Dismissed With Dishonor; Appointed Rear Admiral

(United Press correspondent.)
London, Oct. 26.—(By mail.)—Dismissed in 1910 with dishonor for losing his ship, Captain E. S. Fitzherbert has just been appointed a rear-admiral of the British navy, squarely against the traditions of the service.

Until the great war began the admiralty adhered strictly to the practice of demoting commanders who lost their ships through negligence and never granting them another command. Captain Fitzherbert lost his vessel, the cruiser Bedford, by stranding on the Korean coast. He was court-martialed and dismissed. Later he was allowed to re-enter the navy as a superintendent of contract-built ships. His success in this work re-established the admiralty's confidence in Fitzherbert and he is now in the high ranks of the service.

Rear Admiral Fitzherbert is a brother of Lord Stafford.

OLD AGE FINDS COMFORT

Beyond comparison in a correctly fitted pair of glasses.

In old age the chief source of enjoyment is the ability to read easily and comfortably. This is a privilege that should be enjoyed by everyone and good glasses make it possible.

If you are not now wearing glasses or the ones you have are not satisfactory it will pay you to come and see me at once. I guarantee you perfect satisfaction in every respect, if glasses will help you I will tell you at once.

I do not use drops or drugs in making examinations, as they are dangerous.

Fred Worthington, who has been in the county jail awaiting a hearing on a charge of failure to support his wife and family in this city, was released today upon an order from Justice of the Peace Webster. Worthington was released upon his own recognizance. His wife and family reside on North Commercial street.

While working on the top of a shed at his home yesterday afternoon, Judge Daniel Webster stepped on a board that failed to hold him, and fell to the ground, a distance of nine feet. Although the injuries are not serious, the judge is confined to his home and does not expect to be down town for several days.

Eastern Oregon Schools Showing Progressive Spirit

"The teachers of central Oregon are just as progressive and just as loyal to their profession as those of any other part of the state," said Frank N. Welles, assistant state superintendent, who has just returned to Salem after attending the annual teachers' institute in Jefferson and Sherman counties.

The new county of Jefferson held its first annual institute at Culver under the direction of Mrs. Lillian Watts, the county superintendent. The teachers were royally entertained by the citizens, and on the first evening of the institute were tendered a banquet by the ladies of the community. The last afternoon of the institute was devoted to a joint meeting of the teachers' school district officers of the county. The attendance was good.

Mr. Welles reports that every teacher in Sherman county was present at the annual institute for that county, which was held last week at Moro. Under the efficient management of County Superintendent P. E. Fagan a most interesting and instructive program was carried out.

According to Mr. Welles, the central Oregon country shows many signs of prosperity. Unusually heavy rains have recently visited that section, and crop prospects for next year are excellent.

WEALTHY RESIDENT OF BETHEL KILLS WIFE AND THEN SUICIDES

Happy Thanksgiving Runion at Hillman Home Disrupted by Tragedy

After eating a Thanksgiving dinner yesterday and while the guests were sitting in the room below Frank Hillman, a well to do resident of Bethel, near Amity in Polk county, called his wife up stairs, seized a rifle and killed her instantly and then turned the gun upon himself and inflicted a wound from which he died half an hour later. No reason is given for the tragedies as the Hillmans appear to have always enjoyed excellent home relations and no domestic troubles are rumored and the friends of the couple attribute the crime to temporary insanity on the part of Mr. Hillman.

Mr. Hillman is said to have been in good financial circumstances and had recently erected a new house and barn on his farm at Bethel, and it is estimated that he had an annual income of $6,000 from investments. A brother of Mr. Hillman, was visiting at the home from Portland, and there were other guests present when the tragedy occurred. Mildred Hillman, a 19-year-old daughter, of the couple heard loud talking in the upstairs room soon after her mother responded to her husband's call. The girl thought the loud talking was unusual and went to investigate. As she opened the door she saw her father with the rifle in his hands facing his wife. At the same instant he fired and shot his wife through the arm. She grappled with her husband but he pressed the muzzle of the gun against her head and the bullet crashed through her brain killing her instantly. Hillman then turned the gun upon himself and inflicted a mortal wound.

It appears that he did not know that he was going to die and it is reported that he told the bedside watchers that he regretted that he did not finish the job and kill the whole family.

Mr. Hillman came to Amity about two years ago and recently purchased a moving picture theatre in that place. He was formerly in the drug business in Spokane. The couple are survived by two daughters, Mildred and Neva, aged 19 and 16 years, respectively. Hillman was well thought of in the community and had just finished his degrees in the Masonic lodge at Amity.

Hillman's sister, Mrs. Charles Reichert, formerly resided on South Third street in Salem, and moved away last spring though she still owns property in this city.

of farm produce, besides four hives of bees. Since these sales have been under the personal supervision of W. S. Low, there has been an increasing interest, as the farmers have now become convinced that the sales are conducted right, and for their benefit. Tomorrow's sale is the fourth of the kind, and it is Mr. Low's intention to continue them every other Saturday, or as long as the farmers are interested.

Mabel West, the 15-year-old daughter of County Assessor Ben F. West, is reported to be convalescing rapidly from an operation for appendicitis and will be removed to her own home from the Salem hospital within a week.

Thanksgiving will be observed this year in the following Saturday morning, in the Children's room of the public library, Poupkins, and Indian corn, as well as the Pilgrim Fathers will have places on the program. All children from six to 12 years are welcome, and those who are out of time have the best seats and hear the best stories. The stories begin promptly at 9:30.

The upper floor of the new Both grocery building on Liberty street is about completed, with all plumbing, heating, cooking and cabinet fixtures installed. With the finishing of the work within a few days, the building will be ready for the Y. W. C. A. by the middle of next week. Contractors are today working on the concrete vestibule, which will be finished in red and white with the side walls tiled in white, with green borders. Mr. Roth expects to move into his new building about December 11.

Here is a chance for a young man who wants a good country home for the winter. The Salem Social Service Center has had an inquiry for a young man of good habits and one who is taken in as a member of the family. The farmer wanting help is a responsible man and is willing to pay fair wages, besides giving the young man a home for the winter. Any young man between 16 and 30 years of age who thinks he can fill the job, might apply to Ivan G. McDaniels, at the Commercial club.

The Knights of Pythias and the Maenbees will each elect next week

Hose of Luxite

The Man-Spun Silk

If it pleases you to pay a double price for your hosiery, continue to buy the product of the silk worm. But if practically all of natural silk's luxury at half its cost will satisfy you, buy Hose of Luxite. Luxite is spun by man in a large way, about as the worm spins silk in a small way, cutting the cost of the worm's work in two. It has the lustrous sheen of worm-spun silk, clinging softness and delightful faintness.

We sell Hose of Luxite because it is our policy always to offer our trade the best values obtainable. Hose of Luxite comes in every fashionable shade.
