

SOCIETY

CAROL S. DIBBLE.

IN the realm of card parties, society has, so to speak, turned the tables this week, as bridge, both figuratively and literally, has been pushed to the wall in favor of the all popular "500" table, which has been cited so constantly at a number of delightful affairs. One of the most distinctive of these was the opening for the season of the "Merry-Go-Round" club, one of the oldest clubs in Salem, on Wednesday night, the hostess for the evening being Mrs. Thomas Kay. Masses of handsome, yellow chrysanthemums formed exceedingly effective decorations throughout the rooms. Seven tables of "500" were arranged for the players, card honors were made by Mrs. Max Buren and John McNary. Cards were followed by the serving hour. An additional feature of interest was contributed during the evening by the collection of $5.00, which was taken up for the benefit of a room to be furnished in the Y. W. C. A. building. The club members present were: Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Catlin, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Smith, Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. John McNary, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Boise, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sotherland, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Fleming, Mr. and Mrs. Max Buren, Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Robertson, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Thielson, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Thielson, Mr.

and Mrs. William Brown, Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Moores, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kay. Affairs of a social nature this week have happened before or after the Jitney Frolic, having been dated with all due regard for that absorbing and gay mid-week event, to a place of secondary importance. For the bazaar, sequenced as it was by a carnival of fun in the evening, was a decided success, representing the happy culmination of several weeks' endeavor upon the part of numerous society matrons. The attractive booths and their inviting wares drew large numbers of visitors to the bazaar in the afternoon, while the Jitney Frolic was a recognized triumph in the high art of clever entertainment. Among the numbers on the program, delighting the audience was a song act, "The Boy Who Stuttered and the Girl Who Lapsed," staged by Miss Margery Marvin and Carl Gabrielson. The ever popular Tom Ordeaman was enthusiastically received in a number of favorite airs, including "My Garden in Sweden." Dance numbers gracefully executed were several characteristic Indian dances by Mrs. O. B. Gingrich and a fancy dance by Miss Priscilla Fleming in Turkish costume. Much applause was accorded Albert Egan in his rags and dancing. Willard Hall gave several pleasing song numbers. Accompanying the entertainers on the piano was Mrs. W. H. Burghardt, Jr. Miss Mary Schultz gave several pleasing violin selections. The remaining articles were auctioned off and a gale of excitement. Mrs. R. M. Hofer was the recipient of the raffle of a crib blanket; the Spa box of candy fell to Harvey Wells, and Arthur Wilson won the Indian blanket. The combined proceeds of the afternoon and evening were most gratifying and as a result of the Jitney Frolic it is thought that two rooms can be furnished. The many donations, which were generously contributed played no small part in the success of the undertaking and the committee in charge are most appreciative of the assistance, thus given the donors.

The North Salem Women's Club will give a silver tea next Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Dubuis, 800 E street. The proceeds will go towards furnishing a room in the new Y. W. C. A. building. This active organization already has raised a sum of $20 for this cause, and expects to add materially to this fund on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. John Dubuis and Mr. E. E. Fisher constitute the invitation committee.

The following unique invitations have been sent out to the club members and their friends: "Please write me a jingle," my wife said to me, "To invite all the ladies to a nice silver tea. To be held at our home at 800 'E,' By the North Salem Women's Club. That's easy you see."

"But when, fair lady, will all this be here, At sun down or sun up, next week or next year?"

"Why, Wednesday the next, if the house isn't dirty, Afternoon of the 10th, from two to five-thirty?"

The proceeds, they say, are fully to pay For furnishing a room at the Y. W. C. A.

"Very well," said I in tones debonair And immediately pulled out the remains of my hair

In the frantic attempt to extract a jingle But only succeeded in making a jingle.

But this is the burden of this little song That we sincerely hope you will all along And enjoy yourselves fully with all due hilarity Assisting "interim" the good cause of charity.

Miss Priscilla Fleming, whose graceful dancing was a feature of the Jitney Frolic this week.

A group of pupils of Mrs. Anna Rogers Fish at the School of Expression, 320 North Liberty, gave an attractive program at her studio tea on Wednesday afternoon. Guests, numbering thirty-five, assembled in the studio at 4 p. m. and listened appreciatively to the following numbers:

He Pays License on a Dog.—(Adm.) Jane Jones.—(Ben King).
Lecelle Jeweb Strauss.—(Anon).
Charles Dillard.
Christmas in India.—(Kipling).
Home Thoughts From Abroad.—(Browning).
Mrs. A. T. Kasparek.
Mr. Dooley on the Grip.—(P. E. Dunne).
The Perplexed Witness.—(Anon).
Rex Howard.
Van Bibber and the Swans.—(R. H. Davis).
Beatrice Walton.
Judgment Day.—(Coke).
The Haunted Garden.—(Anon).
Grace Babcock.
Sleep.—(Mrs. Browning).
Maxine Elliott.
When the Folks is Gone.—(Riley).
Seething Remarks by Bub.—(Riley).
La Vonne Coppock.

Each number brought forth hearty applause and sincere commendations of the great improvement shown by those who had appeared in program previously.

Mrs. Fish, in a short talk to the guests, commented upon the fact that the tea is a school function, and some of the speakers appearing for the first time, the selections having been prepared as class room exercises.

The guests and their hosts and hostesses then spent an hour chatting over the tea cups. The tea table was presided over by Mrs. Kazmarek, assisted by Miss Elliott, with Messrs Charles Dillard, Rex Davis and Ted Howard as efficient aides.

Mrs. John Roberts entertained with a prettily appointed dinner Monday evening in honor of the Clifford Browns, who left Wednesday night for a several months' sojourn through California and eastern states. The board was very artistically centered with a large green and brown art basket filled with rich toned button chrysanthemums. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Clay and Mr. and Mrs. Roberts.

Mrs. Edward S. Tillinghast and Mrs. F. M. Brown were delightful hostesses for the Kensington Tea club on Tuesday, which met at the home of the latter. The rooms were in lovely rich tones besides the club were: Mrs. Lena Westcott, Mrs. L. A. Harris and Mrs. Homer Goulet.

Mr. and Mrs. George William Gray and small daughter, Prudence, have returned home from a delightful sojourn of several weeks in California. They were the guests of Mr. Gray's mother, Mrs. William Gray, at the Oregon building, going on to Los Angeles for a short stay before returning home.

Miss Gertrude and Miss Margaret Gray, who have been the guests of Mrs. John McNary for several months, are leaving Sunday for their home in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush had as their weekend guest Mr. Helmholtz, of Milwaukee. Mr. Helmholtz and Mr. Bush were former college friends at Amherst.

Mrs. R. B. Goodin entertained informally at her home on Court street Thursday evening in honor of Mr. Goodin's birthday.

Mrs. Melvin Plimpton returned from Portland Wednesday, having accompanied her mother, Mrs. H. G. Campbell, who had been her house guest during the week.

Miss Zola Hitchcock, a very charming and attractive bride-elect, of Portland, whose wedding to F. S. Gannett, of Salem, will be a social event of the near future, was the inspiration of a kitchen shower, given at the home of Mrs. O. M. Elliott on Saturday evening. Logely sinicna formed effective decorations in the living room, while the dining room was a profusion of beautiful pink dahlias. Assisting in serving were: Miss Evelyn Cash, Miss Mabel Robertson, Miss Ada Bayton, Miss Francis Alphon, Miss Hitchcock, and Miss Helen Moore, and Mrs. G. E. Schaefer, assisted in serving. The rooms were artistically decorated in pink dahlias and roses. Those enjoying Mrs. Moore's hospitality were: Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Goodin, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Schaefer, Dr. and Mrs. W. O. Asaels, Mr. and Mrs. John Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Ryan, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Irvine, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elgin, Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Gillingham, Mrs. Florence Irwin, Miss Edith Hazard and William Landon.

Honoring Miss Bertha Hawks, the house guest of Dr. M. E. Pomeroy, Mrs. Ralph White entertained enjoyably Thursday evening with three tables of "500." Honors were captured by Mr. and Mrs. Beviere. Pink roses intermingled with delicate ferns formed tasteful decorations throughout the rooms. Mrs. Horace Sykes assisted in serving. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bynon, Mr. and Mrs. Beviere, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Pomeroy, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Hunter, Miss Maevel Hunter, Miss Margaret White, Miss Francis Ward.

Mrs. A. P. Higgins has returned home after a delightful trip east, visiting with her daughter, Nettie, and son, George Damon, in Aurora, Nebraska, and other relatives in Kansas and Missouri, returning by way of Seattle where she was the guest of her daughter, Mrs. A. Lingenfelter.

The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church are displaying much interest in the bazaar, which will take place at the church on November 18th. Any variety of lovely Christmas gifts will be available, and the bazaar will be followed by one of the many palatable chicken pie suppers. The alliance was entertained Friday afternoon by Mrs. E. Hurst, at her home on South Commercial. Assisting the hostess were: Miss Carrie Hurst, Mrs. Lizzie Herrin.

Mrs. P. J. Hibber gave a Kensington at her home on Union street, Friday in honor of Mrs. Harry Lotes, formerly of Seattle, who has recently moved to the capital city. The rooms were tastefully arranged with potted ferns and baskets of autumn hued dahlias. Later the hostess was assisted in serving by Mrs. L. H. Compton and Mrs. Clarence Hartley. The guests were: Mrs. Robert Paulus, Mrs. Karl Neugebauer, Mrs. B. Hardenbrook, Mrs. E. R. Ringo, Mrs. A. M. Chapman, Mrs. M. R. Eoff, Mrs. L. H. Compton, Mrs. Earl McMechon, Mrs. Harry W. Lotes, Mrs. Clarence Hartley Mrs. Ronald Glover.

Mrs. L. W. Glendon opened her home Monday evening to the Cherry City Thimble club. Halloween decorations and games symbolic of the occasion made the evening a merry one. Assisting the hostess were: Mrs. McAlvin, Mrs. Marsh and Mrs. Grant Flako. Guests clad in various fancy costumes were: Mr. and Mrs. Grant Flako, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Dane, Mr. and Mrs. McAlvin, Mr. and Mrs. Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Donaldson, Mr. and Mrs. Jenks, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flako, Mr. and Mrs. William Daniel.

Complimentary to Mrs. Walter Pilchard, of Portland, Miss Winnie Wilson, entertained informally at a delightful "500" party Wednesday night at her home on North Front street. The guests circled three tables of cards. Following the card game, a dainty repast was served. Miss Gretta Richmond, assisting the hostess. Those who enjoyed this affair were: Mrs. Walter Pilchard, Miss Gretta Richmond, Miss Bess Richmond, Miss Estella Wilson, Arvil Wilson, Kenneth Brown, Jack Carrington.

The sale of tickets for the Musical Artists' course is proceeding in a manner gratifying to those concerned. It will soon be decided definitely now, whether Salem is to have, the course this winter, in fact it must be, and it is currently requested that those intending to make subscriptions do so promptly. It is not of course thinkable that Salem music lovers intend to let this opportunity pass, but this can be done, in effect, by neglecting to respond in time. It is an indication of the character of the artists proposed for Salem that, although many well known soloists have lowered their prices this year, Galski, Osap and Clara Gabrielowitsch, and De Gogorza, are eminent enough to have theirs maintained. Subscriptions should be made to Miss Minnetta Magers who has charge of the course, or at the announced music stores.

The St. Monica's Altar society of the Catholic church will hold a bazaar on Wednesday evening and the following Thursday and Friday, both afternoon and evening, November 10, 11, 12 at St. Joseph's Hall. A most entertaining program has been planned, comprising numbers by Dan Langenbier, Tom Ordeaman, Albert Egan and Fletcher McInturff. A chicken supper will be served on Wednesday and Thursday evenings, and a fish supper on Friday.

Mrs. Lewis Stout and his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Byars Stout, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Mehama, Oregon, October 26, 1915. Their original wedding occurred at the home of the bride's parents near Oakland, Douglas county, Oregon, October 26, 1856. This couple are pioneers of Oregon. Mr. Stout crossed the plains to Oregon with an ox team in 1852 and the wife in the year following. They have been continuous residents of the state ever since, excepting a short time spent at Shoalwater Bay, Washington. There were present on the occasion of this festive eighty-five relatives and friends, consisting of all the children of the couple, Mrs. W. P. Mulkey, husband and family, of Mehama, Oregon; Mrs. Benj. Irving, husband and family, of Albany, Oregon; Mrs. C. A. Mulkey, husband and family, of Mehama, Oregon; Mrs. Fred Horner, husband and family, of Mill City, Oregon; Mrs. Joseph Stephens and family, of Newberg, Oregon; Ray L. Stout, wife and family, of Portland, Oregon; Luther Stout, wife and family, of Mehama, Oregon; and Mrs. Annie Stout, of Seaside, Oregon. There were also present one of Mrs. Stout's sisters, Mrs. Mary Hamilton, of Possil, Oregon, and three of her brothers, Mr. W. H. Byars, of Salem, Oregon; Mr. Austin Mires, of Ellensburg, Washington; Mr. Benton Mires, of Drain, Oregon, as well as many other relatives and friends from other parts of the state. Of those present, twenty-four were grand children, one being a great.

There has been but one death in this family in all these years, that the eldest child, a son, many years ago. The Mehama Presbyterian church was elaborately decorated with autumn leaves, ferns and flowers, the tables upon in the class room of the church were heavily laden with all kinds of edibles and lavishly decorated with fruits and flowers. Plates were laid for every guest present by which were also laid a personal hand painted place card and a button hole bouquet. At "high twelve" the bride and groom led the march from the residence to the church and all secured their respective places about the tables. Four of the younger grand children opened the ceremonies with a song of welcome. The feast was culminated by songs and reminiscence speeches. After the dinner was completed several pictures were taken of the entire group assembled, also several family groups. Mr. and Mrs. Stout received many nice and appropriate presents, chief of which was the golden token of affection presented by the children and the grandchildren. The noon hour program was presided over by Mr. Ray L. Stout, the eldest son, as toastmaster and was as follows: Song of welcome. Prayer by Mr. Benj. Irving. Song, Mr. Winklow. Family reminiscences by Mr. Austin Mires. Song. Early pioneer days by Mr. W. H. Byars. Song, 1st, "Oh, Promise Me," 2nd, "Silver Threads Among the Gold," Mrs. Ronald C. Glover. Memories of the first wedding day, by Mr. Benton Mires. The first son-in-law by Mr. Benj.

MARGARET MASON PRATTLES OF DRESS

And Loudly Praises the Garment That Leads a Double Life

By Margaret Mason.
(Written for the United Press.)

Oh, where are the terrors of suburbia? Commuting, oh where is thy sting. Since wife wears two in one garments The joys of the country we sing.

New York, Nov. 5.—(Herald for the garment that leads a double life.

It may sound as if it were suitable for only the two faced woman, but indeed all and every woman hails it with delight, the Queen of the Commuters in particular.

You see it's a costume fashioned with a long, loose coat over a short, full skirt, giving thereby the simple appearance of a very smart and modish suit.

But not deceived! When milady unbuttons said coat the double dealing is at once revealed. She stands forth resplendent in a stunning, semi-decollete afternoon or restaurant gown of delicate pastel tint. A deep tacing of the same dark toned material as the coat around the bottom of the skirt is the link between two complete costumes in one, the key to the sartorial situation.

It is deep enough to reach up to the coat when that is donned and offset the perfect picture of a suit and yet, with the coat removed, the dark, deep skirtband lends richness to the dinner frock exposed, the bodice of which has touches of the same dark toned material to balance up the second of the two in one costumes.

A perfect toilette indeed for the commuter's bride. She can come in early and do her shopping in a fitting and fitted suit and even when fond husband asks her to stay in town to dinner and go to the theatre afterwards, she may accept with perfect equanimity and a perfect frock.

Hubby's always bound to ask her, too, when he sees what a ravishing toilette she has up her coat sleeve. Oh, no commuter's home should be without one of these two fold blessed frocks.

Another bit of double dealing that Dame Fashion is up to this season is an evening gown that becomes its own wrap. It also becomes its own wearer very much.
