President Objects To Doggarel Song

New York, Nov. 22.—Though President Wilson requested suppression of a song dedicated to him and his future bride, Mrs. Galt, under the title of "Pretty Little Indian Maid," presses today turned out the offending ditty at top speed.

Its title is taken from the fact that Mrs. Galt is a descendant of the Indian maiden, Pocahontas. Its words bear on her wooing by the president.

Michael Fitzpatrick, the author sent the president a copy, and Secretary Tumulty replied: "The president asks me to say he would be greatly obliged if you would not publish the song. He would be very distressed if it were published."

"Now what do you suppose is the matter with the president?" commented Fitzpatrick today. "Didn't I read once that he sang in a glee club?"

Here's what the president disliked: "A pale face chief of a mighty tribe, On the trail of an Indian squaw, In his light canoe that was built for two Came drifting to the shore. "A lover's dart hit the white man's heart, From the girl of copper shade, For he was the chief of the pale face tribe And she was an Indian maid. Chorus. "You are red and I am white—that makes our love true blue For I know that you love me, and you know I love you. Let us stroll together 'neath the silvery moon When the twilight shadows fade And I'll crown you the lady of the pale face tribe My pretty little Indian maid."

Through the agency of J. A. Mills, a 238 acre farm near Oak Grove, belonging to William Coekerial, was sold to A. W. Bartlett of Grants Pass, who needs to Mr. Bartlett as part of the transfer, his 14 acre improved farm near Grants Pass. Mr. Bartlett will make his home on his newly acquired farm near Oak Grove. The value of the property in the exchange was such that $37.50 in revenue stamps were required.

The contract for the excavation of the McGilchrist square, State and Liberty streets, was let this morning to C. Van Patton. His bid was $653.25, with a specification that the work must be completed in 12 days. Lower bids were received, but Mr. Van Patton received the award on the proposition of completing the excavations in 12 days. The excavations are to be nine feet, four inches deep, and to include the entire lot, 82 1/2 feet on State street and the same distance on Liberty street.

The Elkhorn bridge across the Little North Fork of the Santiam is now completed, which will greatly shorten the distance between Mahama and Elkhorn. The road work between these places has not all been completed, but the contracts will be let within a few days and work commenced at once. C. S. Barkan, the contractor who built the Elkhorn bridge, was in the city Saturday evening, followed by a luncheon at the Elkhorn club, and the county court as to the remainder of the road work.

The American Defense Society of New York City has written Mayor White that Monday, December 6, will be celebrated throughout the country as "Defense Day," and will be observed by the mayors of the principal cities and governors of the states by appropriate exercises. The society asks the mayor to designate this date as flag day and to request the citizens to show the defense of our country, by the hanging out of flags.

No definite protest has been made by the Albany football team against the game played here with the Salem high school, in which Salem won, although it later developed that one of the Salem players, Cecil Sarff, was older than the rules of the association permits. As Sarff had always claimed to be 20 years old, his actual age was unknown to the coach, or any members of the team or principal, J. C. Nelson. As the matter now stands, no definite protest has been made and the whole matter is up in the air.

Mrs. A. L. Johnson, 1155 North Sumner street, is in receipt today of a letter from the wife of Captain Owen, of the English Royal navy, whose husband is at present stationed in Egypt, as director of army signals. Mrs. Owen is perhaps best known to this country as Ruth Bryan, daughter of the great Comptroller. It was while living in Cherry county, Nebraska, that Mrs. Johnson became the intimate friend of the Bryan family. Mrs. Owen is spending a few weeks in Egypt in company with her two a half year old son.

The board of directors of the Salem Social Service Center will meet tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock at the office of Judge Bushy. The meeting will take up the matter of giving assistance to those whose needs are urgent and who have appealed to the Social Service Center, and also a discussion of the winter's work. From the number of applications already received for help by the secretary, Ivan G. McDaniels, it is evident that the Center will have much more work before it than last winter.

Those who always associate Thanksgiving day with turkey and foot ball, will have the football served up on Wilamette field Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when the Salem high school plays Columbia university, of Portland. As a preliminary booster football rally will be held Wednesday evening in which the students will appear in fancy costume, starting at the high school and coming down town. The Thanksgiving vacation this year will include Thursday and Friday, and with the closing of the schools Wednesday evening, the pupils will be at liberty until Monday morning.

Marketing of farm products is the big question, not only in this locality, but in the far east as well. An inquiry was received today by the Commercial club from the Massachusetts Agricultural College, of Amherst, inquiring as to the relation of the club to the marketing of farm products. They ask, "What are the activities of the organization, especially with regard to markets and transportation?" Besides asking for practical information as to markets, they inquire as to what legislation the club had initiated or secured, with regard to standardization or the distribution of farm products. Evidently, Massachusetts is trying to solve, along with Oregon, the great problem of farm markets, and standardization and transportation of farm products.

WHAT GREEKS DEMAND.
Washington, Nov. 22.—Reinforcement of the Greek army with 500,000 Anglo-French troops, or an arrangement with Rumania for joint Greek-Rumanian invasion of Bulgaria are Greece's terms for joining the allies, according to a source very close to the Greek legation today. This source said Greece will be forced to choose between the allies and the Teutons within a few days.

Let Me See Your

If an hour's reading makes your eyes ache.

If printed matter occasionally "goes misty."

If you are obliged to stop work periodically to rest your eyes for a few moments.

If you find it easier to read nearer than the normal 12 inches, or further away than this.

If you can not recognize people across the street.

If you can not read street names easily or can not distinguish the time by public clocks.

If you have to make an effort to see clearly — knitting the brows for example.

If vivid light gives you pain in the eyes, or if you require more light than liberto.

My experience of nearly 23 years in correctly fitting glasses to relieve eye strain will be at your service. If glasses are not needed, I positively decline to supply them. I guarantee satisfaction in every respect.

I change your glasses for one year if necessary, free of charge. No extra charges for examinations. No drugs or drops used, as they are dangerous. All broken glasses replaced while you wait, at very reasonable prices.
