The jolt appeared to be felt in the Imperial valley, the western part of Arizona and northern Mexico, dwelling in severity as it traveled toward the coast.

FLAX INDUSTRY IN STATE IS NOT A FAILURE SAYS KAY

State Treasurer Takes Issue With Recent Article In Portland Paper

"The flax industry as conducted by the state is not a failure," said State Treasurer Kay, this morning. "and in no sense does the state stand to lose money by its efforts. The article in the Portland Journal was entirely misleading."

State Treasurer Kay made the above statement in reference to an article which appeared last week in the Portland Journal which said the state was losing money on the flax business and that Superintendent Cady was incompetent and was unable to carry on the work to a satisfactory conclusion.

Mr. Kay went on to state that of the $50,000 which was appropriated by the legislature not all of it was to be spent in raising and manufacturing flax but was to provide means of employment for the convicts at the state pen. Of this sum $7,000 or more was spent on roads, a rock crusher was purchased and a motor installed to run it near the feeble minded institute where a gang of convicts might be employed. Some of it was spent for hard surface roads inside the fair grounds. About $10,000 was spent for machinery and the freight on the machines now in use at the flax plant and about 600 tons of flax straw were purchased from the growers. One item of profit in the seed and already 3,000 bushels have been thrashed and cleaned which will bring $2 per bushel in the open market if it were sold but it will be turned over to the farmers who will grow the flax next year and they will pay but $1.50 for it.

As to the flax that has been spread out to rot and which is reported to be ruined, Mr. Kay says that only a small percentage, if any, will be damaged. None will be lost because even the poorest quality of the short fibres can be sold for $60 per ton to manufacturers who use it for tow and for upholstery.

Again but 50 tons have been spread out and 300 tons of the straw is still stored in the building where it remains in exactly the same condition as it was when brought from the fields. Owing to the unusual hard rains which have fallen this year it is possible that some of the straw which was spread out to rot will receive more water than is good for it and that it will be a hard matter to dry it but Mr. Kay maintains that the flax business even this first year will return a handsome profit to the state as well as providing employment for the convicts who have heretofore basked in idleness.

Mr. Kay says he has received his information relative to the condition of the flax from Eugene Bosse, of this city, who is recognized as an authority on the growth and preparation of flax.

Mr. Bosse explains that there are three processes of retting the flax which is the process of rotting the outside of the stalk from the fibres which lie within. One process is "dew" retting and this consists of spreading the straw out upon the ground to allow the dew to fall upon it and supply the moisture but this is only successfully employed in countries where there is little rain. The process of "tank" retting consists of spreading the straw out in huge tanks where running water is allowed to cover the straw. This process, says Mr. Bosse, is the most successful as it is the most easily controlled but it requires expensive equipment.

The process in use at the pen under the supervision of Mr. Cady allows the rain to supply the moisture but the particularly moist Oregon climate this fall has supplied rather more rain than has been necessary but in no manner has the straw been ruined. The matter of the flax business was left to the board of control and Mr. Cady was employed to superintend the manufacture of the plant. Governor Withycombe appears to be satisfied with the work so far as it has proceeded. Secretary Olcott is non-committal on the subject and Mr. Kay is a strong supporter of the present system and says he can prove his contentions by showing a good balance on the right side of the ledger when the final accounts are settled.

KEEP THE KIDNEYS WELL

Health Is Worth Saving, and Some Salem People Know How to Save It.

Many Salem people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Weak kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill health—the slightest delay is dangerous. Use Doan's Kidney Pills—a remedy that has helped thousands of kidney sufferers. Here is a Salem citizen's recommendation:

W. C. Johnston, gardener, 1021 Mill street, Salem, says: "After several medicines had failed to help me, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and got great relief from kidney and bladder trouble. I still use Doan's Kidney Pills once in a while when a cold settles in my back and kidneys and the kidney secretions become disordered. I always get quick relief. You may continue publishing the endorsement I have given Doan's Kidney Pills before."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Johnston had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

In order to more fully popularize this store we have been giving $18 and $20 suit values at $15.

Yesterday a young man bought one of these remarkable suits, and we next heard of his showing it to all his friends as a TWENTY-FIVE DOLLAR SUIT.

Now, where do we come in on the advertising we were after by giving such values?

California's Population Now Over Three Million

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 22.—California's population is 3,004,500 says Job Wood, statistician for the state school department, in a report issued today. This is about 150,000 more than the figures recently given out by George D. Leslie, statistician for the state health department who estimates the 1915 population at 2,854,800.

Wood's figures were arrived at by taking the ratio of school children to the total population in 1910 and applying it on the school attendance for the year ending June 30, 1915. He figured there are nine persons in California to each elementary school child. According to this estimate the population of California has increased 627,000 in the past five years.

CARRY STOMACH JOY IN YOUR VEST POCKET

Daniel J. Fry Has Such Faith In This Dyspepsia Remedy That He Guarantees It.

One of the greatest successes in the sale of medicine has been achieved by Mi-on-a, the standard dyspepsia remedy, and its sale is increasing so rapidly that Daniel J. Fry, the popular druggist, has had work to keep a stock on hand. It is very popular with bankers, ministers, lawyers and others whose business or profession keeps them closely confined, while those who have brought on indigestion through irregular eating, worry, or other causes, have found relief in this reliable remedy.

Mi-on-a comes in tablet form and is sold in a metal box especially designed for convenience in carrying the medicine in the pocket or purse. It is pleasant to take, gives quick relief and should help any case, no matter of how long a standing. This remedy has been so uniformly successful that Daniel J. Fry will in future sell Mi-on-a under a positive guarantee to refund the money if it should not prove entirely satisfactory. No other dyspepsia medicine ever had a large enough percentage of cures so that it could be sold in this manner. A guarantee like this speaks volumes for the merit of the remedy.

There is no time like the present to do a thing that ought to be done. If any one has dyspepsia, today is the best time to begin curing it.

SCHOOL PAY ROLL AT SILVERTON

The pay roll for the month of October, covering teachers' and janitors' salaries, was the largest ever paid by school district No. 4. It amounted to $1440.

The school now employs 19 teachers and two janitors, one new teacher having been added last month owing to the necessary division of the third grade. The monthly expense of the school at present, figuring salaries, fuel, light, power, water, interest on bonds and warrants, supplies, insurance, etc., totals about $1,550. Figuring nine months for the school year it makes a total yearly expense of $16,151.

This does not include the money expended for new equipment in the new high school building, such as seats, desks, chairs, tables, stools, electric fixtures and domestic science equipment.—Silverton Tribune.

PROPOSED CUT-OFF ROAD.

A number of Hubbard parties who have been responsible for the effort to get the cutoff road to the north out of Hubbard, held a meeting Tuesday night to further consider the matter. Nothing had been heard on the subject since word received from W. C. Winslow representing the petitioners to the effect that the route petitioned for would be stubbornly fought by Mr. Haven-den, one of the parties whose land the road would cross, but if the road would be accepted over a different route but getting us into practically the same country, no contest would be made.
