ENGLAND BUYS WHEAT

Chicago, Dec. 22.—Huge export sales helped lift the wheat market yesterday to a new high-price record for this season's crop.

Closing quotations were buoyant at 1 1/2c to 3c net advance, with December at $1.24 and May at $1.24 7/8@1.25. Corn gained 3/8c to 3/4@7-8c and oats at 3-8@1-2c. Provisions finished with losses of 10c to 1 1/2c. Latest figures on export wheat business today put the total at 3,000,000 bushels, as against 1,750,000 bushels on the day before. In consequence, the market underwent no permanent reaction in favor of the bears, and wound up at virtually the topmost point of the session. The British government was credited with being the heaviest purchaser today. Assertions were current that the railroad congestion in the east appeared likely to be remedied soon, and that the result would be to facilitate to a large degree the export movement of wheat.

After Half Hour Jury In Chinese Case Disagrees

After half an hour of deliberation the jury in the trial of the Chinese accused of gambling brought in a verdict of disagreement and was discharged by Judge Elgin at 7 o'clock last night. The foreman of the jury, Cooke Patton, stated that they found it impossible to agree on a verdict and that the ballots of the jury stood as they were on the first ballot and the probabilities were that they would continue that way if the hung out all night. The vote was five for acquittal and one for conviction.

Of the six Chinese who appeared for trial but five were tried as it appeared from the evidence that Lee Jim was not in the room when the police made the raid but was in the front room and refused to open the door. Lee Jim said at the trial that the door did not belong to him and he had no right to open it and he left it for the police to break in. The case against him was dismissed.

Leon Gong, Chin Tai, Lee Yiu, Wong Ling and Ung Lung Chung all testified as to a matter of Chinese book-keeping and said that Chin Tai was merely paying a bill that he owed to Leon Gong and that another Chinese had made up the total of $24.80 found on the table. They introduced a Chinese account book in evidence and Tai also had a receipt which was introduced in evidence.

The Chinese claimed that they were not gambling and that Gong who is the proprietor of the store was only collecting some money due him with the aid of a counting machine and that the fan tan lay out was just an ornament to the table.

GRANDMA NEVER LET HER HAIR GET GRAY

Kept Her Locks Youthful, Dark, Glossy and Thick With Common Garden Sage and Sulphur

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 50 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use tonic called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and luxuriant. You will also discover dandruff is gone and hair has stopped falling.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur and look years younger.

Stock Grazing On National Forest Reserve

Portland, Ore., Dec. 22.—According to the annual report of the secretary of agriculture, there were grazed last year on the National Forests under pay permits, 1,724,000 cattle and horses and 7,300,000 sheep and goats. Several hundred thousand head of milk and work animals were grazed free of charge, and more than 3,000,000 head of stock crossed the forests, feeding en route, also free of charge.

To show the increased use of the forests for grazing, the secretary states that during the fiscal year 1905 there were only 692,000 cattle and horses and 1,514,000 sheep and goats on approximately 85,000 acres. The number of animals now sustained in proportion to the area of the forests is 50 per cent greater than it was 10 years ago. Since 1905 the number of persons holding grazing privileges has increased 300 per cent. This can be attributed principally to wider use by settlers and small stockmen.

According to the report, the greater part of the summer range in the western states is in the National Forests. Under the regulated government system the forage is utilized fully, without injury to tree growth, and with adequate safeguards against watershed damage. It is stated that the productivity of the land for forage in most places has been restored and everywhere is increasing; the industry has been made more stable; stock comes from the forests in better condition; range wars have stopped; ranch property has increased in value; and a large area has been made available through range improvements. It is probable, so the report states, that 100,000,000 pounds of beef and mutton are sold each year from herds and flocks occupying the ranges. That the forests have promoted the development of the stock industry is indicated. This is as predicted by stockmen and they are urging that a similar system of range regulation be extended to the unreserved public lands.

The secretary concludes by stating that it is not merely the stock industry that has been benefited. The grazing privilege has been so distributed as to promote healthy community growth, increase settlement, prevent monopoly, and diffuse prosperity. In other words public control has served social as well as economic ends.

Colonel House' Mission Kept Profound Secret

Washington, Dec. 22.—Efforts today to learn the nature of the announced mission of Colonel House of New York on an errand to Europe for President Wilson proved fruitless. House himself declared it was not a peace expedition; he explained it as merely to assuage American diplomats abroad with the president's policies.

But back of this statement, many feel lies a strong possibility of a peace mission. Those holding this view to the fact that both England and Germany have said they are ready for peace, with a big If. Both admitted they do not desire to make overtures; hence, said certain parties, President Wilson may be seeking to sound out the belligerents again through his confidential agent and friend.

Many authorities felt House really is to be the man to sweep aside the If—which, in short, is a disinclination to initiate peace overtures, lest they be interpreted as weakness.

Not a Peace Mission. Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 22.—President Wilson confirmed today Colonel House's statement that the House mission to Europe is not one of peace. Otherwise the president refrained from comment.

It is understood, however, from the president's recent attitude, that he will make no peace advances until he receives intimations that they will be welcomed.

The paper adds that the lists are published in the form of small newspapers and comprise 10,610 small printed pages. Printed as a book they would form 45,000 pages, or 100 volumes of 450 pages each."

STATE NEWS

Klamath Herald: "I don't know of any purebred short horns in this section," said Mr. Snyder today. "There may be a few, but I am convinced that they are a good stock to introduce here. They are good for beef as well as dairy purposes, and I don't see any reason why we shouldn't have more pure bred cattle in this country. It is an ideal stock country, and I believe that Klamath county should be able to furnish the coast with pure bred stock. I have great faith in the short horns, and I intend to demonstrate their value to this section."

Baker Democrat: This month bids fair to set a record in the matter of bonuses paid on coyotes in Baker county, as the new law in effect the first of the year provides for the payment of only $1.50 instead of $3. It being the last chance to get the $3 bounty, trappers and hunters are making their best efforts now and a big lot of coyote pelts is the order these days at the office of the county clerk.

Medford Mail: The Rogue River Canal company, the Southern Oregon Traction company and the Imperial water development at Ashland have paid out and are yet paying out large sums of money to laborers for work on their respective projects this fall. Altogether will aggregate half a million dollars. Suppose we had the best sugar factory, a big sawmill, a box factory and two or three large fruit and vegetable canneries in the village also, to carry large payrolls, wouldn't time be better? Those who feel the need of such industrial and commercial enterprises most acutely ought to be foremost in waging a campaign of aggression for them. Are they?

Oregon has 78 steam laundries, employing 1969 people, besides the 74 proprietors and members of the firms. There are 150 salaried employees and 1745 wage earners. Capital employed is $1,669,217 and $1,139,059 was paid for services in 1914 and $335,166 for material. The amount received for work done was $2,146,968. This is according to government bulletin just received.

Arguing for a community Christmas tree at Sumpter, the American says: "A tree placed in the square at the junction of Granite and Mill streets could be decorated so that with the surrounding snow it would be a beautiful sight. Nature has made it possible for Sumpter to surpass most other towns in getting up a Christmas tree, and we surely will not let it go by for lack of community spirit."

Veneta, Lane county, is attracting the attention of business men and capitalists, according to the Veneta, which says: "Hunter & Pratt have received no less than eight inquiries during the past week from as many different druggists who are figuring on finding a good location. It looks as though we would be able to find a good one out of the bunch. Bankers, too, are becoming quite interested and are making numerous inquiries."

A beginning upon the campaign for a winter community house or coffee club for Pendleton has been made, the Associated Charities appointing a committee to meet with other organizations and "devise some means of opening a wholesome substitute for the banished saloon."

Reporting, with approval, the city council's refusal to enact a curfew ordinance, the Canyon City Eagle says that "they regarded the idea of ringing a curfew as obsolete, as the old custom posting notices on telegraph poles, old buildings and the front of the Eagle office."

Von Papan Goes Home Is Glad to Leave Us

New York, Dec. 22.—Sailing for Germany today under recall, at America's request, Attache Von Papan of the German embassy thanked "those who have not permitted their friendly personal feelings to be poisoned by the hatred of war," and added that "no efforts, however insistent, will accomplish our enemies' desire to embroil Germany and America."

"Personally speaking," he continued, "no greater satisfaction could be given me than this fulfillment of my ardent desire to be called home where soldiers are needed far more urgently than here. I leave my post without bitterness, because I know so well that when history is written it will establish our clean record, despite misrepresentations and calumnies spread broadcast."

In the course of his talk Von Papan quoted an editorial comment which said: "Now that the matter is settled, the fact should be emphasized that the state department made no changes against Boyed or Von Papan which reflected in the smallest degree upon their honor as officers."

Pittsburg Bank Closed School Children Hit

Pittsburg, Pa., Dec. 22.—The Pittsburg Bank for Savings was ordered closed today by the state banking department. Many persons lined up clamoring for their deposits. The bank rated as having $10,000,000 in deposits.

Receiver Getty said the bank closing did not reflect on the management, and that it was due to embezzling of Kuhn Brothers' securities on the institutions two years ago following failure of Kuhn enterprises.

It is not known yet as to what extent the bank will be able to pay depositors, many of whom were school children.
