WILLAMETTE NOTES

On account of sickness Prof. Helen Miller Senn will be unable to deliver her scheduled lecture on "Isabellites, Possibilities and Precedents," next Monday evening, but in her place a lecture given by Prof. Leo J. Frachtenberg, of Columbia University, New York. His subject will be a treatise on the "Anthropology and Origin of the Pacific Coast Indians." Prof. Frachtenberg received his Ph. D. from Columbia under the instruction of the great Professor Giddings, and until three years ago was an instructor at Columbia. In the past few years he has been in the employ of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington, D. C., and is now in Oregon to further investigate the races of Indians that have lived here. This lecture will be worth hearing as it will give authoritative knowledge on an interesting subject. The lecture will begin promptly at 8:00 o'clock next Monday evening in the chapel of Waller hall, and everyone is invited to hear it. The senior basketball team defeated the academy team last evening by a score of 23-1. The academy had a fairly good team, but were outclassed by the fast passing and teamwork of the seniors. The seniors have thus far won three games and lost none; they will play the freshmen February 1. At a meeting of the student body yesterday morning it was decided and agreed upon by the students that each student should be given the privilege of sending a copy of the Collegian to some high school student whom they should designate by giving him or her name to the manager. The Willamette quartette left yesterday afternoon for McCabe where they were to give a concert last evening. Tonight they will appear at St. Helens and the coming week they will tour the lower Columbia towns. Those who compose the quartette are Ray Metcalf, Harry Gray, Gus Anderson and Harry Bowen. Burgess T. Ford, principal of the academy is managing the trip and he states that they will sing in a number of the towns throughout western Oregon during the coming months.

One Way To Demonstrate Evils of Intemperance

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 22--Whiskey is the weapon with which Carranzistas in Sonora hope to conquer the Yaqui Indians. Twenty five thousand gallons of grain alcohol was imported today by the Carranzista officials. It will be diluted to proof whiskey. This is to be loaded on wagons and hauled into the Bacate mountains, Sonora, where it is expected the redskins will fall upon the escort. According to program, the whiskey guards are to flee immediately, leaving the Indians to capture all the liquor in sight. When the entire tribe is intoxicated all "drunks" will be surrounded by the Carranzistas and massacred.

FAMOUS EDUCATOR DEAD Pasadena, Cal., Jan. 22--Dr. Webster Merrifield died here today, at the age of 66 years. He formerly was president of the University of North Dakota, and before that a member of the Yale faculty. Dr. Merrifield, who suffered from grippe and a complication of other ailments, was well known as an educator. The funeral will probably be Tuesday.

WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING Also a Nice Line of Jewelry. KARL NEUGEBAUER Masonic Bldg.

HOP SALE RUMORED The headquarters office of the Oregon Hop Growers association in this city refused either to confirm or deny the report which has gained circulation that a deal was now on to sell a block of hops to the E. Clemens Horst Co. Manager J. L. Clark, of the association, is out of town today and he is said to have limited that a deal was pending but denied that it had been made. The reports say that the cents has been offered for choice hops and ranging on down to 9 1/2 cents for common.

Salem Fruit Union Holds Annual Meeting

At the annual meeting of the Salem Fruit Union today C. L. McNary and W. L. Staley were both re-elected directors of the union to succeed themselves. The annual report of Manager Robert C. Paulus was read and approved and the annual statement received. Prof. C. I. Lewis, of the Oregon Agricultural college, was present to deliver an address to the fruit growers present. There are now over 500 members of the union and a large majority were either present today or sent in their proxies.

Ex-Secretaries Favor Preparedness Movement

Washington, Jan. 22--Former Secretaries of War Root and Stimson, in a letter and speech respectively to the National Security League convention today, urged that the first steps be taken to train a national citizen soldiery. Root favored keeping the good points of Secretary Garrison's plans; Stimson said it would be "impossible for the regular army to maintain an adequate defense." He characterized reliance upon the regular army as "defending the country upon the basis of pay, instead of duty and patriotism."

Mill Creek at North Liberty and High streets was on a rampage this morning, in many places the banks caving in, caused mostly by the loosening of the soil after the late freeze.

H. Clarke, of Portland, of the Underwriters' Equitable Rating Bureau, is at the Marion. He will meet insurance men and take up the problem of correct ratings. Today he received applications for new ratings and changes of rates.

The Cherrians and patriotic school children will have a chance to see themselves as others see them Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, February 1 and 2, as this is the date when the Path moving pictures of the letter mailing event of yesterday will be shown at Ye Liberty theatre.

"La Arca Club" the drill team of the United Artists, will give a masquerade dance next Wednesday evening at the Moose hall. The club is planning several social events for the season. About a year ago, the club was known as the Arto Frisco club, but the correct name now is, "La Arca Club."

A penalty of a fine of from $5 to $100 is provided for in the city charter for any one leaving sawdust or other rubbish in the street or curbing, thereby obstructing the drainage. This ordinance has not been enforced, but it is hereafter, as this morning the police were informed that the ordinance was in the charter and that it was to be enforced.

A daily weather map is now posted each day on the bulletin board of the Commercial club. The members of the club may now become duly informed as to the weather several hours in advance, and also learn of the general weather conditions prevailing in all parts of the country. The report morning said that today the indications were for rain and a wind from a southerly direction, all of which came to pass.

H. P. Bars, botanist and plant pathologist of the O. A. C., is co-operating with County Fruit Inspector C. O. Constable in securing reliable information as to the amount of loss in dollars to the prune orchards of this country on account of the brown rot. Mr. Bars has written for information in order to get data as to the loss of fruit or the lowering of the grade of the prune caused by the brown rot. Through the efforts of the Commercial club it is hoped that a government expert may be sent to the valley to take up the study of brown rot, with Salem as headquarters.

The pupils and teachers of the Lincoln junior high school wish to inform the public that they are imbued with a patriotic spirit as well as the other schools, and that they did participate in the letter writing and that their letters were handed in. Prof. H. F. Durham states that about 35 letters were written and sent to the Portland Railway, Light & Power company office, but for some reason failed to reach those who were keeping a record of letters written by each school. With such a name as the Lincoln junior high school, the pupils and teachers could not help showing their patriotism. So here's to the Lincoln school and may the pupils just keep on writing about Oregon and the Willamette valley.

Five Known Dead Seattle, Wash., Jan. 22 -- Great Northern officials announced at 2 o'clock this afternoon that five are known to have perished in the snowslide which swept the smoker and dining car of westbound train No. 25, 300 feet over the mountainside near Corea, Wash., this morning. Five more persons have been taken out of the snow-covered debris alive. There were fifteen persons in the two cars when they went over the brink, it is stated. Five are thus left unaccounted for.

Bathhouse will open Thursday, January 27. Fresh rooms, home cooking, 950 N. Winter. Phone 392W.

Field Worker L. P. Harrington returned to this city last night from a trip to Polk county where he assisted County Superintendent H. C. Seymour in holding some school rallies. A Parent-Teachers' association was organized at Louisville Thursday and yesterday a rally was held at the Valley View school.

Corns, bunions, ingrowing nails, treated without pain, also moles and warts, by Dr. Nelson, the expert chiropodist, 28 Breyman Bldg. Phone 260.

Constable E. E. Cooper has announced himself as candidate for the office of sheriff and Motorcycle Officer Percy Varney has declared his intention to take the race for the office of constable. Mr. Varney has been on the Salem police force for the last year and Constable Cooper was formerly deputy sheriff and also a member of the Salem police force.

Every piano of the Valley Music company ordered sold. Manufacturers' representative here. See announcement on page 3 of this issue.

A black cataract was removed from the eye of E. H. Anderson of Beuna Vista, at the Salem hospital yesterday. The operation was successfully performed by Dr. M. C. Findlay. Mr. Anderson had been gradually losing his eye sight through the growth of the cataract, which to a certain extent was hereditary, as both his father and grandfather had lost their vision through the growth of a black cataract.

A most enjoyable time is anticipated at the masquerade dancing party to be given by the La Arca club at the Moose hall next Wednesday evening, January 26.

Although the general opinion was that the river would rise suddenly as soon as the snow melted, and that high water was to be looked for, so far the river has made but a little rise. This morning it is 4.1 feet above low water mark, showing a rise of but little over a foot in the past 24 hours. The rainfall during the past 24 hours, as recorded by the government's rain gauge, was .48 of an inch.

Ever hear of a good playable piano at $35.00 or $50.00 or even $75.00. See announcement of closing out of Valley Music House on page 3 of this paper.

The Washington junior high school association, as fully organized last year, will hold an election of officers for the coming semester, next Wednesday. In order that the pupils may know ahead of time the various candidates in the field, a ballot has been prepared. The nominations for the officers are as follows: For president, Daryl Evans and Gay Taylor; for vice-president, Wayne Allen and Richard Kiesel; for editor, Joseph Albrich and Lorraine Ross; for board of auditors, John Domogalla, Catherine Gibbard, Dolph Craig, Helen Corey, Gladys Page and Harvey Tittle.

Professor V. J. Garvin, of the O. A. C., was in the city this morning, on the way to Monmouth, where he will meet with the Oregon Intercollegiate Oratorical association.

The Rev. J. W. Plummer has returned from a missionary trip to Idaho, and will occupy the pulpit of his church at Seventeenth and Chemeketa streets, morning and evening.

With favorable weather, the laying of brick will begin next Monday on the McGilchrist building and with any kind of good luck the carpenters will have the first flooring laid before the end of the week.

Kola Neis, who sustained a bad fracture of his left elbow, about three weeks ago, by falling on a slippery floor, is gradually recovering the use of his arm. He is in Portland but will return to Salem in a few days.

Perfectly fitted glasses do more than improve vision, they conserve nervous energy, thereby promoting physical health and increasing efficiency in vocations calling for close work with the eyes. I examine your eyes and prescribe and furnish glasses, the kind that your eyes are in need of at very reasonable prices and guarantee satisfaction in every respect. Dr. M. P. Mandelsohn, rooms 210-211 U. S. Bank Bldg.

Since the first of the year, the Wells Fargo Express company in the city has received 50 shipments of liquor, which under the present prohibition law, is limited to two quarts of spirituous liquor. These shipments were all from Horabrook, a station in California just across the Oregon border. It is a cash business for the wholesale houses at Horabrook, as there is no such thing as C. O. D. packages. All that is necessary to receive the legal amount is to order enclosing the right amount of cash, and when it arrives at the express office, make an affidavit that the law has been complied with. This means that the party receiving the booze is not a habitual drunkard and that the limit of four weeks has expired since the last shipment was received.

The improvement of the fair grounds road, the organization of an automobile club and a municipal bathing beach are to be discussed next Tuesday evening at the meeting to be held at the Commercial club by the Civics department. To this meeting, not only members of the Commercial club are invited, but all citizens who are interested in these three subjects are invited to be present and take part in the discussion. Mayor Harley O. White will deliver an address on "Improving the Fair Grounds Road." L. H. McFadden will talk on "The Public Baths," and Otto J. Wilson on "The Need and Advantages of an Automobile Association in Salem." There is a general feeling that now is the time to take up the Fair Grounds road proposition and that arrangements cannot be made to pave the present thoroughfare, other streets will be taken up for consideration, as the city will probably do much of its own paving this summer.

All Around Town

Dr. Mandelsohn, specialist, fits glasses correctly. U. S. Bank Bldg. J. Fred Iddings, who has been one of the many struggling with the grippe, is reported today to be fully recovered. The Hob Nob has received a large shipment of Star Brand crochets thread. Any size, 10c a ball this week.
