OPEN FORUM
His Views on War, Cops and Duties of the Press.

Editor Journal: I did not raise my boy to be a soldier. We are confronted with war news continuously these days. We are also provided with facts and that which is not facts, concerning things incident to the last and greatest war the world has ever seen. Why all of this miscegenation by the newspapers? Why is Henry Ford so censured, is it possible that our would-be statesman like some little school, sees a light going on and wants to get in? It seems that this is the case; I am judging from happenings in congress at the present time; never in the history of the United States were we more in need of statesmen than at the present time. Whether or not we have got them at the head of our government remains to be seen. The following is carried out will prove to some of us that we have them: Stop making billions of rounds of ammunition and millions of guns and shipping them to Europe for them to fight us with later. Let congress make it plainly known to the gun and ammunition manufacturers that this government will not tax its good people to keep their factories running; that they have now increased the capacity of many fold. After the European war, our battle ships, standing army, conscription, spells change.

I do not believe that the American people will stand for compulsory service in the army and our senators and congressmen who advocate such a move ought not and I believe will not be returned to Washington. It is the duty of this congress to make an immediate move for peace between the warring nations. The interests of the moneyed kings of this nation should be thrust aside. The greatest and best statesmen of our nation should be formed on a committee for international peace, and should be unanimously endorsed by our press. Our government should be ready to overlook any small error that might be committed by the warring and neutral nations while peace is being established, Sherman's version of war is right—(War is Hell). No one realizes just what war is unless he is there. We do not want war and if this congress acts properly we will have no war or no need for a great standing army. Large armies and preparedness for war means ruination of civilian life, it means that we will be subjected to the moneyed powers.

It means high taxes and low wages.

Germany Regrets Incident Papers Make No Comment
By Carl W. Ackerman. (United Press Staff Correspondent.) Berlin, Jan. 4.—Regret is almost universally expressed here over the sinking of the P. and O. liner Persia while heroic efforts were in progress to repair Teuton-American relations. No information concerning the nationality of the attacking submarine is obtainable and officials refuse to comment upon the incident until a report has been received from the commander. The newspapers today carry English reports of the sinking with English reports of the effect the incident has produced on America. The German papers, however, retrained from comment of their own.

MARASCHINO MUST GO
What will the merry widow sundae look like without the beautiful red maraschino perched on the top-most peak? You have just one more day in which to satisfy your fondness for the pretty cherries, because when prohibition comes in Oregon the maraschino must go.

These tiny CAPSULES are superior to Balsam of Toluca, Gelsolin, and other remedies. They relieve in 15 MINUTES the same diseases without inconvenience. Sold by all druggists.

It means that issues necessary to the good of our citizens are lost sight of for the uniform and altogether it means a bloody war. It means further the loss of our liberties, the loss of free speech and free press. Let us hope that our congressmen and senators prove themselves worthy of the high offices our people have entrusted them with. Let us also hope that the press refrains from venturing those who are working so hard for peace, and turn their efforts toward the domestic side of life where their help has been sorely needed many years past, and would be highly appreciated. Always bear in mind that the statistics show that eight-tenths of our population are obliged to labor for a living. Only a standing army and conscription will prevent these people from demanding consideration by those they have elected to serve them, and if they are wise they will take time by the forelock and prevent that which is destined to forever keep them in bondage. W. H. DALRYMPLE.
