy season. How long hauling can be done from the Queen depends upon the condition of the roads, but it is expected that much ore will still be hauled this season.

East Oregonian: Congressman N. J. Sinnott, of The Dalles, who was in the city this morning, says that over in Harney county the cars of jackrabbits are used as legal tender. He stopped at a general store there, while on a recent trip, and saw hundreds of these cars strung on a clothesline. He inquired of the reason and was told by the proprietor that jackrabbit cars are just as good as gold. The merchant accepts the cars, allowing a discount for goods purchased. The merchants then turn the cars in to the county court and receive the bounty. In Harney county this year Mr. Sinnott said the counties have been paid on over 600,000 jackrabbits.

Roseburg Review: The following persons were admitted to the Oregon Soldiers' home on Thursday: Edwin C. Huntington, formerly private in Company F, First Wisconsin heavy artillery, admitted from Portland; Seymour H. Beach, private in Company G, Third Wisconsin infantry, admitted from Portland; Isaac W. Brown, private in Company C, Third Minnesota infantry, admitted from Sweet Home, Oregon.

Newberg Graphic: On Tuesday at Dundee a dog hopped up onto one of the trucks of the electric passenger train due to arrive in Newberg at 1:15 p. m., and standing himself, rode all the way here, when he hopped off again to "go shopping." Such a thing as a dog beating his way on the trucks of a passenger train has never been known to occur except during the stress of a democratic administration.

Medford Mail Tribune: The fact that we are likely to have irrigation for Rogue river valley in a reasonably short time seems to have reached some of the far corners of the continent. H. A. Willard, now in an obscure region in Maine, but formerly a commercial traveler in the northwest, writes to an attaché of the Mail Tribune for definite information about it, intimating that this is the one thing necessary to induce him to return to this beautiful region and finally make a last stand in home building.

Benton County Courier: Although not many varieties of figs have been found to succeed well in Oregon, the experiment station officers report that one variety is valuable in Southern Oregon. Several varieties have already been tried by the branch station at Talent, and the most promising of the newer varieties are now being introduced.

East Oregonian: The farmers of Birch Creek, Stuart Creek and Butter Creek will soon be stocked with valley quail and China pheasants of Deputy Game Warden George Tonkin is able to secure the 10 crates of China pheasants and one crate of valley quail which has applied for from the state farm.

POLICE CATCH ROBBERS.

Portland, Or., Nov. 1.—Charged with binding, gagging and robbing J. S. Taber, a jitney driver, of 412, Ed Johnson, aged 22, and Andrew Thomasson, aged 23, are held by the police today. They are said to have confessed. An accomplice is being sought. The men, who were passengers in Taber's jitney, overpowered him with revolvers. After binding and robbing him, they threw Taber into a vacant lot where he laid two hours. The robbers used Taber's jitney to make their escape.

BODY NOT RECOVERED.

NEW CITIZENS TO BE GIVEN A LESSON IN TRUE PATRIOTISM

Twenty-Five Applicants To Be Examined Before Judge Galloway Tomorrow

When 25 aliens come before Judge Galloway tomorrow for their final examination as to their qualifications to citizenship the occasion will be made more impressive than usual and the new citizens will be given an example in patriotism. The county court and members of the city council will be present and a large silk American flag will be presented by Clarence Hammond, in behalf of the Sons of the American Revolution. Mrs. Carlton Smith will sing "America" and all of the newly made citizens join in the song.

Judge Galloway will receive the flag and deliver the response to Mr. Hammond's presentation speech. Rev. A. Moore will deliver a short talk to the new citizens and Rev. Richard E. Fischer will also make a short talk on patriotism. Mayor White will be on hand for a few remarks to the new Americans and the ordinary Naturalization Day scenes about Judge Galloway's court room will be of the nature of an incubator for patriotism.

Naturalization Examiner Hazard will conduct the examination of the applicants for citizenship of which 25 have been notified to be on hand at the court house at 10 o'clock.

The following is the list of those who are scheduled to take their examination:

Fred Lorentz, Shaw; Alfred George Mercer, Macleay; Friedrich W. O. Bartels, Silvertown; Albert Hausman, Gervais; Johann Heinrich, C. Bartels, Macleay; Matthew Henkes, Woodburn; Lieb Silberman, Salem; Severi, Monson; Strand, Silvertown; Louis Cromer, Salem; Harmon William Theodore, DeJens; Salem; Anton Ruser, Mt. Angel; Louis Hansen Mayer, Silvertown; Olav Johnson Sein, Silvertown; William Weirlich, Silvertown; Carl Henry Larson, Silvertown; John Erick Larson, Silvertown; John Larson, Silvertown; Adam Burns, Salem; Finley Edwin Peterson, Salem; Gustav Mund, Salem; John Henry Albers, Salem; Ludwick Mickelson, Salem.

DISCOVER NATURAL GAS.

For years evidences of oil and natural gas have been found in various parts of Polk county, but only one or two attempts have been made to develop the prospects, and these have failed for lack of financial support.

One of the best prospects of this kind in the county is on the farm of Cass Riggs, a pioneer of the county, near the Crowley school house, about five miles north of Rickreall. Some 25 years ago when he drilled a well on the farm Mr. Riggs noticed a slight showing of gas, but no particular attention was paid to it. Recently, however, a gasoline engine has been installed to pump the water and when this is done in large quantities the flow of gas becomes quite strong.

An itemizer representative visited the place Sunday and Mr. Riggs demonstrated the phenomenon to him. When a lighted match is applied to the nozzle of hose connected with the pump the gas burns in a flame several feet long. The weight of the water in the tubing of the well evidently keeps the gas in check. A peculiar feature of the gas is that it is entirely odorless.—Dallas Itemizer.

PIONEER PASSES BEYOND

Hathaway Yocum, a Polk county pioneer of 1856, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry Buell near Falls City, October 21, at the age of 84 years.

He was born in Sangamon county, Illinois, August 31, 1831. He came to Oregon by ox team in 1850 and settled on a donation claim near Bellevue. Some years later he became owner of the Henry McKern donation claim, just west of the present town of Ballston, where he resided until about 1893, when he moved to Portland.

On March 7, 1852, Mr. Yocum was married to Mary Tharp at the Tharp home, west of Willamina. To this union were born six children, four of whom still survive. They are: Mrs. Henry Buell, of Falls City; J. M. and E. T. Yocum, of Wasco, and W. A. Yocum, of Ballston. The deceased children were: Clementine Yocum, who died in 1882, and Mrs. Frances Delashmutz, who died in 1902.—Dallas Itemizer.

VISIT WITH OLD FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. R. Patterson, of Gervais, route two, spent Sunday and part of the first of the week visiting at the homes of Zack Davenport and Downs and many other old friends. A number of years ago Mr. Patterson owned a farm in the Silverton Hills, and about ever so often he feels a little homesick coming in and then goes out and makes the rounds.—Silverton Appeal.

Detroit Votes Today On Municipal Ownership

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 2.—Detroit's 20-year battle for municipal ownership of her street railway system reached its climax today in the vote on the railway commission's plan for buying the city lines. Acquisition by the municipality at a price to be fixed by six circuit judges was the feature of the plan. Public opinion seems to be divided on the advisability of taking over the car lines.

HAD A CLOSE CALL

Boston, Mass., Nov. 2.—Twenty men, 15 of whom were at first thought to have perished, had narrow escapes today in a fire in the dyeing and print works of the Cochrane Manufacturing company's plant at Malden, near here. The property loss was $25,000.

Mr. Trefz Talks To Commercial Club

One of the most impressive as well as interesting addresses ever delivered before the members of the commercial club was that of Edward F. Trefz, secretary of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, in his talk today noon at the luncheon given in his honor.

In showing the advantages to the business men of the country of an organized force controlled by business men, Mr. Trefz declared that until within three years ago, the nation had no representative business men at the capital, and that the success of the American merchant was in spite of adverse legislation instead of laws favoring business.

The great number of laws regulating business were more of a handicap than a help, as these laws, he stated, had been passed by legislators not familiar with business conditions, and with no organized protest from the business men of the country.

In order to present a united front in advising legislators on business, the United States Chamber of Commerce had been organized, and now has a membership of 300,000.

To meet conditions, the United States Chamber of Commerce is agitating for tariff commission. From Germany, Mr. Trefz drew the lesson of organization. The war could not last much longer on account of the loss of men in Germany, as already 2,000,000 had been killed and 5,000,000 maimed for life.

Realizing the importance of the address, a motion was carried that the board of directors join the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and that this motion will be brought before the members of the commercial club at an early meeting.

NOT AN EXTREMIST.

"Dis hyah new minister ought ter be popular. He sees ter hab lib'ral views on the chicking queschun."

"He do, eh?"

"Yes. He says he's knowed some purty good men what done lubbed dere neighbor's chickings as dere own."

FULLY OCCUPIED.

You must wake and call me early, call me early, Lizzie dear; For tomorrow'll be the busiest day of all this busy year.

Of all my busy days, Lizzie—and, goodness knows circumstances have kept me going at a pretty larruping lively lick most of my life—the busiest up to date, For I must bustle, Lizzie, to keep my grin on straight.

I've worked so blamed hard at it I know I'll never wake Unless you call me loudly when the day begins to break.

They are coming on the morrow—Niece Luella, who eloped last week with a chap who has never done anything more meritorious than to dance divinely—and a giddy, glad-some bunch; I must greet them with the placid smile of Grimalkin after lunch.

Luella writes real sweetly; to forgive she's now inclined All my opposition—I didn't know my mind!

She'll arrive here in the morning—and the fellow she married actually puts up his blond front hair in curl papers!—of tomorrow's fateful day.

And bring the bridegroom with her for a nice, long, joyous day.

So be sure to wake me early; wake me early, Lizzie dear. Break up my matin slumbers though you drag me by the ear.

For our kinkles and relations—including Cousin Ezra Differdatter who scoffs at my views on the Initiative and Referendum, and his wife who is interested in psychic matters, and their children, all of whom have elocutionary talent—have announced that they will come To help me greet the happy pair and bid them welcome home.

And the Glee Club's coming over, with the poet of our town, To entertain the prodigals and do the thing up brown.

Tomorrow I must wear a smile—in spite of all I have hereinbefore set forth, together with the fact that I have a note coming due and a touch of the rheumatism already here—the whole enduring day, And beam like a gosh-darned Peri, as lo like a Queen o' the May!
