

THE MARKETS

Wheat seems to have settled down to a regular quotation of 80 and 82 cents, with the remainder of the grain market holding steady.

Turkeys are now on the local market with quotations from 16 to 16 cents, live weight. These prices, like almost all of the local quotations, are regulated by the Portland market.

Veal is strong again today, with a price offered of 9 cents.

In referring to the prices paid farmers bringing pork and veal to the city, a butcher said today that the local prices changed as the Portland market varied, and that every farmer was paid according to the Portland market. "If the farmer feels that Salem is not paying the right price, we will ship his meats to Portland butchers," he said.

GOVERNOR ISSUES TWO MORE PARDONS TODAY

Increase of Forgery Due To Carelessness of Banks and Business Men

Governor Withycombe today issued two pardons to Frank Thomas and Fred W. Williams, inmates of the penitentiary.

Fred W. Williams has been serving a sentence for larceny. He was committed from Union county and was pardoned upon the recommendation of the trial judge, Hon. J. W. Knowles, District Attorney F. S. Evanhoe, and the directors of the bank he defrauded.

Frank Thomas was received from Morrow county on the charge of obtaining goods by false pretenses and sentenced to serve from one to five years in the penitentiary. Newly discovered evidence has made the guilt of Thomas extremely doubtful and because of this fact Judge Gilbert W. Phelps, before whom Thomas was tried, and District Attorney Glenn Y. Wells, of Morrow county, have urged a pardon for him. Thomas' conviction was based upon a check which it was alleged he had forged but since his receipt at the penitentiary numerous unquestionably similar checks have been issued, including some in the state of Nebraska, and it is impossible to reconcile this fact with the guilt of Thomas. After a careful examination of this newly discovered evidence the judge and district attorney urged the release of Thomas and the conditional pardon was today granted him upon these recommendations.

In speaking of the population of the Oregon state penitentiary Governor Withycombe made the following statement:

"Conditions would indicate that the penitentiary will be confronted with a deficit. It now has 532 inmates, the largest number of prisoners in the history of that institution.

"Last year 357 prisoners were received and up until November 1st, of this year, 229 have been received, which is a slightly increased ratio over last year.

"A rather striking feature is that 20 per cent of the prisoners were committed for forgery or obtaining money by false pretenses, and most unfortunately the larger portion of this class of criminals is composed of young men just entering maturity. This is really appalling and shows a serious moral obtuseness among some of our young men. Whatever influence is responsible for contributing to this deplorable condition should be remedied if possible, whether it is due to social conditions or to general carelessness of bankers and business men in cashing checks."

STAYTON HIGH SCHOOL.

Three new students were enrolled in the high school the beginning of the second six weeks. They were: Guy Hurt and Ralph Kelly of the junior class and Marguerite Ryan of the sophomore class. The high school now has 31 enrolled.

Plans are being made by the high school teachers, and members of the school board for the dedication program to be given Friday night. Prominent speakers on the program will be: State Superintendent Churchill, County Superintendent Smith, E. L. Griffin, of O. A. C., and Miss Helen Cowgill, extension worker in domestic science of the same institution.

The girls of the high school began gymnasium work Tuesday under the direction of Miss Tiffany. At present they are using the assembly room in the old building, but hope in the future to have the main part of the old building remodeled into a gymnasium. Miss Tiffany is a graduate of the physical training department of the U. of O., and has had two years' experience as a teacher of physical culture.

The freshman class held a meeting Tuesday morning at which time they made plans for a freshman acquaintance party to be held in the high school Friday, November 19.

The following officers have been elected for the various classes: Seniors, Margaret Fehlen, president; Helen Staab, secretary-treasurer. Juniors, Wanda Brown, president. Sophomores, Gladys Hill, president; Leo Kiecker, secretary-treasurer. Freshman, Melvin Nipple, president; Carl Ruble, secretary-treasurer.—Mail.

INTERNED GERMAN SEAMEN DISAPPEAR

There Is No Punishment Provided By Law For Those Who Escape

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 13.—As the result of escape of another seaman, S. Thiery, from the interned German raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich, all the crew henceforth must be mastered at roll call three times daily.

Thiery, it is alleged, lowered himself over the side and swam under the docks. Boats and trains are being watched to apprehend him.

Daniels desired to know how far he might go in view of the latest escape. Officials, however, doubt that much could be done, in view of the fact that breaking parole is not a criminal offense, and under international law breaking thereof is only violation of a pledge of honor.

STATE NEWS

Roseburg Review: The third shipment this season, consisting of 700,000 eggs, left here yesterday for the salmon hatcheries near Newport. They were brought in yesterday from the hatchery on the North Umpqua and will be taken to their destination under the care of T. R. Pollock, superintendent of the hatchery at Alsea. There are still a large number of eggs that cannot be cared for at the North Umpqua hatchery, according to Mr. Pollock, and other shipments may be made.

This is because of the low water in the river. Recently 1,800,000 eggs were shipped to the Tillamook hatcheries from here and 2,100,000 to other hatcheries in the northern part of the state.

Woodburn Corn Show

The stage is all set for the largest corn and farm products show ever held in Marion county, to be held at the armory in Woodburn November 18, 19 and 20, when the farmers from all parts of this vicinity will have on display the best that is raised in this section. The premium list following will give the people an idea of the interest in this show by the people of Woodburn, who have donated liberally and are working hard to make this a great success.

An excellent program has been prepared by County Agriculturalist Chapin, who will have a number of prominent speakers from the agricultural college to address the large number of farmers that will be in attendance.

The domestic science department, under the supervision of Miss Evelyn Conklin of the faculty of the Woodburn high school, will be of especial interest to the ladies of the city as well as those from outside of town. Every lady should make it a point to attend the lectures and demonstrations to be given during the first two days of the institute.

The farmers are taking a greater interest in this show than in anything ever before held in this section and a large display of excellent quality is assured in all lines. Don't overlook the fact that corn is not the only product to be shown at this time, as potatoes, onions, hops and other products will have their places in this show.—Independent.

HUGE PROBLEMS FACE CARRANZA; DEBT OF BILLION AND MANY POLITICAL TANGLES MAKE HIS TASK SEEMINGLY IMPOSSIBLE

Left to right: Gonzalez, Obregon and Carranza. Carranza has not ended that gentleman's troubles. Mexico now has a debt of a billion dollars, and internal conditions are so acute that permanent peace is considered impossible. Carranza's ablest advisers are General Pablo Gonzalez and General Alvaro Obregon. It is believed that he must retain their staunch support.

W. Flanagan, and James Hoskinson, who were on South Cox river. They gathered nearly 40 pounds together. Their stories were that, with a warm rain the night before the mushrooms sprung up in thousands all over some of the pastures they visited and where cattle were grazing fungus was kicked about and broken up in hundreds. They secured some of the finest specimens that have come to town this fall. Mushrooms should be plentiful for the next week at least, said they, and they have arranged for regular receipts of supplies.

Walterville is soon to be supplied with electricity for lighting from Eugene's municipal plant, which is situated a mile from the village.

Plans for a water system at Florence are being completed and bids will be advertised for as soon as the approval of the state board of health has been obtained.

DREAM ROMANCE SHATTERED BY FACTS

Physicians Are Mystified By Society Girl's Strange Conduct

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—Miss Julia Choate Crumley's weird dream romance culminating when the girl, her brain aflame, brought home a man's body claiming to be that of her dead sweetheart, has vanished, leaving behind a puzzle for psychologists and nerve doctors, and a sensation for Atlanta society.

Police and members of her family turned today to investigation of how the girl's fancy resulted in her claiming an unknown body in a Chicago morgue, and bringing it home as that of "Dr. Aleyne Hensley," a Canadian widower, whom her fevered imagination had pictured as her fiancé.

At first her family insisted that the body was that of the girl's husband; later that the girl was self hypnotized. Miss Crumley, prominent in Atlanta society, pictured her "romance" to her friends. She seemed joyful. Then a cloud seemed to come over the affair; she was disheartened. She had been jilted, she said.

Then there was the "reconciliation" and she was to wed. Friends entertained for her in honor of the event.

Suddenly, the girl's strange imagination pictured her "fiance" killed in a railroad wreck. Later, sorrowing, she brought home the body of the "doctor," which, it develops, she got from a Chicago morgue.

Just before the funeral of the supposed sweetheart, suspicion arose; how, nobody knows. But the girl broke down under questioning and admitted her romance had existed only in her imagination.

Chicago advices reported that the body she brought home was that of a man killed on the Illinois Central railway.

Physicians are mystified. The case is the first they have encountered. Self-hypnotism, however, they said, may account for the strange fiction the girl compounded.
