Lamar Tooze Writes of Trip On Peace Ship Frederick VIII

By Lamar Tooze.

(Student representative, University of Oregon, on Ford Peace Mission.)

Aboard Frederick VIII, near Kirkcubbin, Scotland, Dec. 16.—(Special to the Capital Journal).—The good ship Frederick VIII with 24 members of Henry Ford's second peace party aboard is now well within the war zone.

Since leaving New York a week ago we have, with the exception of our wireless communication, been isolated from the world.

The Virginian is one of many merchantmen that have been converted by the British into patrol vessels. This entire coast line clear to Iceland is guarded against possible invasions from hostile fleets.

Everything favorable the Frederick will arrive in Christiania, Norway, by Sunday. We expect to join the first Ford party there and continue with them to the Hague.

The Pacific coast is well represented in this party. Due to the long trip across the continent and the difficulty in securing passports, only two of the coast representatives made the Oscar.

There are about 30 student representatives in the peace mission, representing the principal colleges and universities of the United States.

When I left Eugene some two weeks ago, I had slight ideas only concerning the methods by which Mr. Ford is attempting to bring about peace in war-torn Europe.

I find that the other members of this party are uncertain also. I don't believe Mr. Ford himself knows exactly how the thing is to be done.

We are hopeful for two reasons: First, because of Mr. Ford's demonstrated ability in the past to perform that which he set out to do, and second, as expressed by Dr. Aked, of San Francisco.

They have played a few games for practice and to pick out the best players, but in all outside games have been defeated.

The county road near the Luckiamute river is in bad condition due to the recent floods caused by the melting snow.

The Valley and Siletz Railroad company have resumed operations on their railroad into the Siletz Basin country.

Flumers and stock raisers in this section last quite a few sheep and goats during the recent snowstorm.

Mrs. Martin, mother of Mrs. Paul Tacheron, of near this city, passed away at her home north of Monmouth on Saturday morning, January 8.

The normal was represented at the state teachers association in Medford last week by President J. H. Ackerman, Miss Rosa B. Poirer, and Mr. M. S. Pittman.

Just when the normal students were leaving for this vacation, those staying at the C. G. Griffa residence gathered around Mr. and Mrs. Graffa.

The "Come-back" man was really never down-and-out. His weakened condition because of over-work, lack of exercise, improper eating and living, demands stimulation to satisfy the cry for a health-giving appetite and to refresh sleep essential to strength.

Monmouth, and its third snow of the season on Saturday night and Sunday morning. The snow all melted as fast as it fell except in the hills west of the city where the snow lies about six inches deep.

HIGHWAY COMMISSION ASKS FOR MORE LIGHT IN ENGINEERING CASE

John H. Lewis Joins With Board In Seeking to Settle Controversy

The State Highway commission has asked the supreme court for a further interpretation of the recent opinion of Justice Bean on the state highway engineering tangle and McNary & McNary have filed a petition to this effect with the clerk of the supreme court.

The petition asks for a rehearing in the case but actually desires only a further interpretation in the matter and additional argument by attorneys may not be necessary.

State Highway Engineer John H. Lewis stated today that he would join with the board in petitioning for a rehearing as he desired that the matter be entirely cleared up on all points in the interests of efficiency and harmony in the department.

The petition filed asks for a rehearing on three points as follows: First—Admitting the repugnancy of the latter part of section 3, chapter 337, laws of 1915, to section 20, article 4, of the state constitution, yet does the former portion of the statute remain a complete and constitutional enactment?

Second—Considering both chapter 337 of the laws of 1915 and chapter 339 of the laws of 1913, is the duty of the actual road construction imposed upon the state engineer? The commission holds that it is not.

Third—Is the deputy state engineer responsible to and under the direction of the state engineer, or is he the creature and answerable to the state highway commission? The commission holds that the latter is the meaning of the law.

STRIKING AND RIOTING

Niagara Falls N. Y., Jan. 10.—Clubs and stones broke many windows in the "smelter plant" of the Aluminum company of America's three plants when pot workers today went on strike for more pay.

The theft was committed a month ago, presumably in San Francisco.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant relief from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

FORESTRY NOTES

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Portland, Ore., Jan. 7.—On the Alaska coast the salmon packers, towns, and settlers use 40,000,000 feet of timber a year from the Chugach and Tongass National forests.

It is estimated that 100,000,000 pounds of beef and mutton are sold each year from herds and flocks occupying the National forest range.

Timber trespass on the National forests is no longer important in amount or character. The incentive has been largely removed by the availability of National forest stumps under free use or reasonable terms of sale.

New trespass cases are usually the result of unintentional error in regard to title or the location of boundaries.

A million and a half railroad ties are now cut from the National forests yearly.

The number of animals now sustained on the National forests in proportion to the area, is 50 per cent greater than it was 10 years ago.

The forest service is co-operating in game protection under definitely agreed plans with the states of Arizona, New Mexico, California, Oregon, Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, Colorado, Montana and South Dakota.

VALUABLE JEWELS STOLEN

San Francisco, Jan. 10.—Theft of $26,000 worth of jewels from a sealed trunk expressed from Overbrook, Pa., came to light today when special detectives and secret service agents confessed themselves baffled at the mysterious robbery.

The trunk, which was owned by Lieutenant Commander William P. Crown, U. S. N., gave no evidence of being tampered with.

The theft was committed a month ago, presumably in San Francisco.

Better than Tittle's Punctured Romance.

"Barbara Fritchie," a thrilling photodrama in five gripping acts, in which little Mary Miles Minter, the "sweetest flower of the screen," appears in the stellar role, will be shown at the Ye Liberty theatre today only. In addition to Miss Minter there are half a score of notable stage and screen artists in the supporting cast, including Mrs. Thomas W. Whiffen, Guy Coombs, Anne Q. Nilsson, Franine Fraunholz and Wallace Scott. Miss Minter made an instantaneous success in her last Metro feature, "Emily of St. Pierre," and is well remembered by theatre goers throughout the country for her marvelous performance in "The Little Rebel," in which play she was starred for three years. "Barbara Fritchie" was produced by the Popular Plays and Players for exclusive release on the Metro Program.

Wants Callous Conscience So Quits University Work

Correspondence Student Desires No Prickings When He "Tramples Upon the Faces of the Poor."

University of Oregon, Eugene, Jan. 10.—Because he fears a university education will give him a good conscience, one student in the correspondence-study department has quit. What he wants, he writes, is "a callous conscience and a slumbering pity."

Correspondence-study letters are confidential and so the name and home town of this student are withheld, but here are his sentiments:

"I realize that with a college education my conscience might interfere with my life's ambitions. These ambitions are to get rich, no matter by what method; to secure fame, even at the cost of a million souls; to trample upon the faces of the poor and make the rich bow before me. In the realization of these ambitions, I need a callous conscience and a slumbering pity."

The student then remarks that he understands the main purpose of higher education to be the instilling of culture, the development of character, and cultivation of social usefulness in young men and women.

"By so doing it is claimed the university benefits society as a whole, which claim seems founded upon substantial fact," he writes. "College men and women have a broader and deeper view of life, so that social service appeals to them."

"But it appeals to me," he protests. "A higher education might cause some virtue to be inculcated in me that might perhaps cause a guilty conscience to prick me. Therefore, I say, I must avoid such a deterrent."

He thereupon withdraws from further study.

MONMOUTH NEWS

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Monmouth, Ore., Jan. 10.—The city council met in the council chambers at 8:00 p. m. Monday evening, in annual session, for the purpose of installing officers elected at the last city election, hearing annual reports of the recorder and treasurer read and transacting business carried over from the last meeting.

There were present: Mayor P. H. Johnson, Councilmen H. C. Osteln, James Goodman, W. J. Miller, Recorder D. E. Stitt, and Treasurer W. E. Smith. Several sidewalkers were ordered in at once.

The normal was represented at the state teachers association in Medford last week by President J. H. Ackerman, Miss Rosa B. Poirer, and Mr. M. S. Pittman. Two members of the faculty were honored by election as officers in the departments of the state association. Miss Parrot as secretary of the Council of English, and Mr. L. P. Gilman as chairman of the department of Science.

Just when the normal students were leaving for this vacation, those staying at the C. G. Griffa residence gathered around Mr. and Mrs. Graffa asking them to hold a box, the contents of which they were not allowed to see until after the girls had given the normal yell. To their surprise and great delight the box was found to contain a very nice set of silverware.

The meetings at the Christian church are growing in interest under the leadership of the minister, George C. Ritchey, and assistant evangelist, A. W. Shaffer. Rev. Ritchey is preaching sermons this week more direct to the members of the church than to those of the world. The choir under the direction of Mr. Shaffer is growing in numbers and power in singing gospel songs. On Friday evening the "Smile Chorus" led the singing. Many of the boys and girls of the city responded to the invitation this week and joined the chorus.

The Capital Journal's Great Clubbing Offer With Premier Farm Paper

Each and every reader of any periodical or newspaper has chosen in his or her own mind a periodical or paper that was considered better than all the rest. If you pick up that article you know exactly where to look for the news you want. Upon a daily sheet the front page is reserved for the ripe news of the world. Further on you find that gleaned from the separate localities surrounding the news office. Other space is reserved for the advertising, maritime, society, editorial and other news. Just so runs the paper of your choice. You consider the writers of that paper just a little better than those of the other papers or you wouldn't have the paper. You consider the make up and general character of that special sheet also of a better grade.

Now we, The Daily Capital Journal, have been in the position of a subscriber in regard to agricultural papers.

We have tried to select that periodical which to our notion, stands at the zenith in the nature of a farm paper. We have held a clubbing arrangement with the Western Farmer for some time past. Since we accepted the clubbing offer the Western Farmer has so far exceeded our expectations, and continued to grow better, that we are proud to still continue to offer it to our subscribers.

Remember, a copy of the Daily Capital Journal and the semi-monthly Western Farmer for the price of the single subscription to the Daily Capital Journal. This offer applies to old and new subscribers alike.

The price of the Daily Capital Journal is $3.00 per year by mail. That of the Western Farmer is $1.00 per year. The two papers may be had for the single price of $3.00.

Remember also, this is not where we are going to give you something for nothing. No man or firm on earth could do that and stay with it any length of time. But, we have set aside a certain sum from the subscription price that sum goes to the clubbing arrangement.

We believe that the readers of the Daily Capital Journal are interested in farm matters, also that if they pick up a farm paper they want to learn something. The staff upon the Western Farmer are considered experts in their line. These are the kind of men from whom we care to learn.

If you want to get out of the old rut and learn other experienced men's views on fruit, dairying, farming, gardening, poultry and berry raising besides other items of general interest in agriculture, then you want a paper like the Western Farmer in your home.

In the Daily Capital Journal the subscriber will receive a daily newspaper that is without a peer. The Capital Journal covers all the news of Marion and Polk counties, having the largest number and best collection of country correspondents of any newspaper in this section. The correspondents send in the items from your own neighborhood. The news of the city and of the county court house is gathered up carefully and accurately compiled, so that the subscriber receives each day, in addition to the telegraphic country news, a complete resume of the county seat happenings.

Editor E. E. Faville of the Western Farmer is secretary of the Washington Pure Bred Livestock Association, and also secretary of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana Swine Breeders' Association.

With a complete daily paper and a farm periodical in your home the home is complete. Consider the matter. Send in your subscription.
