SPRING VALLEY NEWS
(Capital Journal Special Service.)

Spring Valley, Ore., Jan. 14.—Mrs. Wm. Davis and daughter, Velta, went to Dallas Tuesday for a few days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Seiverson.

C. A. Taylor was in Salem Tuesday having dental work done.

The children of W. S. Cotton arranged a pleasant surprise for him on last Thursday evening, his sixty-first birthday, inviting in a number of friends to spend the evening. The time was pleasantly passed in conversation, music and games. Refreshments were served at a late hour.

The Parent-Teachers' association met at the school house on Friday evening. Only a small crowd was present, owing to the stormy evening, but those who came felt well repaid for the effort.

The paper "The Bugle," edited by Mrs. W. N. Crawford and R. C. Shepard was ably gotten up. Especially amusing were the take-offs on members of the community contained in the verse entitled "The Alphabet," in which very few were omitted. We are all waiting anxiously for the next issue. Yes, anxiously, for who knows what it may contain? It behooves ye all to be of a sober and upright countenance "For the Bugle'll git you, if ye don't watch out." R. C. Shepard's reading of "I Jest Chawed One" received such an appreciative response that he had to respond with another humorous selection, "O'Grady's Goat." Then followed an old-fashioned spelling bee, the honors going to Miss Taylor, the teacher, and then a cyphering match. Altogether, the evening of old-fashioned diversions was much enjoyed. Another meeting will be held on Friday evening, the twenty-first, for which an altogether different program is being prepared, and a good time promised all who attend.

Harvey Crawford went to Dallas Tuesday morning where he was summoned for the jury.

Mr. Lucy French and Miss Oran O'Flynn of Salem, were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James French.

Eleven young people from here attended the meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association at the Lincoln school house Saturday evening. There was a program and cyphering match. Refreshments consisting of coffee, sandwiches, sauer kraut and "weenies" were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Crawford are receiving congratulations from their friends on their winnings at the Salem poultry show, where they entered some of their fine Barred Rocks. In hot competition they received first, second, second cockerel, first, second and third hen.

H. W. Cooley returned Saturday from Corvallis, where he attended the college farmers' week. Earl Cooley is also spending a short time there.

Clyde and Alfred French are here from Lexington visiting at their uncle's, James French.

Y. A. Cochran was re-appointed road supervisor of this district, No. 4, for the ensuing year.

The flames had not reached the room where the body lay.

Both the front and rear doors of the cottage were locked, and a man's footprints were found in the garden around the house. It is the theory of the police that the house was fired to hide the crime, though no motive for murdering Mrs. Gerber is found.

Reports of the finding of a pool of blood near where the cottage stood, this afternoon strengthened the belief of the police that foul play was committed.

Max Gerber, husband of the dead woman, was questioned by the police this afternoon.

Dr. L. B. Tiffany, autopsy surgeon of Alameda county, examined the charred body and announced that there was a possible compound fracture of the skull though he was unable to determine definitely because of the condition of the body, the lower limbs of which burned entirely away.

From neighbors, the police learned that Mrs. Gerber had feared violence.

Son Is Shocked.

Sacramento, Cal., Jan. 15.—The Oakland tragedy struck a terrible blow to Elmo Sullivian, foreman of the composing room of the Star today, when, while reading proof he was shocked to learn that it told of the death of his mother.

The story was that of the incineration of Mrs. Margaret Gerber at Elmhurst.

Mrs. Gerber was the divorced wife of Assistant State Printer Daniel Sullivan. They separated 15 years ago and the wife was remarried to Gerber.

Relatives here can give no clew to any possible murderer.

Tacoma, Wash., Jan. 15.—Two boys and one young woman are known to have been drowned today and ten persons were rescued, all suffering from more or less severe cuts about the face and hands, when the gasoline boat Victor Second, was swamped off Point Defiance, near here, in a squall.

According to Captain Wood, all of his passengers have been accounted for, but survivors claim several persons boarded the boat at Old Town, after the captain had made his count, and that some of these were probably drowned.

The recovered dead: Walter Bower, 7 years old; Florence Bower, 17 years old, of Fox Island; Unidentified boy about 15 years old.

The Rescued.

William Clark, George W. Babcock, Pete Sandberg, R. H. Wayson, John Sylvester, Mrs. O. S. Bower, Miss Bowers, Charles McGinnis.

The steamer Atalanta is standing by the Victor and launches were immediately sent out from boat houses on the waterfront to render aid. Reports telephoned in from the pavilion at Point Defiance park state that several persons were seen struggling in the water following the accident, but it is not known how many were drowned.

The Victor is said to still be afloat, a line having been passed about her by the steamer Atalanta.

The Victor second plied between Tacoma and other North Bay points. The scene of the capsizing is about five miles from the city and is close inshore.

A report which had not been confirmed at noon, stated that 20 persons perished.

Among those known to have been on the Victor were Jack Ashbrook, salesman for A. Schilling and company of San Francisco, and James Harris, also a travelling man.

Three bodies have been recovered and taken on board the steamer Atalanta and eight survivors were brought to Tacoma on launches and rushed to the police station where they are being cared for. Another survivor was sent to a hospital. All were suffering intensely from their battle for life in the icy waters of the sound.

In addition to these, five other persons rescued by the Atalanta reached the municipal dock here shortly after noon and were given first aid before being sent to their homes or to hospitals. All were suffering from severe bruises and cuts, the latter probably due to their struggles in breaking their way through the glass encased cabin of the wrecked boat.

It is believed about forty passengers were on board the Victor Second when she turned turtle. A terrific gale was blowing off Point Defiance and the gasoline boat is supposed to have been capsized by the big waves, which were rolling about the treacherous point. Many small pleasure crafts and several barges were smashed at the park boat house and rescue launches had difficulty in making their way to the scene of the wreck by reason of the heavy seas.

Scott who plays the part of Linda, Corneilia Aster's adopted daughter in Essanay's five-act feature "The Alster Case," created a little detective mystery of her own while playing in that production. Miss Scott is mourning the loss of a valuable pearl necklace which was stolen from her while working on some of the outside scenes. It is her opinion that the necklace was removed from around her neck as she stood watching some of the other players enacting a scene. Immediately upon discovering her loss the matter was reported to the police, but they were completely baffled by the disappearance of the pearls. "The Alster Case" will be shown at the Oregon theatre tomorrow and Monday.

LETTER WRITING BEGINS

Munger O. H. Luck, of the commercial club, reports that the business men of the city are already sending in their letter heads to the commercial club to have letters run off on the multigraph machine.

Several firms have already contracted for 100 letters each, and from the general interest taken, Salem will surely do its share in advertising Oregon during letter writing week.

BURNED TO DEATH

Oakland, Cal., Jan. 15.—A woman burned to death late last night in a cottage in Elmhurst was identified today as Mrs. Margaret Gerber. She had been left alone by her husband while he came to Oakland to keep an appointment. A lamp is believed to have been upset. Mrs. Gerber was 70 years of age and has a son said to be in Sacramento and a daughter living in Portland.

Redwood City, Cal., Jan. 15.—Just to show him they have no hard feelings against him because he is a millionaire's son, three prisoners in the county jail, one a half breed, and the others accused respectively of murder and burglary today invited John D. Spreckles, Jr. to take part in a game of Pedro.

Late advice was that Spreckles was still holding out against the tempting offer.

Spreckles is spending the first day of a two day term in the county prison for running his automobile without the headlights dimmed.

While his wife, lawyer, relatives and friends were highly excited over his incarceration, "Jack" prepared to spend the full time imposed upon him, and sent out for a pair of blankets to make his bunk more comfortable.

Being on a special diet, Spreckles declined to eat the prison fare, but is having his meals specially prepared on the outside.

Bob Perlich Builds A Motor Sled For Coasting Uphill

Bob Perlich, of this city, appears to be the first mechanic in Salem to construct a motor sled which coasts uphill as well as downgrade. Bob attached the Smith Motor Wheel to his coasting sled and today was scorching over Salem streets as he formerly did on his speedy motorcycle. The Smith motor wheel is a small attachment propelled by a gasoline motor which drives a bicycle. The Watt Shop company used the motor wheel for demonstration purposes last summer but it remained for Bob to put the machine to winter use.

The motor sled has proved a grand success and goes put putting down the street over the frozen surface of the snow.

Mrs. Pankhurst Will Be Sent Back Home

New York, Jan. 15.—Despite her angry protests, Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant English suffragette, was sent to the Ellis Island immigration station today upon her arrival from London, because she is held to be an "undesirable alien" in view of being once imprisoned in England. Miss Joan Wyckham, her secretary, accompanying her to the island and immediately attempted to communicate with Secretary of State Lansing and Secretary of Labor Wilson for a special permit releasing her.

Mrs. Pankhurst was similarly treated upon her last visit here, but was subsequently allowed to land.

Mrs. Pankhurst said she came to this country to work for Serbian relief measures. A special board of inquiry was slated to organize this afternoon to consider her case.

Parole Is Granted.

New York, Jan. 15.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant suffragette, after spending a few unpleasant hours as an "undesirable alien" on Ellis Island, was paroled this afternoon by Assistant Secretary of Labor Post pending her appeal to the labor department.

Great Religious Wave Sweeping Over Europe

San Francisco, Jan. 15.—Over the European countries involved in the great war is sweeping great religious waves.

Such was the report brought here today by Rev. Lasit Zalmonoff, who was for a time a chaplain with the Russian army and has seen army life among Austrians, Germans and Russians.

"Thousands of men, who never knew what it was to pray bow head and bend the knee as they face that great slaughter," said he. "It has all become one great religion. The narrow path followed for centuries by a member of some sect has broadened and he bows to the other man's prayer. I think this war will see a great religious awakening. Thousands in their hours of terror and bereavement have calmed themselves with prayer. And what is most important they will be more liberal."

WAR NEWS OF ONE YEAR AGO TODAY

The allies were defeated at Soissons. Russia claimed Germany's attempt to resume a general offensive was frustrated. The Teutons bombarded Rawa and Tarnow. London said Francis Joseph sought peace through the Vatican. The Turks were all driven from the Caucasus.

Aged San Francisco Woman Was Murdered
Oakland, Cal., Jan. 15.—Mrs. Margaret Gerber, aged 70, whose body was incinerated in a one-story cottage at Elmhurst last night, was murdered and not burned to death, according to the conclusion reached by local police today following filing of the report of Patrolman J. T. Mullin, who discovered the blaze.

Mullin declared the woman was dead before the flames enveloped her. After requesting Henry DeWalt to call the fire department, Mullin said he ran to the cottage and looked in at an open window. He saw the woman lying on the floor, and repeated calls failed to elicit a response. At that time, he said,
