On Tuesday evening the West Central Circle of the First M. E. church, held a "Grandmother Social" in the church parlors, entertaining the "children" as guests. An old fashioned quilting and barn-raising was announced in the following verse, one week before the social:

The grandmothers of our Circle West Want you at church in your Sunday best; The occasion will be a quilting and barn raising We are sure you will leave, our efforts a praisin' We want the children, also father and mother, You will have a good time, and us you will not bother, Ten cents will be charged at the door, This will admit both the rich and the poor, Children under ten will be admitted free If their elders come with them, our quilting to see, 7:30 is the hour, Nov. 20th the day, Proceeds—to help our pledges to pay, A jolly good time was had and much latent talent was displayed by the various grandmothers and aunts. Two little girls dressed in the quaint short-waisted frocks, and pantalets, lent an air of "days gone by" as well as Grandma Joe Baker, the inveterate snuff taker. Those on noisome were Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Secretary and Mrs. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McAdams, Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz, Mr. E. J. Raybmond, Mrs. C. C. Clark, Messrs. Barnes Burdick, James Hunt, Raueh, Young, Byars and the Misses Benedict and Raueh.

Several old time songs, remelies and recitations were given in a very clever manner by the men and women taking part. After the "barn-raising" every one was refreshed with doughnuts and coffee. The ladies have been asked to repeat the entertainment and if they do many more novel features will be added.

Miss Marguerite Flower, whose sympathetic and sweet singing, like the charming young lady herself, will give a concert in Marsh Hall at Pacific university, Forest Grove, Oregon, Friday, December the seventeenth. The concert will be given under the auspices of the Woman's club.

The Christian Woman's board of missions will observe C. W. B. M. day Sunday evening at the First Christian church with an excellent programme in costume.

At the Highland school Parent-Teacher meeting Wednesday evening, Mrs. Edyth Tozier Weatherford of the state fair board will have a part on the programme.

The committee were extremely fortunate in securing such an interesting speaker and she will undoubtedly have a message well hearing.

A pretty and simple wedding took place in the parsonage of the Christian church at two o'clock, December first, when Mrs. Laura Bogher became the bride of Mr. Jesse Martin. The Rev. Porter officiated.

It was a most impressive service and the simplicity of the affair was charming.

The bride wore an attractive, dark blue cloth suit and hat to match. Only a few close friends and relatives were present at the wedding. Mr. and Mrs. Martin will be at home to their many friends on Mr. Martin's ranch near Macleay after December the fifteenth.

The meeting of the Marion County Veterans' association held in the armory December the second, was a success in every particular. As early as nine o'clock delegations arrived and were met by the committee and escorted to the armory.

The time up until noon was spent in friendly converse and war time reminiscences. Promptly at two noon hour, the marshal, placing the department officers in the lead, conducted the entire assemblage to the dining room where the ladies of the W. R. C. and G. A. R. had prepared a delicious repast. After the jovial repast the entire assemblage retired to the hall and were entertained with an excellent programme.

Here is the programme: Instrumental duet, cornet and violin, Mr. C. W. Falkner and daughter, Irene, Song, America, led by Mrs. LaMoin Clark.

Prayer, Camilla Lyale. Reports of officers. Solo, Mrs. J. S. Finnell. Address of welcome, Rev. F. L. Porter.

Violin solo, Miss M. Levy, of Silverton. Responses by delegates from Woodburn and Silverton. Solo, Mrs. P. L. Watters.

Spanish American War Veterans, "The March." Solo—"My Own United States," Mrs. LaMoin Clark's class from the Highland public school. A patriotic address, Rev. James Elvin.

Reading, Miss Gladys Thompson. W. R. C. Mrs. A. E. Watson. Remarks by Mrs. Waud of Sawtel, California.

An entertainment will be given by the Silver Bell Circle No. 43, Women of Woodcraft, Thursday evening at eight o'clock, at the I. O. O. F. hall. Here is the programme: Music by the orchestra. Address of welcome, P. A. Moore, chief justice of the supreme court. Vocal solo, Miss Ermine Bushnell.

Reading, Charles Dillard, from the Anna Rogers Fish school of oratory. Address, C. C. Van Orsdall, grand guardian of the Women of Woodcraft. Vocal solo, Marie Bolinger McGilchrist.

Address, Miss Jennie Green, general organizer Women of Woodcraft. Reading, Beatrice Walton from the Anna Rogers Fish school of oratory.

Drill team Salem Camp No. 118, Woodmen of the World. Drill team Silver Bell Circle No. 43, Women of Woodcraft. Music by the orchestra. The public is cordially invited.

MILLER-COCKERHAM

A very pretty home wedding took place on November 25, at high noon, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cockerham, of McMinnville, when their daughter, Nora, was united in marriage to Brentford Miller, of Gervais, Ore.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. Northup of McMinnville, the ring ceremony being used. The rooms were artistically decorated with Oregon grape and chrysanthemums.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and chiffon with point lace and carried a bouquet of brides' roses. The bridesmaids, Miss Verna Beckstrum, of Portland, was gowned in blue crepe de chine and carried Cecil Brunner roses. The groom wore conventional blue and was attended by Horton Cockerham, brother of the bride. Miss Emma Cockerham, sister of the bride, played Lohengren's wedding march. A reception followed the ceremony after which a sumptuous five course dinner was served to about 30 guests.

They left for California Sunday, the 28th of November, to spend the winter. —Gervais Star.

FRUITLAND

(Capital Journal Special Service.) A. E. Simpson, of Warrenton, Ore., who has been visiting in the family of his daughter, Mrs. H. C. Bressler, returned to Warrenton for a short stay a few days ago, will return here soon. Mr. Simpson will probably remain at Fruitland during the winter.

M. M. Ransom and family visited friends in Salem Thanksgiving.

Some of the neighbors attended the prohibition rally at the armory in Salem a few nights ago. The attraction of course was Capt. R. P. Hobson, Spanish war hero. The captain is a pleasant speaker with a mellow southern accent. The address was well delivered replete with important statistics and convincing argument. The audience which filled the armory gave rapt attention interspersed with occasional applause.

Whether national prohibition will ever be reached in this country, it is bound to be a live issue from now on.

Mrs. H. C. Bressler is developing into an expert cleaner of land. Today she met with a slight mishap. The large pry with which she was in the net of dislodging a stump shipped (as prys are apt to do) and the good woman came to earth in perhaps not the most graceful manner. But as no one was looking and she was not hurt, it made no difference.

Mack Standifer and Henry Lungers are doing a job of ditching for Mr. Ramsdon in the McClay neighborhood. The school clerk took the district census last week. The enrollment is 62—33 boys and 29 girls.

One family not being able to send the children the mother who has taught school gives daily lesson to her children.

Henry Smith is planning to visit relatives near Marion in a few days. That Chicago doctor is being lambasted by some of the newspapers because he did not cut into a poor deformed baby preferring, I suppose, post mortem surgery. He did the proper thing thinks Doein Murr.

THE TWO MYSTERIES.

In the middle of the room, in its white coffin, lay the dead child, a nephew of the poet. Near it, in a great chair, sat Walt Whitman, surrounded by little ones, and holding a beautiful girl on his lap. The child looked curiously at the spectacle of death and then inquiringly into the old man's face. "You don't know what it is, do you, my dear?" said he, adding "we don't either."

We know not what it is, dear, this sleep so deep and still. The folded hands, the awful calm, the cheek so pale and chill; The lids that will not lift again, though we may call and call. The strange, white solitude of peace that settles over all.

We know not what it means, dear.

—WALT WHITMAN.

U. OF O. MAN PRESIDENT

Portland, Ore., Dec. 3.—Colvin V. Dymont, professor of journalism at the University of Oregon was this afternoon elected president of the newly created Pacific Coast Intercollegiate conference and John Stroud, graduate manager of the University of California, secretary.

this desolate heart-pain; This dread to take our daily way, and walk in it again; We know not to what other sphere the loved who leave us go, Nor why we're left to wonder still; nor why we do not know.

But this we know: Our loved and dead, if they should come this day—Should come and ask us, "What is life?" not one of us could say. Life is a mystery as deep as ever death can be; Yet oh, how sweet it is to us, this life we live and see!

Then might they say—these vanished ones—and blessed is the thought! "So death is sweet to us, beloved! though we may tell ye naught! We may not tell it to the quick—this mystery of death— Ye may not tell us, if ye would, the mystery of breath."

—WALT WHITMAN.
