HARVARD IS VICTOR OVER PRINCETON

By George R. Holmes.
(United Press staff correspondent.)
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 6.—Tibbott's educated toe was unequal to the task of beating Harvard this afternoon and the Crimson down the Princeton Tiger in their annual gridiron contest by a score of 10 to 6.

The Game in Detail.
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 6.—Under the most ideal weather conditions imaginable, and before a crowd of 40,000, Princeton and Harvard clashed on the gridiron this afternoon.

Harvard won the toss and chose to defend the north goal. Mahan returned the kick off five yards and then punted to Tibbott in the center of the field. Mahan outpunched Driggs. He missed a goal by inches from the 50 yard line. The ball was put into play on Princeton's 25 yard line. Harvard received the punt in midfield. She failed on a line drive and a forward pass. Mahan punted over the goal line. It was the Tigers' ball on their 25 yard line. Cornell was forced to punt to Mahan on Harvard's 35 yard line. A forward pass, Mahan to Harter, made 30 yards. Mahan gained 10 around the end, and then King went through tackle for 30 yards and a touchdown. Mahan kicked goal. It was Princeton's ball on her 25 yard line when the period ended. Harvard, 7; Princeton, 0. Second period: She fumbled and there was an exchange of punts. Harvard recovered the ball on the kickoff.

Harvard was penalized 15 yards for being offside. Mahan gained 20 yards. Within five yards of a touchdown, Mahan twice failed to pierce Princeton's line. King then tried and plunged into the line. For 10 thrilling seconds the players massed between the posts straining at each other. After a consultation of officials, it was decided the ball was not over and Harvard lost the oval on downs. Driggs, standing behind Princeton's goal, punted to Princeton's 40 yard line, where Mahan kicked squarely between the posts from placement.

Mahan kicked behind Princeton's goal. From Princeton's 25 yard line Driggs returned the ball 10 yards. After end runs had advanced the ball, Driggs punted to Harvard's 37 yard line. Harvard fumbled. It was Princeton's ball on the Crimson 40 yard line. Driggs elected left end for 15 yards. Driggs, Shea and Tibbott carried the ball to Harvard's yard line where Harvard braced. Tibbott then made a pretty field goal from the 25 yards line. The half ended with the ball in the center of the field. End second period. Harvard, 10; Princeton, 3.

Third period: Tibbott returned Mahan's kickoff to the 30 yard line. Driggs added 10 around end. Harvard was offside and the ball was put into play in the center of the field. Princeton then showed their best offensive.

Tibbott gained 15 yards on a forward pass. Glick followed with 10 around end. Tibbott reached Harvard's 20 yard line. Shea added five around the end. Princeton was yelling for a touchdown. Tibbott lost three yards and then a forward pass failed. Stand ing on the 16 yard line, Tibbott kicked a field goal. Driggs carried Mahan's kickoff to the 22 yard line. Harvard held. Princeton was twice penalized for being offside. Mahan missed an attempted field goal from the 35 yard line. The period ended with the ball on Princeton's 20 yard line. End third period: Harvard, 10; Princeton, 6.

Fourth period: This period was featured by another Tiger offensive from her 20 yard line.

A punting duel followed. Mahan, by a brilliant run, circled the Tiger left end from his 25 yard line. Captain Glick of Princeton, was injured in tackling Mahan. Doctors swarmed upon the field, but Glick was able to resume play.

Shea gained 20 yards on a forward pass. King ploughed through the line for eight more. Mahan, in a spectacular twisting run, put the ball on Princeton's 30 yard line where Princeton held. The game ended with the ball in Princeton's possession on her 35 yard line. Final score: Harvard, 10; Princeton, 6.

MR. HAMILTON TELLS OF CLUB'S POSITION
Explains Request That County Grant More Money—It Is Up to the Farmers Now

According to a statement made by President V. M. Hamilton, of the Salem Commercial club, today, an erroneous impression prevailed at the meeting of the county court on Wednesday as to the club's attitude relative to the maintenance of the county agriculturalist.

As a result, it appeared to some, including the reporter for the Capital Journal, that the club was endeavoring to secure a raise in salary for the county agriculturalist, and was so reported in the Capital Journal of Thursday, the 4th.

Mr. Hamilton states that the cause of this erroneous understanding was no doubt due to his failure to make the matter clear to the county court as to why the club had previously asked the court to appropriate $600 towards the maintenance of the agriculturalist, during 1916, and then asked for $1,200 later.

It seems that at the time the club asked for the appropriation of $600, that they contemplated being able to raise an additional $600 through other channels, in order to make $1,200, which together with the money which could be obtained from the state would be sufficient to carry on the work.

At the time they asked for the appropriation of $600 for 1916, they also asked for an appropriation of $500 to carry on the work for the balance of 1915, but were advised by the court that it was absolutely impossible to make any appropriation for the balance of 1915, as it had not been included in the 1915 budget. The meeting adjourned with the understanding that the county court would take under consideration the matter of the appropriation for 1916.

The club committee subsequently figured that if the county court would appropriate the entire $1,200 for 1916 that the club might be able to raise sufficient funds to carry on the work for the balance of 1916 without assistance from the court, and therefore decided to ask the court for $1,200 for 1916.

When this was done last Wednesday, the reason for the request of $1,200, instead of $600, was not explained to the court, through an oversight, and hence the misunderstanding.

It therefore seems that the club had no intention of asking and did not ask, for an increase in salary for the county agriculturalist, but that the last request for $1,200 instead of $600 as previously petitioned for, was due to the reason above mentioned.

Mr. Hamilton says that the club's reason for believing that the work of the agriculturalist is desirable, and worth the cost, is because many of the farmers who have had the assistance of the agriculturalist, have spoken very highly of the work done by the latter, and of the help which they have received from him. In response to a recent request sent out by the club to the farmers for an expression of opinion from them as to the desirability of retaining the agriculturalist, the big majority of the replies received have been in favor of having the work continued.

Mr. Hamilton states that the majority of these replies came from the districts in which the agriculturalist has done the most work, and may be the reason why the majority of the replies received were in favor of the work, whereas the majority of the expressions from the farmers made at the county court last Wednesday, who were opposed to the work, may also be due to the reason that the agriculturalist had done but little work in the vicinity in which these latter farmers reside.

He further said that he wished it made plain that the club's effort to have the work continued was based on a sincere and genuine belief that the work had proved, and would prove, beneficial to the community, and that this belief was strengthened by the fact that 10 other agriculturalists are maintained in Oregon, and that there are about 600 of them in the United States, and that it seems reasonable to suppose that the work must be considered desirable in those communities, otherwise the work would not be continued.

He also says that very few business men believe that they know everything to be known about their own business and are always on the lookout for suggestions and ideas from any source, so to how they may improve their business, and are always interested to learn from traveling salesmen of the methods being pursued by other merchants in the same line of business, and that the county agriculturalist occupied a similar position to a salesman, in this matter of accumulating knowledge of methods pursued by various farmers, and disseminating this knowledge to others in the course of his travels. He also pointed out that business men frequently call into consultation men who have had special training, such as certified accountants, advertising experts, engineers, etc., to assist them in their business, and therefore that it seemed that the farmers might profitably do likewise.

Mr. Hamilton expressed the sentiment that he personally felt that the club had fulfilled its duty to the community in this matter, and that it was now up to the farmers who were in favor of the work to convince other farmers and the county court, that the work should be continued.

WILLAMETTE NOTES

The juniors of Willamette will hold a party at the Dew Drop Inn on North 13th this evening, where a number of the junior girls reside.

The Philodemon literary society initiated their new members into the society, about fifteen girls being admitted. The initiation was one the girls will long remember as the process took about three hours, and consisted of all the variations in stunts from descending the steps blindfolded to riding the "goat."

Joseph Gerhart, one of the happy number who has lived in Bachelors Heaven for the past three months, has decided to leave the "Retreat" and venture into new quarters he will reside on South 14th hereafter. He states that his ambition is to become a student and that he could not do in the former abode as he found that social duties occupied too much of his time. The best wishes of his many bachelor friends go with him.

Yell King Walker's yell contest closed yesterday. He had offered as a first prize a handsome large W. U. sofa pillow to the writer of the best W. U. yell. A large number of yells were submitted and this will greatly benefit the yell leader as the old stock of yells were becoming threadbare and worn out. The winner has not yet been decided upon.

Willamette university will journey to Pacific university at Forest Grove next Saturday when the two schools play their annual big game of football. An excursion train has been chartered and 125 have already signified their intention of going. The trip will be one worth while and the students realize this, also that the team needs their support on the field. Pacific has a fast team and should they win from Willamette, would claim the non-conference championship. This, however, Willamette will not allow and to show Pacific they are in earnest they are going down in a body. A picnic dinner will be arranged and everyone will take their dinner along. A number of stunts are being worked up to be "pulled off" between halves at the game. The special train will leave Salem at 8:00 a. m. and leave Forest Grove at 6:15 p. m. so that they may get home in due season.

Dr. Doney's address, as the first of the faculty lectures, on "War and Religion," should be heard by a large crowd at Willamette chapel next Monday evening at 8:00 p. m. It is free to everyone.

Mr. Walter Winslow will address the college men at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow afternoon in Websterian halls at 2 p. m.

Men in every walk of life, enjoy wearing Florsheim Shoes. There may be as good shoes made—there certainly are no better ones.

No department in our store is more attractive from a business standpoint, than our shoe department. In a stock of over one thousand pairs, not a pair is to be found other than right up to the minute in style and in desirability.

If you are not already a Florsheim enthusiast, you do not know what real foot-comfort is.

Advocates Marriage of Women Teachers

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 6.—Marriage broadens the horizon and develops the communistic instinct. With the wider viewpoint a teacher gains through marriage she is able to work more efficiently.

Although married only a short time, herself, there are some of the things Mrs. Margaret McNaught, nee Margaret Schullenger, commissioner of the elementary schools in California told teachers attending the institute here. She intimated she would like to see the teachers she was addressing get married as soon as it could be conveniently arranged.
