

Christmas Furniture Suggestions

It is always your aim to make as many of your friends happy during Xmas Time as possible. What would bring more joy to Mother, Sister, Brother, Father or Wife than a nice piece of Furniture to fill in the gap that every home will have. A library table, dining table, chair, rug, portable lamp, curtains, book case, fern stand: we could still go on and recite articles that would be a pleasure to the home and would make the recipient happy.

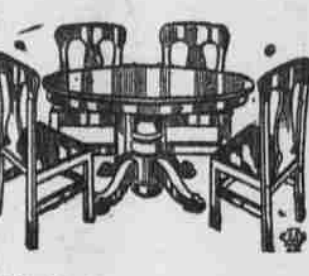

A Leather Rocker

for Father. What adds more comfort to a man's life after a hard day's work than a comfy rocker for Sister, during her study hours.

An ELECTRIC Portable LAMP

Diningroom Set

for Mother. Who takes more pride in the home than Mother? Help her.

The whole family would appreciate a Davenport—father might remember this little hint. Remember our store will always take care of you and give terms if terms are desired, and we will exchange goods if same are not damaged after leaving the store.

All In Readiness For Concert Wednesday

All is in readiness for the annual Y. M. C. A. Y. W. C. A. concert which will be given Wednesday night at the opera house. A final rehearsal will be given probably Tuesday night on the stage. Monday night soloists and members of the chorus are to have final practice in the association hall.

The solos this season will be particularly noteworthy because each singer was requested to pick out the selection he or she considered the best that singer's repertory. The result has been that the solos will be unusually fine. Solos will be rendered by Mrs. T. H. Galloway, Tom C. Ordemann, George C. L. Snyder, Frank Barton, Carl Gabrielson and H. R. White. The management is considering adding another to this list.

Architect F. A. Legg and Frank Barton are together working out the final details of the stage setting and lighting effects. The trellised terraces which form the main setting are now being constructed. Mr. Barton promises some novel effects in colored lights among the flowers with which the terraces are woven and gorgeous color will flood the entire stage during descriptive numbers on the program. Predictions are that this year's concert will outshine any of previous seasons in every way. Tickets are on sale at Patton's book store, the Commercial book store, George C. Wills' music house and at the offices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. Reservations of seats will be made at the opera house box office beginning Monday and the first there will have their choice of seats.

The complete program for the concert follows: 1—Curtain Raiser—"The Wedding of the Sunshine and the Rose." 2—Baritone Solo—"Armorer's Song." (De Koven) . . . Mr. Frank Barton 3—(An old favorite resurrected) "Come Where the Lilies Bloom." — Thompson . . . 4—Baritone Solo—"The Sunshine of Your Smile." . . . NEW CITY OFFICIALS.

The city election Monday aroused but little interest there being practically no opposition to the ticket nominated last week at the mass meeting. J. S. Sadler was chosen mayor, G. A. Ehlen and C. B. Brewer, councilmen; and A. Fry, treasurer. The vote in detail follows: For mayor, J. W. Sadler 27, S. A. Miller 1, H. L. Bents 7. For councilmen, G. A. Ehlen 33, C. B. Brewer 27, S. A. Miller 4, L. I. Snyder 2, Geo. Kraus 1, Geo. Wurster 1. For treasurer, A. M. Fry 33, Geo. Wurster 2, L. I. Snyder 1. Only the names Sadler, Ehlen, Brewer and Fry were printed on the ballot, the others who received votes not being candidates. The total vote was but 35—Aurora Observer.

MRS. W. W. GRAHAM DEAD.

Mrs. William Wallace Graham, formerly Lottie Hellenbrand of Salem, passed away at her home, 602 Holly street, Portland Saturday afternoon at about 2 o'clock. She was about 35 years old. She was the wife of William Wallace Graham, the well-known violinist of Portland and Salem, and is survived by two small children, William Wallace, Jr., and Virginia, aged about 8 and 6 years, respectively. Mrs. G. A. Ehlen of this city was among those who attended her funeral at Mt. Pleasant Monday—Aurora Observer.

WOMAN SENATOR QUITS

Roseburg Review "I will not be a candidate for reelection to the office of state senator at the next election under any circumstances," was the statement of Miss Katherine Clarke, of Glendale, when interviewed by a Review representative over the long distance telephone this morning. "I have no definite reasons why I decline to become a candidate for reelection," said the lady senator, "but I just don't want the honor. I served the people of Douglas county in the senate during the last session of the legislature, and I feel it my duty to decline reelection. I was certainly treated with great courtesy by the legislators assembled at Salem last winter, and I wish to thank the people of this county for the honor they bestowed upon me."

TURNER PUBLIC SCHOOLS

The Turner public school is one of the most busy places in this section of the county, as one enters the building and goes from room to room he is impressed with that wonderful intensity with which students and teachers are working. The visitor may go to the library, the laboratory, the study hall, or visit the chapel and he is confronted with the tremendous effort that is put forth. Each pupil is earnest about his work. There is no affectation. Some of life's problems are being met and solved.

As one begins to look for a cause of all this earnestness and work he finds that he is still in the midst of a spirit of enthusiasm which is even reaching beyond the school building and grounds and it is soon found that the people of this district voted last June to have a standard high school and that the physical apparatus for the teaching of science has been installed, that a standard library of over 250 volumes has been purchased in addition to the New International Encyclopedia which consists of 24 volumes, and that tables, chairs and other equipment have been added to show the people's earnest intentions to establish a standard high school.

There are 14 students attending the high school from other districts than district 79. One of the striking features in the enrollment this year is that the boys outnumber the girls in every room. There are 53 boys and 42 girls in the school at the present time. The attendance this year has been the best that it has been for years, almost reaching perfection. The efficiency report which contains the highest averages in each grade came out last week. This report is for the month ending November 26 and is as follows: High School. Seniors—Arthur Salisbury, first rank, 94 1-3; Emma Hohl, second rank, 94. Juniors—Ivan Hadley, first rank, 94; Meryl Smith, second rank, 93. Sophomores—Gladys Wirsing, first
