Playing Tag Around Dead Man's Cart at Champagne

By William Philip Sims.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
With the French Army in Champagne, Oct. 25.—(By mail.)—“How can they stand it? I should think the soldiers living with Death and the Dead about them all the time would go insane.” One frequently hears that. The answer is easy. The men very quickly get used to it all. Take this example:
As our party returned to the motorcade today at sundown, the walking over the Champagne battlefield, two carts pushed quickly past us. On a canvas stretcher beneath the horse-shoe axle of each, lay a soldier, fully clothed. “Wounded” someone asked.
“Yes,” said an officer and changed the subject. But the soldiers pushing the carts were strangely careless with the wounded men. They walked rapidly and took no pains to keep the wheels out of the smaller shell-holes. The forms raked and pitched and swayed. The odd attitude of one of them fascinated me; he was on his back, his arms crossed before, but not touching his face nor touching each other. With every lurch of the cart his arms waved about rigidly and stuck just where they were.
A second man accompanied each vehicle and these two were “kidding” each other. The first threw a clod at the second and the second replied by flinging his metal helmet at the first. There was a burst of laughter and as the carts stopped to permit the pushers to mop their perspiring brows, the two youngsters—there were about 20—began to chase each other round and round the stretchers.
Mentime we drew up to the little procession. The soldier still lay with his arms crossed as though warding off a blow. The soldiers on the stretchers of course, were dead; killed the night before in the front trenches and now under cover of the twilight haze, a mixture of purple vapors and cannon

WHAT CAUSES COLDS?

This question is asked every day. A cold is really a fever, not always caused by the weather but often due to disordered blood or lack of important food-elements. In changing seasons fat-foods are essential because they distribute heat by enriching the blood and so render the system better able to withstand the varying elements. This is the important reason why Scott's Emulsion should always be taken for colds, and it does more—builds strength to prevent sickness. Scott's Emulsion contains Nature's rare strength-building fats, so skillfully blended that the blood profits from every drop. It is free from harmful drugs or alcohol. Sold at drug stores—always get the genuine.

consul here as the higher ups in C. C. Crowley's alleged bomb plotting was the suggestion conveyed by Consul Bopp today in a protest he had forwarded to the Washington embassy.
In this protest, the consul inferentially charged Preston with being pro-British.
The note charged that Preston offered to give immunity to Crowley if he would so involve the consul and vice-consul as to make it possible for Preston to connect up the case before the grand jury.
Bopp objected to the refusal of authorities to take bail for Crowley, offered by the attorney for the consulate. Moreover, he suggested that Preston's “treatment of the defendant increased in harshness and quite unreasonably so, as he reflected upon the connection of the defendant with the German consulate by way of employment.”
Further, Bopp claimed that Preston objected because the German consulate sought to present bail for Crowley.
It is believed that the protest will be called to the attention of the state department at Washington, with an objection that Preston's activities have overstepped the courtesies and exemptions granted to the representatives of a foreign government.
Meantime, subpoena servers have been unable to locate North German Lloyd authorities wanted as witnesses before the grand jury to tell what connection, if any, they had with receipt of funds from New York for supplying German commerce raiders at sea.
Louis J. Smith, said to be an important witness against Crowley, was slated to arrive here today and the federal authorities announced their intention of having a hearing on the Crowley case Friday.
It is understood that the department of justice has evidence implicating Crowley's alleged associates. Officials hinted that the situation “will bear close watching,” and even intimated that the case may develop into one more important than that of the alleged customs violations of the Hamburg-American officials at New York.

Information today indicated Robert Capelle, North German Lloyd agent here is in the east. He is wanted as a grand jury witness.

The New Discovery for Kidneys, Rheumatism and Backache Will Do For You?
Send 10 cents with name of this paper, to Dr. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., for a large sample package of “An-uric.” It will convince any one suffering from kidney, bladder, backache, that it is many times more active than lithia, and dissolves uric acid in the system as hot water melts sugar; besides being absolutely harmless, it preserves the kidneys in a healthy state by thoroughly cleansing them. It clears the heart valves and checks the degeneration of blood-vessels and regulates blood pressure. “An-uric” is an insurance agent against sudden death. Send to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N.
