THAT RAILWAY TO MOUNT ANGEL

The Oregon City Enterprise printed the following editorial the other day which is of special interest to the people of Salem—especially its commercial interests:

"Many farmers along the line of the Willamette Valley Southern are compelled to work under a serious handicap in shipping to points to the south, and not through any fault of the local electric line. The Willamette Valley Southern touches the Southern Pacific at three points—Oregon City, Molalla and Mt. Angel, but at none of these places is there a track connection, owing, Willamette Valley Southern officials say, to the other road.

"When a Monitor farmer wants to ship a car of potatoes to Salem, that car must be hauled through Molalla, Oregon City and into Portland and then south from Portland on the Southern Pacific. Several times the direct distance between the two towns is covered before the car is delivered. If a transfer could be made at Mt. Angel, or even at Molalla, there would be a material reduction in the freight charge and that Monitor farmer would be much better able to compete in prices with potato growers in other counties. In his case, the shipping point and the place of delivery are in the same county, but to reach its destination the car of potatoes must travel through Clackamas and Multnomah counties and then back again.

"The immediate result to the Willamette Valley Southern would be a loss in freight receipts, but the officials of the line are broad minded enough to see that in the end the country would develop faster and the receipts be much greater.

"The matter is now before the state railway commission and a date for the hearing has been set. The point to be proven by those favoring the connections between the two lines is where the traffic over the connecting line would warrant its cost. A thousand farmers in Clackamas and Marion counties say that it will."

The proper solution of this difficulty would be the extension of the electric road from Mount Angel into Salem. It was expected that this would be done during the present fall, but President Dimick recently announced a postponement of these plans, owing to financial conditions.

Salem ought to have direct railway connection with the Mount Angel territory and much development would follow the construction of the road through Howell Prairie to this city. We do not know what steps, if any, have been taken by the Commercial Club to co-operate with the railway officials, but the project is well worth special attention, in order that it may not be longer delayed than is absolutely necessary.

An electric railway to Oregon City and Portland, via Mount Angel, would be a great factor in the growth of a very important part of Marion county.

THE SEED OF FORTUNE

Suppose that a man of twenty-one should make a vow to put away at least five cents a day, each day in the year, and not to touch his savings for ten years.

Do you realize that at the end of that time he would have $182.50 to his credit as the result of savings so small he would never miss them?

Many enormous fortunes have grown from smaller capital than this.

If one has good brains, energy and, at the age of 31, a capital of $182.50, there is no reason why at the age of 41 he should not have a very snug nest-egg indeed. The saving habit grows faster than the interest.

If, in addition, he happens to have the money-making talent, there is no reason why he should not be well started on the road to wealth.

The power of small things is one of the most important facts of life. It is absurd and illogical to despise and neglect the units, when there can be no tens and hundreds without them.

One penny may seem an insignificant thing, but it is the small seed from which fortune springs—that wonderful growth for which all of us long.

If one would have one of these wonderful plants for his own, if he dreams of sitting at ease under its branches in his old age, he must go about it in a rational way. He must treat that little disc of copper, one cent, as a true fortune seed deserves. He will not scatter and waste seeds so valuable but will plant them in soil which will foster them.

State Senator Strayer, of Baker, has a plan for compiling all the inaccuracies of legislation at the last session of the legislature so that they may be taken up at the next session and straightened out. That might be a good idea as tending to keep the legislators busy without enacting the usual mess of fool and freak laws.

Nebraska wants Justice Hughes to run for president, which is excellent confirmation of the report that Bryan has finally broken off the habit of running. Nebraska must have a candidate, even if she borrows one from another state.

An English medical authority says that eating apples improves the morals. It also improves the apple trade, for the greater the consumption the greater the demand, and that's what the growers look for.

The county courts of Marion and Polk seem to have reached the conclusion that the way to get a new bridge across the Willamette is to build it.

Bryan is president at last—of the Winona Chautauqua assembly.

LITTLE THINGS

Little horns of whiskey, little cups of beer, make a gent feel frisky as a tall roan steer. For a little season he feels passing well, and he sees no reason why he shouldn't yell. Then the peelers cart him to the village jail, and the judge will part him from his bunch of kale. If he has no money says the jurist, then, "Break some boulders, sonny, with the other men." There a while he'll languish, young man in the hole, while green streaks of anguish sizzle through his soul. Little drops of biters lend amusement brief, then will land poor critters in some kind of grief. If it isn't jailing it is something worse; ask the woman wailing round that pauper hearse.

Little steaming toddies, taken now and then, ruin minds and bodies of all kinds of men. For the more you swallow, they the louder cry, for some more to follow, which you can't deny. Little tots of brandy, little slugs of gin, show the short and handy way to be all in.

POLICE ON GUARD AT CAPITAL TUNNEL

Rumors of Bomb Plot Are Rife
But With No Confirmation

Washington, Nov. 23.—Extra police guarded today the railroad tunnel which runs beneath the capitol, and near the congressional library and the senate and house office building to the $20,000,000 union station.

Just what caused the extra precautions is known only in a general way, but persistent rumors indicated that the Baltimore and Ohio railroad had received letters indicating that a plan was afoot to blast the tunnel and destroy buildings around the capitol plaza.

Superintendent Koppel of the Terminal company said merely that the watch was established to be "on the safe side."

That the bomb plot is particularly extensive was indicated by a high railroad official's statement today that track walkers and section hands throughout the east have been turned into special guards to protect railway lines against bomb destruction.

FORD HOPES FOR PEACE

Washington, Nov. 23.—Henry Ford today told President Wilson that there is material evidence that a neutral nation's peace conference would be successful. What this evidence is, he declined to reveal.

Tomorrow Ford will visit Cardinal Gibbons at Baltimore and ask him to urge the president to inaugurate a world peace move.

McCALL NOW IN PORTLAND

Portland, Ore., Nov. 23.—Samuel W. McCall, republican governor-elect of Massachusetts and a presidential possibility is en route to San Francisco today. McCall arrived in Portland from his son's ranch at Prineville last evening, spent several hours at the guest of the Press club and then en-trained for the south. McCall would not discuss intimate politics.

Older Boys' Conference Meets Next Friday

The Older Boys' Conference to meet in Salem this week three days beginning Friday, is conducted under the auspices of the state Y. M. C. A. committee and the Sunday school association of the state. Those interested in the success of this conference feel this is a great chance for Salem to impress the young men with its hospitality and with Salem as the capital city, as the opinions of Salem formed by these young men will be carried to all parts of the state.

George F. Rodgers, chairman of the entertainment committee, feels assured that the attendance will run between 300 and 400. While many have responded to the invitation to entertain the young men, Mr. Rodgers is of the opinion that those who can take care of a member or two of the conference, should notify him, as there is a possibility of an unusually large attendance.

All meetings are open to the public and it is expected that the public will be sufficiently interested to attend. The session will close with the big meeting in the armory, Sunday afternoon.

Committed Suicide; Ruined By Lotteries

San Francisco, Nov. 23.—Awaiting instructions from relatives, the body of Gerald C. De Wolfe, who committed suicide because he had been ruined by playing the lotteries, was being held here today.

De Wolfe was a brother of Elsie De Wolfe, well known actress. He was separated from his wife who was a daughter of Judge David Wallace of Salinas.

A letter dated October 27, indicating that De Wolfe shot himself on that date, was found in the man's pocket. It stated that the lottery was to blame for his act.

EXPLOSION IN CANADA

Nobel, Ont., Nov. 23.—Five single story cordite storage buildings are in ruins today, the result of an explosion in the Canadian Explosives company, Ltd. plant. Meantime, officials are seeking an explanation of the wreck, which they incline to believe is due to anti-English agents. Men of the Overseas Contingent are on guard against further destruction.

EAT LESS AND TAKE SALTS FOR KIDNEYS

Take a Glass of Salts Before
Breakfast If Your Back
Hurts or Bladder
Bothers You

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out, they weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizzy, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithium and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney, flushing any time.

"An Unturned Cake" Subject of Sermon

The above was the subject of the junior sermon by Rev. Carl H. Elliott Sunday morning, the text being Hosea 7:8, "Ephraim is an Unturned Cake." The minister presented a pan-cake baked on one side only and asked the boys and girls to tell what was the matter with it. One girl said it was burned and it was a boy who hit it when he said, "It hasn't been turned."

Mr. Elliott then said that the text suggested the habit of only half-doing things and we ought to learn the importance of doing things well. He asked how many of the boys were allowed to come to Sunday school and church without their mother's looking them over to see that their hands and faces and ears were clean and only three of the lads held up their hands.

So many say as they skip their work, "This won't be seen," "that will do." A story was told of a man who carelessly laid the bricks in his wall, ignoring the admonitions of his fellow-workmen and the next morning his wall had fallen and he lost his position.

Doing things carelessly and indifferently is a kind of a lie as a great writer has pointed out. "Thoroughness is a Christian virtue."

The closing thought was that we ought to be thorough in our religious living and not make it a thing for one day of the week only but for every day; and not for one place such as the church but for every place we go; the school, the playground and the home. One of the boyhood friends of David Livingstone said to him one day, "Make religion an every day matter and not a thing of fits and starts, for if you do temptations and other things will surely get the best of you."

BRYAN IS PRESIDENT

Warsaw, Ind., Nov. 23.—Former Secretary of State Bryan was chosen today president of the Winona Assembly. He had agreed to take this post when the assembly re-established its financial standing. Re-organization is now complete.

CYCLONE DEVASTATES SICILY

Rome, Nov. 23.—Cyclones and widespread floods in Sicily were reported today to have killed many inhabitants. Casualties are said to be particularly heavy in Licata. Railroads are interrupted and wires are down, consequently details are lacking.

SCHMIDT MUST DIE

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Conviction of Hans Schmidt, one time priest, for the murder of Anna Amiller, his sweetheart, was upheld by the court of appeals today. Schmidt will therefore die in the electric chair.

TO MAKE HAIR CURLY
AND WAVY IN ONE NIGHT

Here is how your hair can be curled nicely, easily and harmlessly. Before retiring, apply a little liquid alimercine with a clean tooth brush. In the morning you will find the hair dried in just the prettiest curls and waves—and it will look and feel so natural you'll never think of going back to the bothersome way you've been accustomed to. You won't be troubled any more with hair stringing around your face—with burnt, uneven ends, nor with that dull, dead appearance.

Any druggist can of course supply you with liquid alimercine, and a few ounces will last you a long time. It is neither sticky nor greasy, and is really a delightful thing to use. It is doubly useful because of also serving as a beneficial dressing for the hair.

"If we Woodrow to safety's shore, let's have Woodrow four years more," says a Wise man of Astoria.
