OBITUARY

David McFadden, of 449 Capitol street, Salem, Ore., who passed away at the home of his son, Gilbert, in Portland, was born in Canada in 1840, came to Salem in 1870, residing here continuously until last September, when his sons took him to Portland to remain with them through the winter, he had been afflicted with paralysis for several years, but had seemed to improve with the change. The end came quietly and peacefully with slight warning. He was married to Sadie Chapman in 1873, had two sons, Gilbert C., a machinist, and Allan, an engraver, both of Portland.

He was a member of the old volunteer fire company, Capital No. 1, serving nine years. Private services were held at Mt. Scott crematorium at 7 p. m., Wednesday, November 24, a brief and impressive service was read by Rev. Olson. Cremation Thursday, November 25. Ericson funeral director.

Mrs. Annie Clark was found dead in bed yesterday morning at her home at Broadacres near Hubbard. She was apparently in good health on Thanksgiving day and her death came as a surprise to her neighbors. She was 50 years old.

Coroner Clough was notified of the death but no inquest will be held as physicians pronounced the death due to heart disease. Relatives will have charge of the remains and the body will be sent to a former home for interment.

SUPREME COURT WILL DECIDE WHO IS TO BE HIGHWAY ENGINEER

Contracting Firm Determined To Settle Legal Status of Controversy

Another step in the controversy between State Engineer John H. Lewis and the state highway commission was taken this morning when Mr. Lewis was served with a writ of mandamus from the supreme court to submit estimates from the supreme court to show why he could not comply with the demands of the writ. This will reopen the question of who is the boss of the state highway department and decide the legal status of the case in the supreme court. Lewis will answer December 4 in the supreme court and the date for the argument on the question will be set later.

The outcome of the former controversy when the state highway commission and Lewis were at loggerheads was that Lewis resigned, stating as his reason, that the department would be disrupted through lack of harmony if he continued as the head of the highway department as interpretation of the law by Attorney General Brown.

The matter came to light recently when Peterson & Johnson, contractors who have a contract on Columbia highway, refused to accept the estimates of Mr. Cantine on their work. They demanded that Lewis submit estimates. Lewis turned over all of his resignation when he resigned and his resignation was accepted by the highway commission and his bond was returned to him. He says he has no funds on hand belonging to the highway department and can do nothing in the matter.

The final decision of the supreme court will settle the question of whether the legislature meant to consolidate the two departments when they passed the law bringing them all under the state engineer's supervision and provided for a chief deputy or whether the law was passed simply to give the people the idea that the legislature was going to reform some of its consolidation pledges.

COURT HOUSE NEWS

A marriage license was issued today by the county clerk to Sanford Leach, a farmer of Vida, and Miss Emma Yoder, of Aurora.

ENCAMPMENT MARION COUNTY VETERANS

Second Meeting of Association Will Be Held In Salem Dec. 2

The second encampment of the Marion County Veteran association will be held in the Salem armory, Thursday afternoon, December 2, 1915, beginning at one o'clock. The members of the association will meet in the armory at ten o'clock for the purpose of getting better acquainted, and to partake of a picnic dinner at noon.

The members of this organization are composed of old soldiers, sailors, Indian war veterans, sons of veterans, Spanish war veterans, ladies of the Woman's Relief Corps and ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic. The afternoon entertainment will consist of patriotic songs and speeches from some of the ablest talent of the city; also instrumental music, readings, and chess exhibition from the public school. Mrs. L. R. Clark will give one of her best numbers of whistling melodies.

The program as sketched by the president is as follows: Song, America, by the entire assemblage, led by Mrs. L. R. Clark. Prayer, the Chaplain. Instrumental duet, corset and piano, Mr. C. V. Falkner and Daughter Miss Irene. Address of welcome, Rev. F. T. Porter. Responses by parties from Woodburn and Silverton. Instrumental duet, piano and violin. Officers reports. Solo, selected, Mrs. J. S. Pinnell. Spanish American War Veterans, Carl Abrams. Reading, by Miss Gladys Thompson. Sons of Veterans, Rev. Carl H. Ellett. A Whistling Melody, Mrs. L. R. Clark. Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic. Exercises from the school. Woman's Relief Corps, Mrs. Watson. Solo, Mrs. Watters. Rev. James Elvin. Music. Camp Fire Talks, G. A. R.

BOOST FOR CUMMINS

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 26.—Hundreds of republican and bull moose leaders in Iowa politics are arriving here today to join hands in organizing a campaign for Senator Cummins for republican presidential nominee.

Herbert E. Jory and Clarence C. Jory as sole executors of the estate.

District Attorney Ringo has been informed by George Neuner, secretary of the State District Attorneys' association, that there will be a meeting of all of the district attorneys at the office of Attorney General Brown December 17 to discuss the ways and means to enforce the 1916 prohibition law. There has been much speculation by the people of the state as to the enforcement of the new law and it is the plan of Attorney General Brown to start all of the district attorneys of the state out on the same basis and with the same understanding of the limits and possibilities of the law.

SPRING VALLEY NEWS

(Capital Journal Special Service. Spring Valley, Ore., Nov. 27.—Thanksgiving day has come and gone, with its many joys and many guests, of which Spring Valley had a number. Many also spent their Thanksgiving elsewhere with friends and relatives.

E. L. Bradford and family and Fred Purline and family were Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cal DeHappard in Salem.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Walling and Jesse, Jr., spent Thanksgiving in Salem with Mrs. Walling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jerman.

A short but enjoyable Thanksgiving program was given at the school house by the pupils under the direction of the teacher, Miss Elsie Taylor, on Wednesday afternoon. After the program the Parent-Teachers' association was re-organized, with R. C. Shepard, president, and Frank Crawford, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. C. A. Taylor, Miss Elsie Taylor and Mrs. Wayne D. Henry were appointed to make use of the funds now on hand, in purchasing books, pictures and perhaps an organ. Mrs. Harry Crawford, Miss Elsie Taylor and Frank Crawford were appointed on the program committee. It was decided that the society have a paper, with R. C. Shepard, editor, and Mrs. Will Crawford, assistant. The next meeting will be held on rally day, December 2. County Superintendent H. C. Seymour, Supervisor Parsons and another speaker, not yet decided on, will be present and a good program has been prepared. Come in the morning and bring lunch baskets, and make it a real rally day.

Frank Loose, James Inlath, Harley White and the manager of the Willamette hotel, all of Salem, have rented from Jesse Walling the lake, which is a fine hunting ground for ducks and geese. They spent most of Thanksgiving day here.

The Crawford Thanksgiving dinner, an annual affair, was given this year by Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Crawford. The table was tastefully decorated, with a pumpkin basket, filled with fir twigs and cones, fruit, candies and nuts, as the centerpiece, and smaller orange baskets at each place, which were marked by artistic cards done in crayon. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne D. Henry and Kenneth Henry, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Crawford and Aubrey Crawford, of Salem; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Simpson, Donald Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Crawford. After dinner a short Thanksgiving program was enjoyed in which all participated. Then old-fashioned visiting filled the day, until the time came for the guests to depart to their respective homes, wishing that Thanksgiving day might be stretched so as to contain a few more hours.

Miss Esther Newberry, of Salem, is spending several days here with her sister, Miss Eva Newberry. Mrs. Kate Coyle will entertain the Patrick family and relatives at dinner on Saturday, it being her mother's 84th birthday anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Will Crawford and son Robert were week-end guests in Salem, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Waterbury. Miss Dolly Smith, a teacher in the Garfield school at Salem, spent the Thanksgiving holidays here with her friend, Miss Elsie Taylor. They were formerly schoolmates at Monmouth Normal school. John Holland and Elmer Tompkins have been busy for several days in hauling Mr. Tompkins' household goods from Gaston to his farm here recently purchased from Mr. Sears. Frank Koch is employed at McCoy on the Idlehour farm, owned by Henry Dones. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Goodfellow left Sunday for the exposition, after which Mrs. Goodfellow will spend the winter in Florida visiting her mother. R. A. Looney and family have been spending the week with his daughter's family on a farm in Clackamas county. Miss Cora Cooley returned to her work in Batteville Sunday, after spending the Thanksgiving holidays here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Cooley.

A number of the Spring Valley young people drove over to Bethel Thursday evening to attend the basketball game, which did not take place on account of the grief felt in the community over the Hillman murder and suicide. Luther Wright returned to Salem Friday, after spending several days here with her uncle, W. L. Davis, and family. Miss Grota Phillips was out from Salem to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Phillips. Harold Jenkins returned to the university at Eugene Sunday, after spending the Thanksgiving holidays here at the H. W. Cooley home. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crawford returned Sunday from Portland, where they visited for several days with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Watson. Mrs. Canton is recovering from several days serious illness. A family dinner was held at the A. M. Patrick home on Thanksgiving day, the guests returning home Friday morning.
