LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFTBy S. W. STRAUSS
President American Society for Thrift

there is much waste from neglect and failure to take proper care of things which cost money.

Anyone who has ever been in the country will readily recall the sight of tools, machinery and vehicles exposed to the elements; poor, insanitary shelter, or none at all for stock; chickens roosting in trees, or on fences for lack of proper coops; fruit trees untrimmed, laden with dead limbs and decayed spots on the trunks; gardens neglected, houses unpainted, doors unhung, shingles broken and rain-spouts and door steps out of repair.

Every one of these symptoms of thriftlessness spells loss of money. Extravagance does not always mean an outlay of money, but may involve an outlay of unnecessary labor, through carelessness, which means a diminution of income. For instance:

One quail will destroy 75,000 bugs and 6,000,000 weed seeds annually, according to Mrs. Margaret M. Nice of the Massachusetts State University.

• Cotton growers lose $100,000,000 a year because farmers slaughter by the thousands the quail, prairie chickens, meadow larks and other birds which destroy the boll weevil. If the destruction of bug eating birds could be prevented, $1,000,000,000 a year would be saved to this country, says Colonel G. O. Shields, president of the League of American Sportsmen.

The Pennsylvania railroad doesn't throw away anything that has any value to man or beast. It gives us one of the very best examples of thrift. In 1914 the scrap material sold brought the company $2,357,241.24 and this was $1,000,000 less than in 1913. Waste paper alone sold for $19,211, oil barrels for $22,439 and old rubber for $15,222.

Locomotives and wooden passenger cars sold for $114,326. Other odds and ends brought $121,997. Old wheels, metals and wrought iron yielded more than $780,000. What the corporation can do on a large scale, the business firm, the farmer or the housewife can do on a small scale.

Harry Lander has a few homely maxims on thrift that have been widely circulated during the war period, in the hope that his followers would profit thereby. "Mither wadna waste," says he, "and I would be disgracing her memory if I wasted."

Here are some of his rules: "Believe toward your purse as you would to your best friend."

"View the reckless spending of money as criminal and shun the reckless spender."

"Remember if only takes twenty shillings to make a pound, and twelve pennies make a shilling."

"You can sleep better after a hard day's work than after a hard day's idleness."

"Get good value from your tradesmen. They watch out that they get good money from you."

"A bank book makes good reading—better than some novels."

FRUITLAND NEWS

(Capital Journal Special Service.)
Mr. Andregg and family from Salem made a Sunday call at the home of Mr. Egger.

A social evening was spent by several of the young people here at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Silkey who live east of Fruitland, last Wednesday evening.

Several of the young people here attended the literary society at Pratum last Friday evening.

Hay is getting to be a scarce article in this neighborhood, the cold weather making the haymows disappear rapidly. It is not possible at present to feed hogs which, forms a large proportion of the daily ration of dairy cattle.

An interesting experiment was tried at the school last week. The thermometer registered about seventy degrees hanging a few feet from the floor, then it was put next to the floor which caused it to drop about forty degrees.

Next Friday evening at Auburn there is scheduled a basket social. It is said that the baskets are to be all plain so as to fool the boys.

The first business and social meeting of the Y. P. A. will occur at the home of Mr. Val Gerig. These meetings have been a big social factor and it is hoped that the coming year will eclipse the splendid times of the past year.

Mr. Anderson went to town Sunday morning to attend church services.

Mr. Witham spent Sunday with the Lattin family.

FLOOD AT REDLANDS

Redlands, Cal., Jan. 17.—Four feet of water was reported today at East Highlands—steadily rising. One thousand feet of the new county highway was undermined and bridges were reported going out.

PRUNE DEMAND IS FIRM

The remainder of that part of the 1915 Polk county prune crop purchased by the J. K. Armsby company will be put in boxes immediately and shipped to New York to fill an order from the company's main office. It is customary to hold some of the prunes until just before the picking of the new crop, and this fall the company packed a large number of boxes left from the previous season for shipment just before the new crop was unloaded at the plant. This order of things will be changed this year, however, and the remainder of the 1915 crop, consisting of approximately 3 carloads, will be packed for shipment as soon as possible. For several days hands have been busy at the big plant preparing boxes to receive the pack and bright and early Monday morning the steam will be turned on to commence putting the fruit in the boxes for shipment. A full force of help will report for work Monday and the order that will entirely clean out the bunkers of the plant will be made ready with all possible haste. The season for the Armsby company has been an unusually good one, and further evidence of this statement is had in the fact that the last of the season's crop will be shipped out before the actual packing season is finished.—Dallas Observer.
