FARMERS OBJECT TO EMPLOYING COUNTY FARM EXPERT IN 1916

Petitions Filed With County Court Asking Abolition of Office

The rural communities of Marion county through the granges and other organizations are discussing the county agriculturist problem and in several cases have circulated petitions to be presented to the county court. A resolution adopted by the Retail Merchants association of Woodburn, and signed by vice-president and the secretary of the association asks that the county agriculturist be retained to teach the farmers how to farm. The farmers, however, are almost universally opposed to spending money for a county agriculturist according to the adverse petitions presented to the county court and now on file.
About 120 names have been signed to petitions which have been presented to the county court asking that the county agriculturist be abolished. The Pomona grange at Aumsville passed a resolution recently asking that the $50 a month donation by the county court to the Salem Commercial club be discontinued, stating that the grangers did not think that the county court had any right to appropriate money to the Salem club or any other club in the county.
County Judge Bushey said today that no definite action would be taken by the county court in the matter of appropriating money for the county agriculturist next year until the budget was made up and in the meantime the county court was seeking more information on the subject.
The county court last year, as in former years, appropriated $1,200 for a county fruit inspector and was persuaded by the commercial club to certify to the secretary of state that they were appropriating this money for a fruit inspector and a county agriculturist. In this way the state appropriated an equal amount, $1,200, which was used for a county agriculturist's salary. Judge Bushey then received a donation of $300 from the Commercial club last year and added this to the county agriculturist appropriation which drew $300 more from the state, making in all $1,800 for the county agriculturist. Judge Bushey has begun to hear rumors that the federal government is appropriating $1,800 for the use of an agriculturist in this county which would make in all $3,000 a year.
The county court considered that since the Commercial club said the farmers wanted a county agriculturist because swollen glands or inflamed membranes often affect other tissues and lung trouble easily follows.

As Nature's corrector of throat troubles the pure cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion is speedily converted into germ-resisting tissue; its tested glycerine is curative and healing, while this wholesome emulsion relieves the trouble and upbuilds the forces to resist tubercular germs and avert the weakening influence which usually follows.
If any member of your family has a tender throat, get a bottle of Scott's Emulsion to-day. Physicians prescribe it to avert throat troubles, overcome bronchial disorders and strengthen the lungs. No alcohol or harmful drugs. Always insist on Scott's.

so badly and since it cost the county nothing directly, that it would be a good thing to keep him. This year, however, the farmers have been objecting, and it is up to the county court to decide in the matter.
The tone of the petitions now on file at the county court indicate that the tax payers consider that they are paying taxes on the maintenance of an agricultural experiment station at Corvallis which furnishes free information on all farm subjects. This they evidently consider is sufficient for their uses as the petitions indicate.
The petition from Turner follows:
To the county court of Marion county: Whereas, The tax payers of the state of Oregon are maintaining an agricultural experiment station at Corvallis where information in all subjects pertaining to agriculture can at any time be obtained free of charge; we the undersigned tax payers of Marion county are opposed to establishing and maintaining the office of county agriculturist. The petition was signed by F. Mickenham and 32 others.
A petition signed by G. E. Given and 30 others asked the county court not to appropriate any money for a county agriculturist expert for the year 1916. A similar petition was presented by J. H. Witham and 17 others.
"We the undersigned tax payers of the state of Oregon are maintaining an agricultural experiment station at Corvallis where information on all subjects concerning agriculture can be obtained free of charge, therefore we are opposed to establishing and maintaining the office of county agriculturist in Marion county," say Charles Emers and 40 others.

TOADSTOOLS KILLED THEM
Tacoma, Wash., Nov. 8.—Mr. and Mrs. Y. Fukagawa are dead here today as a result of eating toadstools for mushrooms. The four year old child of the Fukagawas sipped some of the poisonous soup, and was made seriously ill. The couple were removed to a hospital last Thursday and their condition appeared to improve until yesterday, when both had relapses and died soon afterward.

CAMPAIGN BEGINS FOR NATION DRY

Movement of Great Strength Begins With Prominent Speakers On Platform

Portland, Ore., Nov. 8.—The greatest state-wide campaign for a dry national issue that has ever been made in the northwest starts in Oregon today, Monday, November 8.
Forty great central meetings, with speakers of national reputation, will be held in 40 sections of the state during the next 10 days, winding up with the state convention here in Portland, November 16 and 17.
Captain Hobson, hero of the Merrimac, congressman from Alabama, father of the Hobson-Sheppard dry national constitutional amendment which received such a clear majority of eight on Dec. 2 last in the house of representatives, and one of the best known platform orators in America, heads the list of national celebrities who are to be the attractions at the 40 meetings.
Others are: Hon. George Wellington Young of Kentucky, the "Abraham Lincoln of the south"; Governor Moses Alexander of Idaho, the only Jew ever elected a governor, and who speaks on "What Prohibition Does to Business"; (as the proprietor of a string of department stores in Oregon, Idaho and formerly in Missouri, he is well qualified to tell the business side of the question); Governor Ernest Lister of Washington, who speaks on "The Common Police Problem of the Northwest"; Rev. Daniel A. Poling, acting head of the World's Christian Endeavor; and Rev. Louis Albert Banks, D. D., the well known author, preacher and lecturer, of New York City. The latter two are Oregon natives. Daniel A. Poling is the son of Rev. C. C. Poling of this city, and Louis Albert Banks was raised at Bellfountain in Benton county, where his people still live.
This is the greatest array of actual leaders in the business, political and religious world ever gathered into one campaign anywhere west of the Mississippi river; and the program for the state convention, including as it does the governor of this state, the attorney general, a justice of the supreme court, the mayor of this metropolitan city, the district attorney of Multnomah county, and the first Oregon woman to be elected to the legislature, has never been equaled anywhere (with two exceptions) in American.
The schedule of meetings is as follows:
Monday, November 8, G. W. Young, St. Helens; L. A. Banks, McMinnville.
Tuesday, November 9, G. W. Young, The Dalles; L. A. Banks, Cottage Grove.
Wednesday, November 10, G. W.
