Catarrh is as much a blood disease as scrofula or rheumatism. It may be relieved, but it cannot be removed by simply local treatment.

No More Examinations For Teachers Who Have 15 Hours in Education

The certificate laws of 1911 provided that in order to teach in a high school of this State, an applicant must hold a life certificate based upon an examination, or must have been graduated from a standard university or college and must have completed 15 semester hours in Education.

At the time this law went into effect, June 1911, very few universities or colleges were prepared to give the 15 semester hours in Education, and applicants were, therefore, permitted by this department to make up this work by private study and correspondence courses, and to take an examination in the proper subjects.

Since that time, the universities and colleges have been organizing departments of education and are now so well prepared to offer courses in this work that the Superintendent of Public Instruction has been requested by the following institutions to discontinue the examinations in Education and not to grant a high school certificate to any graduate of a standard college of university unless said graduate has completed in such standard college or university 15 semester hours in Education.

The colleges making the request are: University of Oregon, Oregon Agricultural College, Reed College, Albany College, McMinnville College, Willamette University and Pacific University. The departments of education in these colleges, as well as the other standard institutions throughout the United States, are now so organized as to give students who expect to become high school teachers, special preparation for this work.

To grant the same certificate to those who have not taken this work, would be unfair to those students who have spent a good proportion of their college course preparing to teach, and it is for this reason that the colleges are making the request.

This department has granted the request, which means that after June, 1916, no certificate to teach in the high schools of this State will be granted to the graduates of a standard college or university unless the applicant has completed 15 semester hours in Education.

"School boards, employing teachers from other states," says Superintendent Churchill, "should, therefore, be sure first that the applicant is a graduate of a standard university or college, and that he has completed 15 semester hours in Education. If an applicant is employed who cannot qualify under the laws of Oregon, it causes embarrassment to the applicant and school board as well as to this department. I am enclosing a list of the standard colleges of the United States. There should be added to this list Pullman College of the State of Washington."

WORK ON SILETZ ROAD Tuesday evening about 50 workmen arrived over the Oregon Electric from the north and remained in the city overnight, going the next morning to Hoskins where they had been ordered to report for work on the Valley and Siletz Railroad.

These men are to complete an unfinished part of the work on the south end then later be transferred to the north end to construct the railroad into this city. This makes two crews of workmen that have been dispatched to the other end of the road this week and from present indications the work will be rushed from now on.—Independence Monitor.

THEY REFUSE TO EAT

At periods in most children's lives they fail to relish their meals and refuse to eat even the delicacies prepared to tempt their appetites. They lack ambition, and growth seems impeded, which causes anxiety and worry.

To compel them to eat is a grave mistake, because nutrition is impaired. Healthful exercise in fresh air and sunshine is important, but equally important is a spoonful of Scott's Emulsion three times a day to feed the tissues and furnish food-energy to improve their blood, aid nutrition and sharpen their appetites.

The highly concentrated medicinal food in Scott's Emulsion supplies the very elements children need to build up their strength. They relish Scott's—it is free from alcohol.

Farmers Union and Grange Members to Combine Interests

Corvallis, Ore., Jan. 10.—An agreement on federation has been reached by representatives of the Oregon State Grange and Farmers' union in their conference at the Oregon Agricultural college.

The newly organized federation is to work for a scientific system of marketing, a practical system of rural credit, amendments to make effective Oregon land registration laws and to adopt and put into effect any program that promises to promote the welfare of the agricultural interests of the state.

Neither of the federating organizations is to interfere with the other in its particular field, each will do its own work as in the past.

A marketing program will be attempted through a system of local farmers' exchanges, constructing or purchasing elevators where justified, if supported by one or more of the local unions or granges.

Annual congresses will be held, preferably at the Agricultural college on farmers' week. A league council will be organized in each county, composed of a local delegate from each grange or union. The league is to meet monthly and direct the federated work in the county, and elect delegates to the annual congress.

The basis of representation in the congress has not been definitely fixed.

Ford Peace Delegates At Vegetable Sanatorium Because Hotels Are Full

By Charles P. Stewart. (United Press Staff Correspondent.)

The Hague, Jan. 10.—Correspondents in the Ford party today were compelled by reason of shortage of hotel accommodations, to put up at a vegetable sanatorium. There they were smokeless, liquorless, and meatless. But they had plenty of nuts, cereals, and vegetables.

Rev. Jenkin Lloyd Jones predicted today that the permanent peace tribunal will be established at Stockholm instead of here on account of the more friendly feeling toward the project manifested in the Scandinavian city.

CLEVE SIMPKINS AND REX TURNER INDICTED ON LARCENY CHARGE

Grand Jury Jointly Charges Young Men With Larceny of Public Money

Rex Turner, an attorney of this city, and Cleve Simpkins, now a student of the University of Oregon, were jointly indicted by the grand jury at its recent session on a charge of larceny of public moneys. The indictment grew out of the charges that were made at the close of the last state fair when it was charged that Turner and Simpkins had been reselling tickets to their own advantage. Turner was a ticket seller and Simpkins collected the tickets at the gate.

At that time Simpkins was arrested and it is alleged made a confession implicating Turner and one or two others but only Simpkins and Turner were indicted by the grand jury in a secret indictment returned Saturday afternoon. Neither were taken in custody.

Simpkins' parents reside at Hopewell and Rex Turner is the son of F. A. Turner, the supreme court reporter and a well known attorney of this city. He is a practicing attorney in this city and a graduate of the University of Oregon. Simpkins is a graduate of the Salem High school and is a Senior at the University of Oregon.

The penalty attached to the crime of larceny of public money is from one year to 15 years in the pen and a fine of twice the amount taken. The crime of larceny of public moneys is a separate issue from petit larceny and the amount of money taken does not set the measure of the crime.

Simpkins and Turner were arrested by Sheriff Esh today and both men put up bonds of $500 each which sum was fixed by the bench warrant.

OPEN FORUM COUNTY AGRICULTURIST

To Capital Journal: Commenting on the article written by "Americans" of January 6th, will take issue to some parts of his arguments. As to Judge Bushey, will say he was placed in a very trying place as he would be blamed if he did and he blamed if he did not. As to the organized attempt to secure a jury plan, will say I should have been there but for sickness, as I felt it was my interest as well as the interest of our county to have the office of agriculturist retained.

Next he quotes Judge Bushey as being in favor of Marion county not producing at full capacity which I don't believe the judge will stand for.

Why are certain influential city dwellers so much interested in encouraging larger crops on farms?

Perhaps because they recognize that what is to our interest is to theirs also. Why were the returns to producers uncertain and usually unprofitable although crops were bountiful?

"Americans" gives the reason as too much profit for the merchant and consumer. Now did it ever strike you that the kind and quality of our produce had a great deal to do with prices? For example, I exhibited at the corn and potato show, and I sold all of one variety of potatoes I had at $1.00 per bushel, and could have sold one hundred bushels more if I had had them. And they were the old standard Early Rose. Now are we raising too much of the too little by this case?

In regard to market conditions here, "Americans" has that down pat and they certainly need fixing and us farmers are the ones to help fix them.

AN OREGON CUSS.

Doings at Liberty.

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Liberty, Or., Jan. 8.—During the recent snow a band of Liberty hunters composed of Claud Carson, Walter Dorman, Carl Gibson, Charles Biekaugh, Lyman McDonald, Ray Gilner, Harry Shaw, Mr. Coursey of Salem spent three days hunting coyotes. They succeeded in getting ten of the little furry animals and captured a couple alive at the conclusion of the third day's hunt a big coon roast was held at the residence of Mr. Fred Hoffman, after which Mr. Coursey rendered a few selections on his mandolin, although being somewhat sore, stiff and chewed up they reported a fine time.

The masquerade dance given by Charles Ramp at the Ramp hall New Year's night, was a delightful success. About forty-five being masked and after a hard decision by the judges the prizes were given to Mr. Harry Hoffman as the best dressed man. Miss Laura Wagner as best dressed lady, Mr. Carl Gibson best comic character, Mr. Oris Hoffman winning the boogie. The dances conducted by Ramp are making a hit with both young and old and a big crowd and a good time are always assured on January 29, when a big leap year dance will be given.

POULTRY SHOW WILL BE GREAT SUCCESS

Finest Exhibition Ever Seen In This City Opened This Morning

With the show room crowded to overflowing with some of the finest specimens of poultry in the northwest, the Marion County Poultry association will open its doors to the public tomorrow morning, two doors south of The Capital Journal office, in the room formerly occupied by the Maples.

The admission is free, thanks to the generosity of the commercial club, this being the first time since the association was formed, that no admission charge has been made.

Those responsible for the development of the exhibit this year are: Geo. E. Shaw, president; Mayor Harley O. White, vice-president; Walter H. Smith, secretary-treasurer; G. M. Vorhis, assistant secretary. The executive committee, some of whom will be in charge of the exhibit at all times, is composed of H. S. Carter, W. E. Park, G. E. Shaw, Eugene T. Prescott and John Cornforth.

B. E. Keeney of Eugene the judge, will be here early tomorrow morning and by evening all awards are expected to be made.

The general standard of the poultry on exhibition is much superior to that of the seven other exhibits, according to George E. Shaw, the president of the association. Seven Panama-Pacific exhibition exhibitors have entered and many blue ribbon birds of other shows are here for the final try-out.

Among them are several beautiful penciled and laced Wyandottes exhibited by Henry Domes of McCoy, E. J. McClanahan, of incubation fame, is also here with his Barred Rocks. A fine string of White Wyandottes is being exhibited by Walter Dowling of Salem, who has taken many blues with his birds. Mrs. M. O. Ashbell has a fine exhibit of Buttercups which have taken their share of blues at former shows.

The young exhibitor is Miss Gertrude M. Sorenson, who shows a fine exhibit of Black Cochins Bantams. Several fine specimens of White Leghorns are shown by H. S. Carter, which have won elsewhere this season. George Speight, of Hubbard, is showing his Black Minorcas which won at the San Francisco exposition.

The honor of contributing the greatest number of birds is due to Henry Domes. The total exhibit of all kinds will number about 400.

Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner, superintendent of the state hospital, has furnished an up-to-date colony house, 8 by 12 feet with an open front, the style best adapted to this country. This house has been placed in front of the show room. The city administration, wishing to co-operate with the poultry show has permitted the use of the street for this purpose. Mr. Wilcox, superintendent of the poultry at the state hospital, has been secured to give caponizing demonstrations each day. He is an expert in this line and many will doubtless be interested in the details of this work. These demonstrations will be given each day by Mr. Wilcox.

The Oregon state hospital has on display some fine specimens of the Oregon breed developed by Professor Dryden of the O. A. C. Much has been heard of this new breed and much interest will center on this exhibit.

While no charge will be made for admission, yet the membership fee is only $1 and Secretary Smith would not object should those who are interested in Poultry and poultry shows show their substantial interest by handing him this amount.

Old Horse of Troy Story Is Re-enacted

Paris, Jan. 1.—The nearest thing in this war to the famous Horse of Troy is told of in a French soldier's letter from a base hospital at the front. It was a wooden cow in this case and thereby hangs the story of how the soldier happened to be in hospital.

The French trenches at this soldier's particular part of the front were fifty yards from the German trenches. A harmless old cow relieved trench monotony each day by grazing the lines. The French and German soldiers finally came to an understanding that the opposing lines should alternately have the opportunity of milking the cow and be immune from attack during the operation. This went on for some time until a French officer suspected that the Germans were using their milking time for spying purpose and ordered the next German milking party to be fired on.

The French soldiers thereupon built a wooden cow, as near as possible a counter-part of the real one, and put a machine gun inside to await the German milkmen. The soldier who relates the story took his station inside the cow and was successful in slaying three Germans as they approached with milk pails. Having fulfilled his mission the soldier prepared to slide his wooden cow back to the trench when he was interrupted by a terrific shock. The cow was smashed to pieces. The soldier succeeded in escaping, though wounded. That is how he happened to be in the hospital.

COURT HOUSE NEWS. REPORT MANY CASES OF RHEUMATISM NOW. Says We Must Keep Feet Dry; Avoid Exposure and Eat Less Meat.

J. K. Cauthorn, one of the jurors in the stool damage case against the Southern Pacific was unable to report on account of illness this morning when court was convened at 10 o'clock and the case was continued until Wednesday morning. The arguments of the attorneys in the case will be made at this time.

William Porter, who was indicted on a charge of larceny from a building, was arraigned in the circuit court this afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty. His trial date has not yet been set. Jesse Austin, who was indicted on a charge of converting to her own use property held in trust by her for the benefit of another, was also arraigned before Judge Kelly and entered a plea of not guilty. Mrs. Austin lives in Arizona and Sheriff Esh made a trip to that state in connection with this case. The controversy arose over the settlement of an estate and it is charged in the indictment that Mrs. Austin appropriated to her own use $200 that was held in trust for Kate Cooper. Mrs. Austin's bond was fixed at $500 and her trial set for February 21.

The case of Sherm Swank against Mart T. Moisan and J. M. Moisan was called in the circuit court today before Judge Kelly and the selection of a jury began. Mr. Swank brought suit to recover $750 alleged due on a promissory note and in addition asked $75 as attorney's fees. The Moisans in their answer allege that they gave the note in an auto trade. In their answer they state that they owned a Maxwell automobile worth $200 which they traded to Swank for a five-passenger Maxwell and gave the note for $750 as the difference. They say that they depended upon the statement of Mr. Swank that his car was a 1912 car and worth $600 but they allege that it was worth only in several places and not worth more than $350, and in addition was not a 1912 car but a 1911 model. They allege that for being out of order the car depreciated $200, for being a 1911 car was worth still $200 less by loss of time they were damaged in the sum of $150 and their car was worth $200 which totaled $750, the amount of the note, and they ask that the suit be dismissed. W. C. Winslow is attorney for the plaintiff and William P. Lord for the defendant.

An inventory and appraisement in the estate of Mathias Cooley was filed in the probate court today. The real property of the estate is valued at $1,300 and the personal property at $11,569.30, making in all $12,869.30. The appraisers were J. P. Warnock, F. Callister and Louis Wolfard.

Marion County Principals Hold Meeting Saturday

The Marion County Principals' association and the Marion County Athletic association were formally consolidated at the meeting held Saturday. To bring this movement properly before the county teachers, the following committee was appointed: C. H. Engy, of Silverton; Elbert Powell, of Brooks; and Mabel Abee, of Shaw.

Before going into regular session, the members of the principals' association attended the lecture of Dr. H. D. Shelton, of the University of Oregon, who spoke on "Perception and Apperception." The next lecture will be given Saturday, February 5, and the next meeting of the Marion County Principals' association will be held the 15th of February.

For the athletic association, the following committees were appointed: By-laws, H. M. James, of Silverton; arrangements for meet, F. S. Gannett, principal of the Washington Junior high school, of Salem; prizes, J. V. Pike, of Hubbard; baseball, W. C. Gault, of Stayton; track, R. L. Pfaff, of Woodburn; anding, T. E. Wilson, of Turner.

Portland is told it must have Sunday baseball or none at all. Whatever happens, Portland cannot be much worse off than it was last summer.

Swamped

When a man's efficiency is on the decline—when after a long day of effort the mass of work still stares him in the face—it's time to find out what's wrong. Frequently a lack of certain necessary nutritive elements, in the daily diet, lessen mental and physical activity. A prime factor in efficiency is right feeding. No food supplies, in such splendid proportion, all the rich nourishment of the field grains, for keeping the mental and physical forces upbuilt and in trim, as

Grape-Nuts

Made of whole wheat and malted barley this famous pure food supplies the vital mineral salts, often lacking in the ordinary daily diet, but imperative in building sturdy mental, physical and nervous energy. Then, too, there's a wonderful return of power for the small effort required in the digestion of Grape-Nuts, which, with cream or good milk, supplies complete nourishment.
