COAST LEAGUE CLUBS AND THE SUNDAY LAWS

Think Games Will Be Permitted---Taft Will Sell "Cubs" --Other Sport News

San Francisco, Jan. 5.—Pacific Coast league club owners today intimated, just before they went into the second session of the annual schedule meeting hat they are not worrying much over he possibility of Portland being closed ight on Sundays.

The magnates are relying on public sentiment in Portland to pull through the Sunday games, and if it is neces-sary, it is likely the $50 fine per offense will be paid if the ban is put on Sunday

The coasters went into session today without John Powers of Los Angeles, and last night by business engage-nents. As usual, it was found difficult o arrange a satisfactory schedule, and it is expected the magnates will spend a greater part of the day poring over the arious schedules proposed.

SUNDAY CLOSING LAW WILL NOT BE ENFORCED

District Attorney Ringo said this morning that he would make no effort to enforce the rigid provisions of the Sunday rigid provisions of the Sunday closing law in Marion county towns until the people had an opportunity to pass upon the measure at the polls. The law will be referred to the people at the next election and should the vote of the people be in favor of rigid Sunday closing then the district attorney will enforce the letter of the law.

enforce the letter of the law. "In Salem," said Mr. Ringo, "the town has always been or-derly on Sunday and I see no reason why the state law should be enforced to the letter on Sunday closing since the city ordinances do not require it. Of course if complaints are made it will be my duty to enforce the law of 1861 but unless com-plaints are made the Sundays in Salem will remain under the same laws as in the past." Winter of Ghastly Horrors

By William G. Shepherd.
(United Press staff correspondent.)
Monastir, Servin, Dec. 24—(By mail.)
— Balkan soldiers suffer more than those of any other nation. How the Bulgarians, the newcomers, will conduct their medical corps, remains to be seen.
Winter imposes almost insurmountable difficulties on an army in the Balkans owing to the few roads and the almost incessant mud and rain. The Germans
Small Trial Bottle of Old and the Austrians, with their automo bile ambulances, have dodged the hard est and worst parts of Servia. The German line extends down into Servia only 50 miles and the Germans seem satisfied with that. There is little chance of their coming further. The Austrian line reaches only slightly deeper into the little ally country. The Austrian line reaches only slightly deeper into the little ally country. The Austrians and the Germans appear to have the single intention of connecting with the Bulgarians, if possible in the northeastern tip of Servia and avoiding the Bad Lands. But the Bulgarians will have not such easy going. Their wounded and siek must be carried on springless wagons drawn, oftentimes by oxen which plod through the kneedeep mud in a slow and dismal procession. Some of the difficulties that will be faced by the Bulgarians may be measured by what I have seen along the roader day what I have seen along the roader day what I have seen along the roader day when the standard of the skin.

Some of the difficulties that will be faced by the Bulgarians may be measured by what I have seen along the roads near Monastir and in the hos-pitals here. Most of the Servian wounded suffer from gas gangrene, owing to the lack of attention imposed by the long, slow cart journeys. Small wounds that would have meant only a week in the hospital if prompt medical attention could have been given, are killing men with pain or poison. American as well as Servian doctors are helpless against gas gangrene. Quimae is being tried in Servia now and wounded men are being given doses almost unbelievably large and potent and the doctors fancy that the gas gangrene victims are helped slightly by the new treatment. Explosive bullets are another cause of horrible suffering in the Balkan fight-ing. Not content with sending a bullet through an enemy, the Balkan battlers often use bullets that explode. Let one of these bullets strike a bone and it creates in the flesh all the havoe of a miniature Jack Johnson shell, actually shedding and spattering flesh in all di-rections from the person of the unhappy target. All of a leg or arm below the target. All of a leg or arm below the point where an explosive bullet has struck, the bone may as well be amputated, for the bone will be splintered, the flesh blown away and was gangrene imminent. In the hospital here is a farmer boy who was hit in the right arm and leg by a bullet which came from above him. The bullet exploded in the leg, shattering it, and the leg was taken off by the doctors. Gas Gangrene set in in the arm and that too was amputated. Fees Show Increase In Officers of County Clerk and Recorder

The increase in business in Marion county is indicated by the increase in the fees in the offices of the county elerk and the county recorder. The books of Mrs. Mildred Brooks, county recorder, show a profit of $2,27.82 after salaries and expenses are paid.

In the office of the county clerk, Max Gehlhar, the books show a profit of $3,000 to the county after the running expenses are deducted and during the past three years the office has a credit of $5,000 on the right side of the ledger. Four years ago the office of the county clerk required all of the fees received to run the office and $1,000 yearly additional.

CATARRH CAUSED BY A GERM

Must Be Desixoyed Before Catarrh It-self Can Be Cured. Wonderful Results From Breathing Medicated Air

Medicine that acts on the blood alone thereby gains the doubtful distinction of having lost a leg and an arm by one small bullet. The world is likely to hear little this winter of what is going on in Servia because the fog of war which covers actual fighting grounds obscures much that the world ought to chrow. But the Servians will be suffering incredibly, as will also the invaders who enter the heart of the country.

Medicine that acts on the blood alone will never cure catarrh. And neither will the sprays, douches, lotions, creams and other temporary reliefs that so many catarrh victims make a habit of using. To cure extarrh so it won't come back vou must first drive from your body the millions of germs that are flourishing in the inner recesses of your nose and throat and are causing the disease.

There is a preparation used to this called Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me.) Hyomei is a germ killing va-porized air formed from the purest off of Eucalyptus combined with other healing and antiseptic ingredients. druggist, insist on getting the pure, original Haarlem Oil in Capsules.
