Y. M. C. A. NIGHT IN CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
The Y. M. C. A. in Salem has many friends and supporters. Last winter it is estimated 150 men and boys visited the rooms every day and this year's record promises to be even better. Men from all walks of life are frequent visitors enjoying the benefits of this useful institution. But the local institution is only a very small part of a magnificent national organization.

In North America there are 2575 associations with a membership of almost a million men and boys. The property owned by the American Associations is valued at 85 million dollars. 4,077 men are employed as general secretaries and other paid officers. Last year 810 Associations paid for all educational work $1,070,900. 16,021 members are serving on religious work committees. 163,853 members are students in Association Bible classes. 447,351 members are enrolled in gymnasium classes.

These figures give us some idea of the activities of the Y. M. C. A. throughout the country. In order that the people of Salem may become more familiar with the work of the Y. M. C. A. in America, Sunday evening has been designated Y. M. C. A. night at the First Congregational church and all friends and members of the Y. M. C. A. are cordially invited to be present.

No officer of the Association in Oregon is more popular than State Secretary Rhodes more familiarly known to the boys as "Dusty Rhodes" and on Sunday evening he will deliver an illustrated address on the subject "Oregon's Biggest Good." Mr. Rhodes has one hundred slides of Y. M. C. A. work and workers that he will throw on the screen during his address.

The officers and directors of the local association are intensely interested in this meeting and assure the people of Salem that it will be well worth while to hear what Secretary Rhodes has to say. Physical Director Gingsrich and General Secretary Compton (and two men better fitted for the respective tasks and more popular can be found in any of the Associations) will be present and assist the pastor of the Congregational church in the exercises of the evening. The service will be held at 7:30 Sunday evening in the First Congregational church and everybody is invited and everybody will be cordially welcomed.

PROPOSED RAILWAY FROM MT. ANGEL

May Be Extended Over Route Which Will Leave Salem Out

The following railroad story from the Silverton Tribune will be of especial interest to the people of Salem: One of the possible railroad developments for the coming season, and one which would affect Silverton materially, is the extension of the Willamette Valley Southern electric line from Mt. Angel to Stayton and probably Salem by way of Silverton, Macleay, Shaw and Aumsville. It is known that influential citizens of the towns named have been working with that end in view, but no definite plans have been made as yet according to a statement made recently by Edwin Foster, traffic manager of that company. A survey was made several months ago between Mt. Angel and Salem via Lake Labish, and Mr. Foster admits that there have been strong inducements offered for the extension of the road in that direction, but nothing definite has been reached as yet. It is now certain and has been over since the road was started that it would go on to Salem, but it seems difficult to decide upon a route which will be most profitable to the company. To reach Stayton by way of the route proposed means a great volume of freight and passenger traffic for the company and it is known that there will be little between Mt. Angel and Salem by way of Howell Prairie. It would only benefit a syndicate now interested in the development of the beaver dam land at Lake Labish, and it is more than probable that the railroad company will extend the road in a way to bring permanent results. Business men of Silverton have been before the railroad officials many one or two occasions with this object in view, and while they have not been able to make it clear to the company that this is the best move, they have given considerable encouragement in the matter. Mr. Foster says the company is not asking for money with which to extend its road. All they want is a right of way, and it is said that this can be obtained without cost or difficulty through Silverton and direct to Stayton. The people of Stayton and vicinity have long been enthusiastic for a road and are willing to render all required aid to get one.

Waltr Branin, Manager of United Press Bureau, Killed by Street Car

Portland, Or., Dec. 4.—J. Walter Branin, manager of the United Press bureau in this city, was seriously injured early last night by a street car that he died two hours later in the hospital. Branin was on his way home and stepped out from behind a telephone pole to approach a car. His foot slipped and he fell in front of the car, being carried along for about 20 feet. Policeman Pratt, an eye witness, telephoned for an ambulance and Branin was rushed to the Good Samaritan hospital, where he died at 9 o'clock. Branin was about 35 years old. He was born at Slater, Missouri and raised in Lawrence, Kansas, where he learned telegraphy. He came to this city in 1902, where he secured employment with the Western Union Telegraph company, leaving that corporation in August, 1907, when a strike was called. He then joined the United Press as a telegrapher and later was promoted to the position of manager of the Portland bureau. Mr. Branin was a telegrapher of exceptional ability and was one of a number of fast readers sent to Caldwell and Boise, Idaho, to cover the Haywood trial. He was also sent to San Francisco at the time of the earthquake and fire in 1906 to help in clearing up the congestion of telegrams and news matter. Besides being a telegrapher and newspaperman Branin was a talented musician. He is survived by two brothers, Charles, of the Associated Press in this city, and Bert Branin, a railroad man of Auburn, Washington; his father, a Branin of Glacier, Washington; a widow, and one small daughter about two years old. He carried several thousand dollars insurance. Walter Branin was one of the best beloved and loyal employees of the entire United Press organization. His spirit and zeal was shown in a recent letter he wrote the United Press manager at San Francisco in which he declared "next to my family, the United Press has been nearest and dearest to my heart."

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY
Miss Hazel Bear, one of the popular seniors, Turner high school girls, was completely surprised at her home Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock when arising from the piano and going in search of a drink, to find an adjoining room full of high school students and friends. After games in which all told of how they had or would feel in 18, and music, the illuminated birthday cake was cut, a gold watch being found in its center.
Mr. Richard Gray, president of senior class, presented for the class and others a beautiful manicure set. More refreshments were served and afterwards, friends took leave voicing a pleasant evening and glad they were present to help Miss Hazel celebrate her eighteenth birthday.
