Ring Tabloids

Kansas City, Mo., Jan. 20.—Frank Moran will fight Champion Jess Willard under the terms of Jack Curley's contract, which the title holder already has accepted, or he won't get a chance at the title.

This was the attitude today of Tom Jones, Willard's manager, in answer to the information that Moran has signed with Tex Rickard and McCracken for a bout at New York.

Farmer Hunting Match. Portland, Ore., Jan. 20.—Frank Farmer, middleweight, today opened negotiations with James Cuffroth, promoter at Tijuana for a match in the Lower California sport center. Before going south, though, he wants another chance at Joe Bonds, either in Tacoma or Portland.

Juniors to Meet in April. Chicago, Jan. 20.—The junior track and field championships of the Central Amateur Athletic Union will be held at St. Paul in April, it was announced today by George K. Herman, chairman of the committee of the central body.

Mute School Basketball Team Defeats Chemawa

The Mute school basketball team won from the Chemawa Juniors last night by the narrow margin of 25 to 23. The game was fast and clean and the result was in doubt until the final whistle.

Friday night the Chemawa first team will play Willamette university a return game at Chemawa. The Chemawa team scored a win over the W. U. team earlier in the season at Willamette's gym and the university lads are making a special effort to even up the score.

The lineups in last night's game follows: Mutes—Tusing, forward; Fromin, forward; Thayer, center; Fowler, guard; Shannon, guard. Chemawa—Bettes, forward; Downey, forward; Table, center; Brown, guard; Todd, guard; Norwest, substitute. Hauser, Chemawa, referee.

MRS. SANGER AGAINST ROOSEVELT THEORY

New York, Jan. 20.—The Roosevelt idea of large families and the birth control theory will clash in federal court January 24 in one of the most important trials involving these issues in the history of the country. The case was slated for this week, but because the judges were too busy, postponement was necessary.

Mrs. Margaret H. Sanger, author of a number of books on sex matters, will go on trial, charged with sending obscene matter through the mail. The specific charge is that she circulated in her magazine, "The Woman Rebel," discussions of birth control.

Backing Mrs. Sanger will be a committee on defense made up of prominent New York women. They believe that poor women as well as the wives of the rich have the right to learn how to escape bearing large families that add to their burdens. They admit that in defending Mrs. Sanger they are beginning an agitation for more frank discussions of means for limiting the number of babies born into poor families, as a means of alleviating poverty and distress. They believe that public sentiment within a few years will force the repeal of the laws, forbidding physicians to impart such information to their patients.

We are only speaking for the overworked, poorly fed women in the tenements, the same privilege accorded the wife of a fifth avenue millionaire," said Mrs. Rose Pastor Stokes, one of the women defending Mrs. Sanger.

"The millionaire's wife is instructed secretly by her physician how to limit the number of babies in her family. The woman of the tenement, who really needs this information is unable to get it because her doctor fears the law. In Europe, the whole subject is discussed freely."

We will soon have the Rose Festival slogan, and then it won't be long before we have the roses. So cheer up. An English humorist says it takes better jokes to get a laugh since the war began. So war is not entirely useless, after all.

San Francisco, not having the expedition to occupy its attention, is busy these days acting as press agent for the much advertised revolution in China.

Hop Market Has A Spurt of Activity; Tops At 11 Cents

Portland, Or., Jan. 20.—The hop market is again quite active along the Pacific coast, with further business reported here at 11 cents a pound for selected stock, while additional sales are shown in California, western Washington and in the Yakima valley.

Wolf Hop company of this city topped the market with the purchase of 247 bales of the Slopper & Patton crop of Independence.

Seven hundred bales were reported sold in western Washington at 10 to 10 1/2 cents a pound.

Blair of Yakima sold a hundred bales at 9 cents, Boulton Bros. 104 bales at 10 cents, and Coburn & Fortier 95 bales at a similar price.

Central Krets of this city sold 329 bales to the Seavey Hop company at 9 1/2 cents.

Dealers report a fair amount of eastern business available on the basis of 9 cents for medium to prime, but supplies of this quality are being sold for higher prices by local growers, while the easterners will not pay more, at least just at present.

January is usually last of the active months in the hop market under normal conditions, only crop cares causing additional liberal business reported during later months. All of the business reported recently has been for domestic account, the congestion of traffic making it impossible to do foreign business.

Resolution From Settlers To Desert Land Board Comes An Hour Too Late

A resolution, protesting the sale of unsold lands, by the Central Oregon Water Users association, was received an hour after the action of the Desert Land board, permitting such sale to be made.

At a previous meeting the inspector was ordered to report on the capacity of the system to care for any additional and over the protest of John H. Lewis, the state engineer, the board permitted the sale of some 220 acres of unsold lands, at the request of Messrs. Howard & Stearns of the Central Oregon Irrigation company.

According to the state engineer's figures, the capacity of the canal in question has been oversold by some 3800 acres.

The settlers also protested against any extension of time being granted by the Desert Land board to the Central Oregon Irrigation company on its contracts with the state for the reclamation of the lands in Central Oregon.

A satisfactory showing is made that adequate funds are immediately available and a guarantee given that work will be started and completed within a reasonable length of time.

HOPS HELD AT NEW YORK

Polk county hops shipped from here through Portland by several large buyers in late September and October are still in storage in New York city awaiting shipment to Europe. Many of these hops were sent out on European orders, but for various reasons have never left New York. The chief cause for holding many thousands of bales at that place is the excessive rate charged by trans-Atlantic freight carriers. It is said that these carriers are charging 37 cents a cubic foot for shipment to Europe and as an ordinary bale of hops contains about 19 cubic feet it may be easily figured that to send a bale of hops to Europe costs $7.03, plenty of money anyway it is computed. On the early shipments buyers in Portland received bills of lading from the railroad companies, making the transports responsible for storage. But lately the railroad companies have not been issuing these bills and storage charges are paid by the shipper.—Dallas Observer.

Paine came to this city about 35 years ago. He worked as a carpenter, with a little shop on Poyallup avenue. When his eyesight failed some years ago, he was sent to the county farm.

BETHEL NEWS

(Capital Journal Special Service.) Bethel, Or., Jan. 20.—The debate at the literary last Friday evening was on the question, "Remember, That a Universal System of legislation Should be Adopted by the State of Oregon." Mrs. Swales, John Zak and Harlan Hoffmann spoke for the affirmative. Mrs. Matten Remoh Schulz and Mr. Swales were the speakers for the negative. The debate was quite interesting. The affirmative told of the viciousness and general inefficiency of the present system and claimed that a one house legislature would handle the public business in a more businesslike manner. They advocated a house of sixteen members elected from four districts. The negative quoted history to show the utility of the unicameral system. They also took a fling at the class of men who are advocating the one house principle, calling them radicals, etc. The judges were: Paul Baker, Guy Johnston, Clifford Johnston, Walter Baker and Mrs. Nichols. Their decision was unanimous for the negative. The following program was given: Recitation, How Jimmy teared the baby, by Remoh Schulz; violin solo, Dublin Bay, by Frank Kunciter; recitation, Man and the mule, by Gladys Johnson; Songs, In the Gloaming and Miller of the Dee, by the quartet composed of Frank Kunciter, Harlan Hoffman, Wm. Beeman and Guy Johnston; Songs, Mid the Green Fields of Virginia and Goo too Eyes, by John Zak; Song, the Golden West is Home Sweet Home to Me, by Harlan Hoffmann. The question for debate next time is "Resolved, That President Wilson's Preparedness Program Should be Adopted." George Matten will lead the affirmative and Cass Nichols the negative.

At the annual meeting of the Big Four Telephone company last Saturday the following officers were elected: President R. R. Ryan; vice president, E. A. Anfrance; secretary-treasurer, G. Osborne Swales; linemen, W. R. Baker. It was decided to have another meeting at 2:00 o'clock, p. m., January 29, for the purpose of incorporating the company and to transact other business.

The lineman had not finished preparations for the demonstration at two o'clock and so the business meeting was held first and closed so late that there was very little time for the demonstration.

The thirty-five telephone receivers loaned by the Western Electric were connected up in a series parallel to give the same effect as if there had been only five receivers each on the end of a side line over four miles long. Six telephone lines were examined and their relative condition explained. The effects of shorts and grounds were demonstrated also loose contacts and bad joints. The use of condensers in the receiver circuit was explained and every one without a condenser in his phone was urged to have one put in. Because of unusual weather conditions the attendance was not as large as had been anticipated.

"For You A Rose In Portland Grows"

"For you a rose in Portland grows." This is the slogan for the 1916 Rose Festival at Portland, it being selected by the board out of some 11,000 submitted. It was suggested by Mrs. Bertha Slater Smith, daughter of former U. S. senator from Oregon, James K. Slater, and will bring the lady a prize of $25, nearly four dollars a word. The slogan was adopted unanimously.

HARVARD FORMS BOXING SQUAD TO STUDY SCIENTIFIC SPARRING

Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 20.—(Special.)—For the first time in many years, Harvard now has a boxing squad to study scientific sparring. Three days a week the 27 members have the personal tutelage of Steven O'Donnell, one-time heavyweight champion of Australia, and one or two more professional boxers who can hand out some real stiff blows and coach them in regulation bouts. The whole course in boxing will culminate in a big fistie tournament to be held later in the winter. The photo shows the squad just about ready for a workout in the snow. Heavy gymnasium mats have been matted out into the snow in the enclosed yard behind the Hemenway gymnasium.

Capital Journal Only Complete Paper Sold

The Capital Journal is the only evening daily published in Salem that is a complete newspaper. The Portland papers peddled here are printed in the forenoon about 11 o'clock, are simply the regular edition of the day before with some changes on the first page. They are only extras made up for street sales and out of town circulation, making no pretense to being real newspapers. The Capital Journal on the other hand, contains the complete leased wire service up to 3:30 p. m., which is 6:30 p. m. in New York and past midnight in Europe, the seat of the great war. It also contains all the local news of Salem and surrounding territory that is worth while. It is a complete afternoon newspaper and the only one circulated in Salem. When you pay your money for a Portland evening paper here you are merely being "faked" into buying a cheap extra with big headlines on the first page and yesterday's news everywhere else. The Capital Journal sells on the street for 2 cents. Pay no more.
