Rear Admiral Phelps Joins the Majority

Oakland, Cal., Nov. 3.—Rear Admiral Thomas Stowell Phelps, U. S. N., retired, died at his home early today.

Although he had been in ill health a long time, pneumonia was the direct cause of his death.

Rear Admiral Phelps, who was 67 years old, was born in Portsmouth, Va. He graduated from the naval academy at Annapolis in 1869. He was promoted through the various grades of the service, and was made rear admiral in 1910 at which time he was commandant of the navy yard at Mare Island.

He was on board the battleship "Raleigh" during the battle of Manila bay in the Spanish-American war and the first captain in command of the cruiser California. He was retired from active service in 1910.

Rear Admiral Phelps married Miss Elwert Dewies Martin, of Los Angeles, in 1877. Although stationed at nearly every naval post in the United States he was well and favorably known not only in the navy circles but also about the bay. He was a member of the Athenian-Nile club, and the Bohemian club of San Francisco. He leaves a widow and a daughter, Mrs. William Glass Ford.

Funeral arrangements have not been made yet.

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

Turkey recalled her envoys to the allies and Serbia. The British bombarded the Dardanelles. Russians invaded Asia Minor. The situation in France and Belgium was not much changed. Russia reported the Austro-German army in general retreat. Germany partly confirmed this. Details of the British-Teuton naval battle off Chile were lacking. The fall of Tsing-Tau to the Japanese was expected.

THEY TAPPED THE GAS

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 3.—The students in the machine shop at the University of Washington borrowed an old steel tank from the chemistry department. They supposed the tank was empty. They bored a hole in its side—and were nearly bowled over by the gas fumes that rushed out. They fled in fear of Germans—or rather germs. A chemistry professor came to the rescue and hauled the tank from the building. It had been "loaded" with ammonia at a pressure of 1,000 pounds to the square inch.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

A suit to foreclose a mortgage has been filed in the circuit court of this county by Ernal Shoemaker and Oscar Shoemaker against Mary E. Smith. The property in question consists of about 360 acres of land in this county and lots 13 and 14, block Broadway addition to the city of Salem. The amount involved is $3875. The plaintiffs seek to recover judgment in this sum with interest less $171.04 with the addition of $250 attorney's fees. Rice and Greut are attorneys for the plaintiffs.

A marriage license was issued today to Hurlington W. Harvey, a broker of Chicago, and Mabel S. Olsen, of this city. Farrell Koehler Donnea, a laborer of Lebanon and Lula Amelia Buchanan, of Jefferson, also secured a marriage license.

An inventory and appraisal in the estate of William Butte, deceased, was filed today in the probate court. The inventory shows the estate to consist of real and personal property to the value of $8,695.99. August Kehrberger, H. Schlessner and Fred Hartman were appraisers of the estate. Magdalena Butte was administratrix.

At the session of the county court which began today a number of delegations from the rural districts were present to discuss the proposition of appropriating money for a county agriculturalist for the coming year. The county court is willing to provide a county agriculturalist in this county if the farmers want one but there has been considerable opposition to such a move and the meeting was called today in order to hear expressions from the farmers from the different districts of the county. Up to a late hour this evening the county court had taken no action in the matter but were hearing from the farmers. A number were given a free dinner by the Commercial club today.

In view of the fact that the flag presentation exercises took up a large part of the morning but few examinations of applicants for citizenship had been examined this afternoon. Johann Heinrich C. Bartels; of Macleay; Adam Burns, of Sale; John Henry Alberts, of Salem; and Harmon William Theodore De Vries, of Salem, were admitted to citizenship. The cases of Fred Lorentz, of Shaw, and Matthew Henkes, of Woodburn, were continued.

WILL NOT MAKE PEACE

London, Nov. 3.—Austria will not conclude a separate peace with Italy nor make territorial concessions to Italy, according to a Vienna dispatch today.

Blind Indian May See Child Victim

San Bernardino, Cal., Nov. 3.—That Perfecto Segundo, Indian, may see the daughter whom he desperately wounded with a hatchet recently, surgeons at the San Bernardino county hospital v operate on him this evening and attempt to restore his eyesight.

Segundo has been blind nearly all his life. Some time ago he quarreled with his wife and, it is alleged, tried to strike her with a hatchet. He missed her and the weapon struck the head of his baby daughter, Maria. She is near death.

Seized with remorse, ever since the affair Segundo has pleaded with doctors to restore his sight, if even for only a few minutes, so he could look at the child. At last surgeons resolved to try the experiment. Segundo occupies a room in the county hospital next to the ward in which his sorely wounded baby daughter lies.

Polk Boy Has Good Position

Harold S. Smith, whose father, Amodeo Smith, started the first clay working establishment in the north-west at Buena Vista, Polk county, in 1878, is now in charge of the Portland offices of the Denny Renton Clay & Coal company, through which all Oregon territory business is handled. Following in the footsteps of his father, young Smith until recently had charge of the "image" factory of the Western Clay Manufacturing company of Portland.—Dallas Observer.

YES—IT IS POSSIBLE TO STOP RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is a tormenting and stubborn malady. In some cases it yields to treatment which is without avail in other cases.

The darting pains, lame muscles or stiffened joints only disappear by gradually expelling the uric acid, and so many thousands have been relieved by the blood-enriching oil-food in Scott's Emulsion that you should give it a faithful trial. Scott's Emulsion acts as a powerful blood-purifier by increasing the red corpuscles and it strengthens the organs to carry off the acids which cause the trouble.

Try Scott's Emulsion. It cannot harm. It has helped thousands and may be exactly what you need. No Alcohol.

FLAG PRESENTED TO CIRCUIT COURT FOR NATURALIZATION DAY

Making of New Citizens Is Impressive Affair in Galloway's Court

The making of new citizens in Judge Galloway's court today was an impressive ceremony and the men who swore allegiance to the United States stood in the shadow of the fine silk flag presented by Winthrop Hammond in behalf of the Sons of the American Revolution. The ceremonies began with the song "America," led by Mrs. W. Carlton Smith in which the entire audience which jammed the court room joined. A large representation from the Sedgwick post of the G. A. R. was present and members of the county court and city council were on hand at the invitation of Judge Galloway.

Mr. Hammond said in part: "It is my privilege today, to appear before you, representing the society known as the Sons of the American Revolution, the purpose of which are to inspire patriotism and to perpetuate the memory of the men, who by their services and sacrifices achieved the independence of the American people.

"No nation on the face of this earth is so favored with natural resources, and no county offers such possibilities for success from honest effort as the United States.

"We are called 'the land of freedom' and justly so. Every man is free to work and save and enjoy the fruits of his honest labor, free from enforced military service and excessive taxation, so customary in the old world.

"Freedom, however, does not mean license, but just as long as any man, whether of native or of foreign birth, obeys the laws of the land he is free.

"President Wilson has said: 'Now we have come to a time of special stress and test. Some of the best stuff in America is in the men who are naturalized citizens of the United States. I would not be afraid upon the test of 'America first' to take a census of all foreign born citizens of the United States, for I know that the vast majority of them came here because they believed in America, and their belief has made them better citizens than some people who were born in America.'

"In order that every newly made citizen may be most fully impressed with the honor and privilege of calling the stars and stripes his flag, the Oregon society of the Sons of the American Revolution desires to present this flag to the honorable court, to be used especially at the time of naturalization.

"I now ask your Honor to receive it."

Judge Galloway Talks

In his speech of acceptance Judge Galloway said:

"We impress upon the importance of the sacred trust reposed in you to properly raise your children. Educate them in American schools, then will these children inspire you with love for country and teach you the principles of its constitution and laws, and you will bless the hour the mantle of American citizenship fell over your shoulders.

"Our churches and schools have ever been alert and active in inculcating loyalty and patriotism into the hearts and souls of the younger generation so also have the surviving members of the G. A. R. with their affiliated societies in teaching patriotism, good citizenship, and love of the flag, the preservation of which so many of their companions in arms shed their heart's blood.

"In conclusion, to you my friends who have taken the oath of allegiance, and to those who wish to do so, we want you to realize and feel that you are and aspire to be, citizens of the greatest nation on earth. You are not and cannot be, German, French, English or any other hyphenated American citizens. You are simply citizens possessing all the rights and privileges of any other citizen, whether native or foreign born.

What Flag Stands For

"This emblem stands for the best that is or can be, for noble impulses, for that which is good and true. To the individual in whose heart there is no reverence for justice, for law and order, for civic virtue, it has a perverted significance. Patriotism is a matter of every day life, of peace and war, of prosperity and adversity. It proves itself by an unflinching devotion to our flag's true meaning.

"Let us then looking into its folds and calling our best impulses to witness, learn the duties of good citizenship. Its rich red represents the blood of heroic sacrifice. Its spotless white stands for incorruptible justice, for social purity and political righteousness. And the stars fixed in their field of blue, make together a striking representation of the calm strength of harmonious unity."

A Patriotic Talk

Rev. A. Moore, of St. Joseph's parish, was called upon for a few remarks and words of advice to the new Americans. Father Moore is of Irish parentage, but was born in America and through his close association with the people of this country and the intimate knowledge of their affairs he was well qualified to discuss some of the problems that beset the adopted citizen. Father Moore advised his hearers to become citizens, not only of record, but in spirit, and to transfer their entire allegiance to the United States where they had decided to make their home, to educate their children to be Americans and to fulfill in every respect the duties imposed upon them by citizenship.

Rev. Richard Tischer, of the Unitarian church of this city, was also a speaker today. Rev. Tischer is of German descent and is thoroughly familiar with the German-Americans of today. He asked them to drop the hyphen and become Americans without any qualification as to foreign birth or residence.

Mayor Harley O. White welcomed the new citizens to full citizenship and recalled to them their duties as voters and their duties to their children who were now being educated as Americans.

STORIES OF TOWN AND COUNTRY

(J. B. Horner in Sunday's Journal)

Near McCoy, Oregon, in Polk county, is a large dilapidated two-story edifice. The building is historic, and for that reason is visited by many people from all parts of the state. It is what remains of Bethel college, one of the first schools of higher learning established in Oregon. Its sister schools were Willamette university, Pacific university, Philomath college, McMinnville college and Christian college, now known as the state normal school of Monmouth.

Bethel college was built in 1857 under the auspices of the Christian church, which was assisted financially by Amos Harvey, Glenn O. Burnett and other men of public spirit. Among the presidents and faculty of the institution as recalled by Senator C. L. Hawley were Dr. L. L. Rowland, afterwards superintendent of public instruction; Dr. Harrison, Dr. Hall and Dr. Hudson. The school offered a strong literary course and trained many of the brightest men and women of Oregon, among whom were ex-Governor George L. Wood, James Harvey, D. M. Holmes, Judge William Galloway, Judge Weymier and the late Dr. Richardson, of Salem.

The college at Bethel was popular. But in the course of time Christian college was organized at Monmouth by the same church. Inasmuch as both schools were dependent upon the same support, it was decided to combine them. Hence the working force of the college at Bethel was moved to Monmouth, where Christian college prospered many years under the supervision of President T. F. Campbell—father of President P. L. Campbell, of the University of Oregon.
