MARION COUNTY IS ASSESSED AT .68 OF FULL CASH VALUE

Tax Commission Opens Its Annual Discussion With County Assessors

The state tax commission today opened up the way for a series of informal visits and invited considerable correspondence from county assessors by issuing the tentative ratio of the assessed value of the taxable property in each county to the full cash value. Each county assessor is required, under the law, to assess the property at its full cash value and each maintains that he does. Then the tax commission issues the tentative ratio which shows what per cent of truth there is in the assertions of the county assessors according to the opinion of the tax commission. The county assessor in turn declares that the value imposed by the tax commission upon the property is too high, and that the assessed is in better position to know the value of the property than the tax commission. After a few preliminary remarks each holds to his original position and there the matter rests with each fulfilling his duty to the best of his own judgment.

The county assessors say that if they assessed the property at its full value as judged by the tax commission they would hear a roar from an enraged populace that would cause the European turmoil to sink to a mere whisper. One philosophical county assessor made an almost "neutral" statement when he said that he made his property valuations with one eye on the law, one eye on the property and the other on the recall and tried to satisfy all three points of view.

According to the tentative list issued today Marion county property is assessed at 68 per cent of its actual cash value, last year it was assessed at 69 per cent of its full value according to the estimates of the tax commission. Tillamook is assessed at 89 per cent which is practically full value. The following list is only tentative as the values of corporations proprietors within the respective counties have not been made for 1915.

Constantly, with all the changing fortunes of war, friendly bacteria in the body are waging war against invading microbes. Disease is the victory of the enemy, health the supremacy of the home guard.

Intesti-Fermin Tablets

combine the friendly, health giving bacilli of Bulgarian sour milk ferments with Glyco-Bacter—the Bacillus of Long Life. Taken persistently, they tend to prevent premature old age and guard against headache, biliousness, nerve and stomach disorders, such as indigestion, constipation and hardening of the arteries.

W. H. Abrams, Pioneer of 1867, Dies In Eugene

(Eugene Register.)
William H. Abrams, one of the early residents of Eugene, later for many years a resident of Cottage Grove, died at his home at 1190 Patterson street, in this city yesterday. Paralysis was the cause of death.

Mr. Abrams was one of the early pioneers of Lane county and Eugene. He was born in Rochester, N. Y., October 10, 1845, and spent his early boyhood days in that city, later settling in Perry, N. Y.

When the Civil war broke out Mr. Abrams enlisted in the union army, serving in Company B Ninth regiment, Michigan cavalry. He was honorably discharged from army service in 1865.

In that year he moved to Coldwater, Michigan, where he married Frances Ballard. In 1867 he came to Oregon by the Isthmus of Panama. His wife died in 1875, leaving three children. Mrs. C. J. Howard, of Eugene; Thomas C. Abrams, of Kalama, Wash.; and Mrs. O. O. McClellan, of Salem.

In 1878 Mr. Abrams returned to Perry, N. Y., the home of his boyhood and married Miss Alice Buckland. Mr. and Mrs. Abrams returned to Eugene immediately after the marriage and have resided in Lane county since.

Mr. Abrams was well known both in Eugene and Cottage Grove. He was the builder of "The Grand Hotel" at the University and the Hoffman hotel in Eugene. He was mayor of Cottage Grove and builder of the electric lighting system there.

Mr. Abrams is survived by a widow and the children mentioned. Mr. Abrams was a member of the Masonic lodge, Woodmen of the World, and the Grand Army of the Republic. Funeral services will be held from the Gordon & Vetchel chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Remains will be placed in the mausoleum. Rev. Wm. Parsons will have charge of the services at the chapel and the services at the mausoleum will be conducted by the Masonic lodge.

WAR BULLETINS

Amsterdam, Nov. 11.—The Kaiser has commuted the death sentences against Countess Jeanne de Belleville, Madame Louise Thuliez, and the chemist Louis Severin to penal servitude for life, according to the Tyd's Belgian correspondent today. They were sentenced for espionage in Belgium.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Seizure of the American steamer Hocking at Halifax, by the British, was explained by England today on the ground the vessel was "enemy owned." No details were announced, however, by the state department.

Peekville, Pa., Nov. 11.—Three arrests today followed the finding of 150 pounds of dynamite here, intended, it is believed, to destroy the Dupont Powder works in the next village.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Suspicious fires in munitions plants recently are under investigation by the department of justice, it was admitted today.

Athens, Nov. 11.—Authentic Salonika reports today told of heavy fighting between the Serbs and Bulgars east of Prizrend.

County Clerk Secures Reputation Abroad As Matrimonial Agent

About two months ago County Clerk Max H. Gehlar received a letter from a young woman—at least she said she was young—of Terre Haute, Indiana, who sought the addresses of a few honorable young men of this county who would correspond with her with a view of entering the state of matrimony about the same time she entered the state of Oregon. Recently she wrote again to the county clerk informing him that the list of names submitted by him had proved to be highly satisfactory and that the affair with one young man was progressing particularly well.

It is probable that she confided her secrets to a friend back in Terre Haute because a request for another list of "eligibles" was received today by the county clerk from another young lady of the eastern city. Mr. Gehlar made haste to reply by forwarding a new list of "honorable young men."

One Lonely Little Girl Will Get Good Home

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 11.—Lonely Ethel Andersen is going to have a home. Her prayer that she be given a place where she could have some one to love her and give her a square meal has been answered.

Mrs. G. A. Black, of Hollister, California, seeing the girl's tearful letter to Chief White, of San Francisco, wired her to come to live with her.

Fears of joy stood in the girl's eyes. She was ready to fulfill her offer of walking across the continent if she could but have the home. Local charity officials, however, dissuaded her from starting out at once, as they wished to investigate the California woman's offer before allowing the girl to go there.

Only a few more days to Thanksgiving, and 29 days from then to Christmas. Better begin doing that Christmas shopping.

SALEM WOMEN MIGHT TELL HAIR SECRET

A great many Salem women, who have an abundance of beautiful hair, know about a remarkable hair formula which every woman ought to know about. For a number of years Salem druggists have been continually called upon to mix this formula. Doubtless the use of this formula is largely the secret of the beauty and luxuriance of the hair of very many Salem women—and men too. The formula consists of six ounces of bay rum, two ounces lavender de compose, and one-half drachm of menthol crystals. Some people add a teaspoonful of perfume.

A New York physician and a New York chemist were recently consulted regarding the efficacy of this mixture and they both say they know of nothing better to destroy dandruff, stimulate hair growth, cleanse and invigorate the scalp, stop falling hair, and to make the hair fluffy and give it lustre. Any druggist can furnish you the ingredients which you can mix at home or will mix them for you. Apply to the scalp night and morning and rub in with the finger tips.

OREGON NEWS TODAY

Sues Portland Police.
Portland, Ore., Nov. 11.—Alleging that she had reason to believe that immoral women were "planted" in her rooming house, the Van Gorder hotel, to furnish grounds for raids, Mrs. R. A. Burnett has today filed suit for $25,000 against the Portland police department moral squad.

Mrs. Burnett declares that the two raids on her establishment have injured her business and reputation.

The members of the moral squad, named in the suit were W. H. Warren, private secretary of Mayor Albee; Police Lieutenant L. A. Harms, and Patrolman Lee Martin.

Alleged Arsonist Indicted

Portland, Ore., Nov. 11.—Another alleged arsonist is under indictment by the grand jury today. Mrs. Daisy Miller is charged with burning her home last November for the insurance money.

Three members of the coast-wide arson trust will begin serving sentences of from three to seven years in the state penitentiary today. They are Sanford Carrier, Monty Akeyson and W. Woollette. Mordie Keeney, given the same sentence for arson following conviction several days ago is taking advantage of 15 days stay of execution to perfect an appeal to the supreme court.

He Stole Two Pianos

Portland, Ore., Nov. 11.—That he stole two pianos and sold and traded them until his profits reached $100 was the confession Charles Farnham, a moving picture operator, made to the police today.

The pianos were in a movie theatre that had gone out of business. Farnham hired a transfer man to put them in storage, and after 30 days began a series of barbers by which he disposed of them.

Six Persons Injured

Portland, Ore., Nov. 11.—Six persons are suffering from painful injuries today as the result of a street car running away for several blocks and crashing into another, which in turn collided with a third last night. The cars were badly damaged. It was almost miraculous that there was not loss of life.

The car that started the trouble was left unattended by its crew and evidently "eased off" its airbrakes.

Farmers Hold Wheat

Pendleton, Ore., Nov. 11.—Wheat valued at $3,150,000, is being held by the growers of Umatilla county for higher prices, it was estimated today. Out of between 4,500,000 and 5,000,000 bushels grown in the county in 1915 it was believed that not more than 20 or 25 per cent had been sold.

Revival in Mining

Baker, Ore., Nov. 11.—A revival in the Greenhorn mining district is expected today as the result of the locating of a vein on the Betty and Ables property which assays nearly $1,000 to the ton.

The vein has been opened up for 60 feet, but neither end has been found.

Held Up Street Car

Portland, Ore., Nov. 11.—Two masked men, revolvers in hand, held up a street car on the Woodstock line early today and relieved Conductor B. W. Cooley of $9.75 in small change.

There were no passengers on the car.

Seattle Man Injured

Portland, Ore., Nov. 11.—As the result of being knocked off by a street car or falling from a trestle on the Vancouver line, Charles Wilson, aged 45, of Seattle, is suffering from serious injuries today. His jawbone and breastbone were fractured.

Killed While Hunting

Oregon City, Ore., Nov. 11.—Accidentally shooting himself in the neck while hunting near here, Joe Nordberg, aged 19, of Portland, is dead today.

Four Were Killed—Cyclone

Bend today came out from under the deluge to the work of rehabilitation.

Following a hard wind with sifting electrical showers, a dark funnel-shaped cloud rushed in with a roar from the southwest last night, and struck in the light and water plants, leaving the city in darkness and without fire protection. It smashed its way through, taking its life toll and wrecking many structures in its wake.

The twister swept away many houses in this town of 4,000, wrecked the Santa Fe station, levelled a stand pipe, and then swept eastward, striking other towns. Among the places destroyed here were a school, three mills and many homes.

Other towns in the path of the cyclone, but which suffered less damage, included Larned, Hutchinson, Derby, Clifton, Holingson and Hartford, S. D.

The wind literally picked up many buildings, hurling them considerable distance or crashing them into kindling with their occupants beneath them. Number five Santa Fe passenger train came near being caught in the atmospheric maelstrom.

Cut off from fire protection, citizens formed a volunteer fire department to fight many blazes following in the path of overturned lamps and stoves.

The cyclone ripped a three-foot-wide mile path through the town, taking its chief toll in the residence district. In the outlying districts however, many sheep were picked up dead, smashed to death in the feeding pens after being thrown high in the air.

A drizzling rain fell all night. At dawn the city was still plying under ruined buildings for trace of other dead and injured. Physicians poured in from neighboring villages to give aid to the wounded.

Several men in the three mills wrecked were killed. Rescuing parties feared that the death toll may run higher than the earlier reports indicated.

Storm Sweeps Several States

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 11.—Torn by a "twister" and drenched under heavy rainfall, Kansas, parts of Nebraska and South Dakota began to report today heavy damage from last night's storm. The worst part of it struck Great Bend, Kansas, where four persons were killed.

Communication is still greatly crippled so the total figures on casualties and destruction may not be known for a few days.

Damage Not Heavy

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 11.—As far as known early today, no casualties and only slight property damage resulted in Nebraska from the cyclone which swept Kansas and Nebraska last night. The state was drenched with a heavy rain, Central Nebraska reported a heavy wind, with some buildings unroofed and blown over. Later the rain turned to snow in the western section.

Death List Grows

Wichita, Kas., Nov. 11.—Mrs. William LaFore and her servant, Miss Meadows, and Mrs. Hartle were killed in the cyclone which struck Seyla, south of here last night. Mr. Hartle and two children were brought to a hospital here, seriously injured.

Seyla was badly damaged. A Mexican was killed and 27 persons injured when a bank train was demolished at Derby.

For Acid Stomachs Use Magnesia

The almost universal use of magnesia by physicians and specialists in the treatment of stomach troubles is due to the fact that it neutralizes too excessive acid and thus stops food fermentation—the direct cause of nearly all stomach trouble. Of the many forms of magnesia such as oxides, citrates, carbonates, sulphates, etc., the one now supplied in either powdered or tablet form and especially recommended for acid stomachs is bisulphated magnesia, a teaspoonful of which in a little warm water immediately after eating will neutralize the excessive acid, stop fermentation, and thus ensure painless normal digestion. Be sure to get bisulphated magnesia rather than any other magnesia, as this form is prepared especially for the treatment of acid stomachs. The five grain tablets are the most convenient for physicians and travelers to carry and two tablets are equivalent to a teaspoonful of the powder. Take two of the tablets (with or without water) or a teaspoonful of the powder in a quarter of a glass of water after each meal. Stomach sufferers and dyspeptics who follow this plan and avoid the use of pepsin, charcoal, soda, mints, drugs and medicines are astonished to find that the stomach, relieved of the irritating acid and gas, soon regains its normal tone, and can do its work alone without the doubtful aid of artificial digestants.

CARRANZA GETS HERMOSILLO.
Washington, Nov. 9.—Admiral Winston, in command of the Pacific squadron, today sent the navy department confirmation of the Carranzista capture of Hermosillo.

Carranzista reinforcements have landed at Guaymas.

General Funston reported the border situation quiet.

DOCTORS ARE CHARGED WITH ILLEGAL METHODS

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—Many arrests of Pacific coast states and Nevada doctors on charges connected with an alleged drug ring are imminent, according to a federal official today. The first hauls seemed likely here and at Portland, Ore., as a result of discoveries of federal officials.

Forgery, false representation and theft of a doctor's prescription register number, together with the peddling of vast quantities of morphine and cocaine in violation of the federal law, it is claimed will be proven.

The gigantic alleged ring of drug traders was unearthed as a result of a probe conducted by Collector of Internal Revenue Scott.

A San Francisco woman and her daughter were said to be the first ones slated for the federal dragnet.

First clues of the alleged infringement of the law came when reports purporting to show that a San Francisco physician had purchased $10,000 worth of cocaine and morphine within three weeks. Investigation showed that he actually had not bought more than usual, but that his prescription and registry number had been stolen and used by the alleged drug ring.

The woman, slated for arrest, is said to be suspected of selling drugs to society women here.

Two arrests in Reno, several in Portland and a number here, were promised by the authorities.

Catholic Bazaar Scores Well-Deserved Success

A musical program will be part of the features of the evening of the Catholic bazaar, now being held under the auspices of the women of the church at St. Joseph's hall. Chicken suppers are also served. Tom Ordemann will assist in this evening's program, accompanied by the Knights of Columbus orchestra. The hall is filled with fancy booths attractively decorated, where fancy work, candies and novelties are sold. Among the booths that attracted the greater interest was the parcel post booth in charge of Mrs. Joseph Bach and Mrs. A. E. Hucklestein. Mrs. Joseph

Municipal Railroad Pays Splendid Profits

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—The San Francisco municipal railroads continue to be operated at a profit. A report filed today by Superintendent Cashin of the city lines shows that during October $209,198.76 was taken in and $108,171.36 expended, leaving a profit of $101,027.40. After the depreciation and sinking funds have been apportioned their share of this amount the city will have approximately $75,000 net profit.
