Over Half of Hops Sold

Portland, Or., Nov. 17.—There continues a very strong tone in the hop market with fair sales in the country at full prices. Trading between dealers is likewise good.

It develops that the sale of the hops in Grants Pass, recently reported at 1 1/2c was actually made at better than 1 1/2c because that amount had been offered and refused. The grower claimed he sold for more money and it is understood that close to 1 1/2c was obtained. The general market here is considered at 1 1/2c for best quality.

This same price is being offered in Washington sections for quality offerings with growers not inclined to sell freely.

Advices received by cable by local dealers state that of the English crop of 254,000 hundred weight—this being but a half crop—fully three quarters of the production has already been sold. The market in England is reported firm and active.

Continental advices tell of a good market with the crop well sold. Advices indicate that the trade there is expecting still higher prices if any means are found to make outside shipments.

The trade figures the crop and re-organizing supplies as follows: Oregon, 100,000; Washington, 87,000; California, 117,000.

Total, 254,000. Estimates of the 1915 California hop crop place the yield at 116,378 bales, as compared with 113,200 for 1914.

The Sonoma county crop amounts to 29,790 bales in 1915 as compared to 24,363 bales in 1914.

It is estimated that there remain unsold about 17,197 bales of Sonoma county crops, while Mendocino and Lake counties hold 9943 and Sacramento an additional 35,566, making a total in the state of 61,316 bales still held by growers.

THE "LID" NO WON TIGHT AT WOODBURN Woodburn, Nov. 17.—At the recent city election the winning ticket was opposed principally on the ground that the candidates for mayor and council were to close down the "lid" tight and for the first time in Woodburn nothing of that nature can be obtained only on a physician's prescription, Boot-summarily stopped.

DAY WITH AN OLD FRIEND Wallace Wiley yesterday bade goodbye at the Northern Pacific station to J. M. Garrison, of Salem, who had been his guest for a couple of days. Years ago, 30 of them anyhow, when Mr. Wiley went from this place to Forest Grove, Ore., to get his schooling, he made his home with Prof. Garrison and was there for more than two years and is delighted with it. He is a poultry fancier, and for the past third of a century has been breeding Barred Rocks and Wyandottes, as many Yakima fanciers have found out when he kept it from us." Prof. Garrison had never seen the Yakima country before
