THE MARKETS

The wheat market is showing signs of a strength in Portland and Chicago as a result of the large orders for flour received from England. On account of lack of shipping facilities, this has but little effect on the local market and the prices today holds at the 80 and 82 cents.

Cranberries are scarce and dealers predict higher prices. The egg situation remains the same, with prices from 35 to 37 cents according to cash or trade.

AFTER SIX YEARS

Salem Testimony Remains Unshaken. This is the best test of truth. Here is a Salem story that has stood the test of time. It is a story with a point which will come straight home to many of you. P. W. Brown, farmer, 1399 State St., Salem, says: "Three years of mill-wright work in a damp atmosphere disordered my kidneys. I often had lameness and soreness across the small of my back. When having an attack, I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and got a supply. They removed the backache and soreness, together with other symptoms of kidney trouble." (Statement given Jan. 31, 1906). After a lapse of more than six years, Mr. Brown said: "All I said recommending Doan's Kidney Pills when I publicly endorsed them before, holds good. I see them occasionally when I have symptoms of kidney complaint and I never fail to get quick relief. Another of the family has also used Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney weakness and has had the best of results!"
Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Brown has twice publicly recommended. Foster-Milburn Co., Props. Buffalo, N. Y.

STATE NEWS

Albany Herald: Probably the biggest single shipment made this season, a carload of clover seed valued at $13,000, is on its way to Chicago from Albany. It was shipped today by M. Senders and company. It contains 82,000 pounds of seed and is the last of over half a million pounds of seed shipped by this firm this season. The shipment is mostly red clover.

East Oregonian: One September 30 five crates of China pheasants were liberated in lower Canas valley on the ranches of Mossie, Hilbert, Clark, Huston and Mettie. These birds had suffered much from their long trip from the Clackamas game farm, especially during the latter part of the trip which was made from Pilot Rock by stage. However, 55 out of the total of 60 birds in the five crates were alive when liberated, and from the number of birds that can now be seen it is known that there has been very little loss since then.

Coquille Sentinel: Last Friday the railroad at Schroeder's crossing, four miles south of Coquille, became impassable owing to the high water, and the sinking of the track, but on Saturday the trains were running again. The trouble is said to be due to the fact that the rock for a fill there had been taken from Beaver Hill, and has been smoldering for weeks from spontaneous combustion—increase as the statement may seem. This honeycombed the fill so that by the time it had been soaked by the high waters it collapsed and the track dropped 18 inches.

Banden World: That conditions for the stockmen in the hills south and east of Banden are quite favorable at this time and that they look for a moderate winter for cattle on the range, is the information brought here by M. W. Treadgold, an extensive stock raiser of Upper Four-Mile country, who was in the city on business yesterday. He stated that the few warm days of the past week has already had a wonderful effect on the grass, which is growing rapidly. Stock at the present time, in his vicinity, at least, is in an average shape and it is believed will make the winter without much loss.

Klamath Falls Herald: F. W. Snyder, one of the big stockmen of the Great Lakes valley section, leaves in the morning for Kentucky where he will select a carload of pure-bred short horn cattle and a registered short horn bull, which he will ship to his Klamath county ranch for breeding purposes. Mr. Snyder will return about Christmas, and will bring the carload of cattle with him, which will be placed at once on his ranch.

Oregon Tider: Bound for Grays Harbor, the government dredge Colonel P. S. Meigs left Portland yesterday afternoon. She will be employed during the winter in improving the channel at the Washington port. The dredge left Coos Bay about two weeks ago, ostensibly to put in at Portland during the winter. It is not determined whether she will be employed on bar work or inside on the channel.

Medford Sun: Bears are reported to be numerous in the hills, and the varmints are just beginning to "sole up" for the winter. The bear signs of the past 10 days has made tracking fine.

East Oregonian: County Clerk Frank Saling, during the month of November, paid bounty on the scalps of 91 coyotes and two bobcats. During the year the state and county have paid out more than $6000 in bounty for coyotes killed in Umatilla county.

Marshfield Sun: The highest tides of the winter occurred this week and from all quarters of the bay and tributaries come reports of damage to dykes. In this city one of the Puget Sound Bridge and Bridging company's lighters got under a section of the Bennett wharf in the north end of town and lifted it into the sky until it looked like one of the Egyptian pyramids. The decks of several of the docks in town were under water.

The Dallas Chronicle: Roses in December, and they are beautiful, too. California boasts of her winter roses, so well night The Dallas too her own born a little. With snow covering the ground today, crimson rose buds are bursting from bushes in many gardens. The roses are unharmed by the late frosts and are as hardy and beautiful as those of early spring.
