SPRING VALLEY

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Spring Valley, Ore., Nov. 20.—G. H. Crawford's sixtieth birthday was the occasion of the gathering of a number of friends, who pleasantly surprised him on Wednesday evening. A variation of the old game of "Spin the Platter," was played, in which each loser paid his forfeit by telling of some interesting incidents in his life. Many of these were told, the scenes being laid in Illinois, California, Kansas, Mexico and many other places besides in Oregon. Especially interesting were the accounts of a terrible Kansas blizzard, told by Mr. and Mrs. Taylor and James French, also the account of mission work by Mrs. W. T. Scott. All joined in the sentiment that Oregon was the best state yet. Charades were also enjoyed and at a late hour a lap supper was served by the hostess. Those present were Rev. W. T. Scott and wife, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Carlton, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Looney, Mr. and Mrs. Sam'l Barker, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. James French, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Cooley, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. J. Starr, Rev. G. A. McKinlay, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Taylor, James Fleener, Victor Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Crawford, Donald Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Crawford. The younger generation was represented by Irene Looney, Clara Starr, Clarence Starr, Kenneth Henry, Evelyn French, Harold French, and Robert Crawford. Mrs. Hattie Holland is home from the State hospital, somewhat improved in health. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Tompkins and children of Gaston, are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. R. Holland, the parents of Mrs. Tompkins. Mrs. W. T. Scott returned home Monday from a week's stay in Portland. She brought with her little Mary Scott, her granddaughter, to recuperate from her recent severe attack of influenza. Mr. Bewley, of Sheridan, was here this week looking after his farm, formerly owned by Bert Purvine. Parents' Visiting day was observed at the Spring Valley school last Friday by a number of the parents, who brought their lunch and spent a pleasant day, observing their children at their school work. Howard Goodfellow is shipping his turkeys to Portland this week. He has about 150, all raised this year. Mr. Goodfellow has rented his farm to a man who recently arrived from the east. As soon as he gets business matters here in shape Mr. Goodfellow and wife are planning to take in the exposition and Mrs. Goodfellow expects to extend her trip to include a visit with her mother in Florida. Word has been received from W. L. Cook, who recently moved to Lake county, in which he says he is well pleased with his new home. The children are all in school and he and the older boys are busily engaged in putting in the crops. E. L. Woods, a real estate man of Salem, was a business visitor in Spring Valley Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Barker were Salem visitors Wednesday. Victor Simpson spent Sunday with his mother at Lincoln. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Crawford drove to Salem Sunday evening to hear Rev. Harry Marshall at the Baptist church, who will soon enter evangelistic work. Miss Gracie Walling, who teaches in the commercial department of the Salem high school, spent the week-end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Walling. James French spent Sunday in Salem with his mother, whose health is poor this winter. Ray Nash returned from Lake county last Thursday. He made the trip on horseback, it taking a longer time than he anticipated, as he encountered snow on the summit, 21 inches deep. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford went to Portland Wednesday. They expect to return home Sunday. The Baptist Mission Circle met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. W. Harvey Crawford. Selections were read from "Ann of Ava," and a pleasant afternoon was served by the hostess. The society will hold its next meeting December 15 at the home of Mrs. Wayne D. Henry. Earl Brant is employed at McCoy by Henry Domes, of the Idlehour farm. Gus Lake's milk cow which disappeared two weeks ago Thursday night, has not yet been found. Mr. Burton has assisted her for several days in a diligent search, but have found no trace of the missing animal. Mr. and Mrs. Burton, Mrs. Clarke, Miss Mildred Burton and Miss Dorothy Shepard spent last Saturday in Salem. Cal DeHarper and family of Salem, were Sunday guests of Mrs. DeHarper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Bradford. The World's Temperance day was observed at the church Sunday morning with an appropriate program. Bobb Russell, a student of McMinnville college, preached the morning sermon. Next Sunday morning the services will be in charge of Mr. Van Winkle, a Willamette university student. A young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanna, who live on the old Denby

THE MARKETS The egg market is weak and grocers look for lower prices in a few days. One groceryman declared that with the present prices paid in Salem he could not ship to Portland, and the supply now was more than he could handle in his retail business. Within a day or two he expected to be obliged to offer two cents less than today's market. Live turkeys are quoted at 15 and 16 cents and dressed at 18 and 19 cents, for prime stock. The retail price here will run close to 24 cents a pound and in Portland 25 cents.

MARKETING OF POTATOES. During the past week our attention was called more carefully than for some time to the demands of the public in the sorting and grading of the potatoes in the sack, and the grower who does not give some attention to this feature will find he is not able to get top price for his product. To get the best price the potatoes must be sound, not too large, three inches in width a good average, free from cuts, imperfections, must not be rough or ill shaped. Potatoes grown under conditions that will produce this kind of stock will be the best and that is the only kind that gets the top price. Somebody must pay freight on culls and if the grower ships ungraded stock he is simply paying freight on something he had better kept at home. Enterprise.
