Since the target year began January 1, at the army, a number of the enlisted men are taking advantage of the indoor rifle range. In order to acustom the soldier to the size of the gun used in the regular service, an army rifle with regulation sights and weight is used, but with a .22 calibre bore.

Everyone should see "The Servant in the House" at the Grand tonight, 8:45 p. m.

Although there was a rainfall of .33 of an inch for the 24 hours before 8 o'clock this morning, the river rose only three-tenths of a foot last night and is now three feet above low water mark. The lowest temperature last night as registered by the government's thermometer was 37 degrees above.

"The Servant in the House" tonight at the Grand. Prices $1.50, $1.00, 75c and 50c.

Flour is up another notch of five cents a sack, effective today. This is an advance of 20 cents a sack within the last six weeks. But sugar is now 25 cents a hundred cheaper than it was six weeks ago. Along towards the last of the year, sugar dropped 35 cents a hundred in price, and so far has only recovered ten cents a hundred.

Notice to the Public. The garbage dump at the Salem Tile & Mercantile company's grounds will be discontinued. Hereafter all garbage, until further notice, will be taken to the penitentiary grounds, just south of the penitentiary. CHAS. ELGIN, City Recorder. Jan. 24.

Just one more day in the great letter writing week. The letters may now be dropped in any convenient letter box or at the office of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company's office. But the letter will do just as much good even if mailed the last day included in the governor's proclamation. A post card of the Columbia Highway enclosed in the letter is also good advertising for Oregon.

Five umbrellas, two pair of shoes, wrapped, and a purse containing real money have been left by ladies in the postoffice lobby within the last few days, and Postmaster Huestein advertises today that he has taken charge of them and awaits the owners. It seems that the men have been able to swing on to their umbrellas pretty well during the rainy weather and it is the ladies only who leave them in the lobby.

Attorney General Brown will make a trip to Washington, D. C., to represent the state in two cases that are now pending before the United States courts and he has made the request that both cases may be heard at the same time by the court so that he may be required to make but one trip to Washington. One case is that of the Pacific Live-stock company against John H. Lewis and the other is that of the State of Oregon against F. O. Bunting.

Percy Varney, of the Salem police force, returned today from McMinnville where he and Mrs. Varney have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Varney's mother, Mrs. J. P. Allison, who has been seriously ill. Mrs. Allison is reported as slowly recovering from her illness. Mrs. Varney will remain at her mother's home for a short time.

The County Assessors of this state will be called together for a three days' convention in this city, February 15, 16 and 17. W. A. Ball, of Lincoln county, president of the State Assessors' association, has appointed a committee to arrange for a program for the convention.

The Richmond school surely has the right boosting spirit for Oregon and the Willamette valley. From an enrollment of 193 pupils, 165 letters were written and deposited with the Portland Railway, Light & Power company. When 85 per cent of the pupils of a school take an interest in a movement for the good of the state, it is pretty good evidence that the hearts of those pupils are in the right place.

Chester Murphy, of Portland, who is largely interested in real estate in Salem, is not only a booster for Salem, but shows the proper spirit by taking out two memberships in the Commercial club, and paying for them in advance. In writing Manager O. H. Luck, he states, "I am willing at all times to advance the interest of Salem and the surrounding country," and as actions speak louder than words, he enclosed a $40 check for the two memberships.

The lecture this evening at the public library by Dr. Arthur Patch McKinlay, of the Portland schools, promises to be one rather out of the usual. He is really an entertaining speaker. Those who have heard him are very positive that his lecture will be worth hearing. His subject, "Campaigning With C. J. Caesar in Belgium, 57 B. C.," will perhaps give the learned doctor an opportunity to compare the campaigns of Caesar with those of the present day military men. The lecture will begin promptly at 7:30 o'clock, in order that it will be concluded in time for the entertainment at the opera house which will not begin until 8:45 o'clock.

STANFORD PRESIDENT OBJECTS TO HAZING

Says At Best It Is Cowardly at Worst Criminal--Will Stamp It Out

Palo Alto, Cal., Jan. 21.—Attacking hazing as "a combination of cowardice and bullying," Dr. Ray Lyman Wilbur, new president of Leland Stanford, Jr. university, today in an address to the student body that he intends to wipe it out here for all time.

"At the best," he said, "it is contemptible; at the worst, criminal. It marks downfall of democracy, and anything that has to be done in the dark cannot be sanctioned."

He hinted that student control will be eliminated if the practice continues. He counselled his hearers to partake of university activities other than mere study, holding only the men who have interest in healthy endeavors, and are not mere bookworms, amount to anything in the every day world. "You can't be a good citizen and lay down," he said.

Dr. Wilbur indicated the university must limit its student body; and he expressed a desire to have more domitory life. He announced, too, careful selection of powerful men will be made to fill the places of professors, retiring soon under the age limit.

Richmond School Won Commercial Club Prize

Richmond school won the prize offered by the Commercial club for writing the largest number of Oregon boosting letters. That is, the largest in proportion to the attendance of the school. The Richmond average of letters, compared to the total attendance was 85.5 per cent, which was going some for Richmond. The Highland and Lincoln schools did not participate, and wrote no letters at all.

The senior high school did not participate in the contest as it was only open to the grades and junior high schools.

The record, showing the total enrollment of each school, the number of letters written and the percentage of letters, is as follows:

School	Enrollment	No. letters	Pct.
Enclawood	100	40	24.7
Garfield	323	123	38.1
Grant	415	24	10.8
Highland	272	0	0
Lincoln	319	0	0
McKinley	88	12	13.6
Park	246	39	15.9
Richmond	193	165	85.5
Washington	527	21	5.9

The high school did not compete, but showed its patriotism by mailing more than 1,000 letters.

With such boosting for Oregon as shown by the Richmond school and the senior high school, the future of the state is assured.

Marion County Has Resources of $233,029

Program Provides 16 Submarine Bases

Washington, Jan. 21.—Sixteen submarine bases, divided between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, at a cost of $10,000,000 or $12,000,000 are included in the administration preparedness projects, Admiral VanFleet told the house naval committee today. The navy department has already planned for the Pearl harbor, Hawaii, base, while the first Atlantic base will be at New London, Conn. The other sites have not been selected, but when they are completed, the "mother" submarine supply ships will be abandoned.

He said the government is justified in spending $7,500,000 for all tank stations and pumping lines for the navy.

TO LECTURE ON "THE INDIAN"

As a representative of Smithsonian institute, Dr. Leo J. Frachtenberg is now in the Indian Training school at Chemawa, making a study of the Indian. Taking for his subject, "The American Indian," he will lecture Monday night in the chapel of Willamette University.

Besides Oregon, he is making a study of the Indian on the entire Pacific coast. The results of his investigations will be given in his lecture Monday evening.

Dr. Frachtenberg was formerly a member of the faculty of Columbia University, New York. He has been placed on the lecture course, as Helen M. Senn is unable to speak on account of illness.

Killed Two Coons and Found Fred Erixon

W. H. Dalrymple not only reports killing two coons at Pudding river yesterday but takes the Mexican river and shows the hides. In company with his brother, F. E. Dalrymple, he went to the Pudding river section yesterday for the express purpose of killing a coon. F. E. had no license to carry a gun so was permitted to lug the axe, with the promise that he could also carry the game.

The first thing the hunters found was Fred Erixon, who needed finding too, because he was lost. Fred proved to be a great coon trailer for when he struck a track the others had to hang on to his coat tails to keep from losing him again.

One of the coons was followed three miles before tired and shot. The other led the boys a chase of five miles, finally like Roosevelt's red fox, climbing a tree, a big fir, and he hit the top of it before he stopped. It took six shots to bring him down, though every one of them hit him.

Erixon, the boys say, swam the river three times in treating the coons, each of which was a big one, they weighing 16 and 20 pounds respectively.

Mr. Dalrymple says he will have the skins dressed and made into a silver fox robe—or something else.
