SALEM TO BE CLOSED ON SUNDAY IF LAW OF 1864 IS UPHELD

Pool and Billiard Parlors Will Be First To Go Under the "Lid"

Salem will be closed up on Sunday as tightly as any city in the state and the lid cemented on with legal "sticks" if the Sunday closing law is upheld in the supreme court in the recent case filed by the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, according to the opinion expressed by officials in this city today.

"The suit was brought by the pool and billiard people," said District Attorney Ringo today, "and if the company loses its suit I will close all pool and billiard parlors in this city on Sunday."

District Attorney Ringo also said that he had been considering taking steps to close pool and billiard parlors and kindred places on Sunday in Salem but when the matter was brought into the courts by the district attorney of Lane county he has decided to wait until the case was thrashed out in the courts. The pool and billiard interests, however, he considers are seeking a test of the law in this state and in case the law is upheld he is of the opinion that it should react against the parties that brought the suit.

About 25 counties in this state are made defendants in the suit brought by the Chicago company but it is likely that the matter will be handled by the attorney general or District Attorney Evans of Portland where the suits were first brought.

The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Company, a corporation of Chicago, recently filed a suit asking for a permanent injunction restraining the officers of the state, counties and cities from enforcing the provisions of the Sunday "Blue Law" passed in 1864 which provides that Sunday amusements shall consist of orthodox entertainments. The law of that year provided that all establishments should be closed on Sunday excepting theatres, doctor's shops, drug stores, undertakers establishments, livery stables and butchers and baker shops. It has since been held that garages are doing a livery business and will class with livery stables in the law.

Subpoenas were served yesterday on District Attorney Ringo and Sheriff Esch. A temporary injunction effective during pendency of the suit has been ordered by Judge Wolverton and the defendants are ordered to appear before the court on November 15 and show cause why the injunction should not be made permanent.

The complaint states that it has interests in Oregon worth $300,000 and in Marion county not less than $10,000. It claims that it will be irreparably damaged if the law is enforced and will be compelled to defend a multiplicity of suits and actions at a "great and needless expense to the taxpayers and general public of the state of Oregon." Plaintiff claims that there are 5000 persons in Oregon engaged in the sale of retail groceries, cigars, tobacco and similar businesses and a large number in the business of the various lines of amusement and declare that all of these will be irreparably damaged by enforcement of the law.

The association also exhibited a fine assortment of loganberries in cartons and in bulk. TURNER TOPICS

(Capital Journal Special Service.)

Turner, Or., Nov. 9.—Postmaster Small is learning the law these days, thereby using up his surplus time. This is a good example.

There has been talk of securing a state circulating library. This would be a good move. The people of Turner are entitled to their share in the state library. This is one way of getting plenty of good reading for the winter.

Uncle Bill Steel is the happiest young man in town, since he has taken out himself a wife.

Miss Adams, of Philadelphia, is here visiting with Mrs. Henry Earl.

The Halloween party given at the school building on Friday evening, October 29th was enjoyed by the students. The spoons were entertained with games, served with refreshments and retired for one year.

The high school students have organized a Magazine club and have ordered the following magazines: The Independent, Scribner's, Bookman, Manual Geographical Magazine, Good Housekeeping, American Cookery, Needle Craft, World Chronicle. Some of the friends of the school have been contributing to this list, some very valuable magazines.

Mrs. O. H. P. Cornelius has been dangerously ill, but is reported much improved at this time.

A literary society has been organized by the high school students. This organization consists of the entire student body in the high school and it is likely that a program will be given soon.

It begins to look as though Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Thomas will soon take dinner in their new home. The plastering is now in progress.

The program given in the high school assembly room Friday, November 5th, was entertaining and instructive. The room was filled to capacity. Assistant State Superintendent E. F. Carlton came out for the evening and delivered a most interesting and instructive address on the Panama-Pacific exposition. Music was furnished by the school. The entire program was given under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association.

There has been some talk of bettering the playground facilities here and a gymnasium has been hinted at. If some big hearted, public spirited person would build and donate a gymnasium for school use it would be a great and lasting deed for the boys and the girls of this community.

Under the supervision of the new principal this year a novel method of opening exercises has been introduced. Three meetings in the week all students meet in the assembly hall where chapel exercises are held. Teachers and students take some part each morning. It being planned to let one group of

Cadet Companies Will Be Furnished Arms

The following letter was received by Superintendent O. M. Elliott from Adjutant General George A. White of the Oregon National Guard, in response to an inquiry as to what provision in equipment and instruction the government would provide, should the schools in this city decide to take up a course of military training. The letter of inquiry was written by Mr. Elliott at the request of the school board. General White writes:

"In Portland the course being pursued is to enlist the students over the age of 18 in the National Guard."

"It is my understanding that where a cadet company is formed, it is uniformed and properly instructed by a competent instructor, arms and ammunition only may be secured from the war department, provided the company engages in regular target practice."

"If you are interested in the idea of a cadet company formed as a school boy rifle club, the matter should be taken up with the secretary of the national board for the promotion of rifle practice, at Washington, D. C."

A NEW HARMLESS WAY TO BANISH HAIRY GROWTHS

(Beauty Topics)

By following this suggestion any woman can, in the privacy of her own home, remove every trace of hair or fuzz from her face. With powdered delatone and water mix enough paste to cover the not wanted hairs; apply in 2 or 3 minutes rub off and wash the skin. This method is unfeeling, harmless and quick in results, but care should be employed to get the genuine delatone.

MANUFACTURER KEEPS HIS FINGER ON PUBLIC PULSE

A. B. Manley, Dulmage-Manley Co., Portland, Oregon, Allen dealer gave the Capital Journal representative some interesting pointers as to how the manufacturer enters to public opinions in design. "It is surprising," he said, "how people insist on certain features in the design in a car and how quickly they can pick them out. The principle things they seem to look out for are wider seats and more leg room than the average $700 or $700 car can give them. The Allen has 112 inch wheel base instead of the usual 106 inches so we don't have to worry about the car being cramped. But it is remarkable how quickly they see these things."

Almost everyone who steps into an Allen has some remark to make on the ample leg room, showing that they have had their eyes open to these little points. But it surely took some foresight and nerve on the part of the Allen designers to put a 112 inch wheel base on a car in this class.

Another thing the public can see quickly in a good or bad body. No half way boat line effects goes now a days. When asked about motors, Mr. Manley said "four cylinder motors are still the most in demand, and will always be a good feature on a car because of their simplicity."

"But the best thing of all is the way the bodies are getting motor wise. They know as much about motors and can ask questions that would give our designer, Mr. Sommer himself gray hair. But we like it and the ladies are always welcome."

A Great Kidney Remedy According To Thousands of Reports

My wife has been suffering with kidney and bladder trouble in a bad form since she was nine years of age. She was in such a condition that she was confined to her bed and several doctors here treated her but to no effect. About nine months ago she began to take Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and began to improve immediately. She is practically well now and is able to do all of her work. At the time she was sick she suffered greatly and it looked as if she would die, but thanks to your valuable remedy, she is now a new woman. I can recommend Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root as the best kidney and bladder remedy on earth and if you desire you may publish this letter in the hope that it may enable other sufferers to get relief.

Yours very truly,
G. T. CURRY,
R. F. D. 3, Box 39, Hubbard, Texas.

Under the supervision of the new principal this year a novel method of opening exercises has been introduced. Three meetings in the week all students meet in the assembly hall where chapel exercises are held. Teachers and students take some part each morning. It being planned to let one group of students take part giving some special exercise one time and another group another time. These special features consist of songs, recitations, and other short parts thereby giving the student daily training for public occasions. The regular chapel exercises consist of singing by all and the reading of some selection from the Bible by a teacher or student.

This chapel exercise is having a great effect upon attendance, it is practically doing away with tardiness. No one can afford to miss the chapel as it is a real treat. The attendance this year is almost perfect.

Pupils and parents alike are back of the school and are making its success a certainty.

Miss Ada Thomas, who is a trained nurse, was here from Portland visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Thomas last week.
