

All Go To The Bottom!

Elegant Stock of New Pianos and Latest Player Pianos Takes an Awful Tumble.

Wholesale Representative Takes Charge

C. F. Hull of the Valley Music House in Salem has disappeared.

Manufacturers' Representative has instructions that everything must be sold out immediately for what it will bring, rather than return to headquarters. The greatest opportunity to buy a Piano or Player Piano ever presented in the Willamette Valley is now here.

For reasons that need not be gone into, I have been compelled to take over the largest and finest stock of Pianos and Player Pianos. My instructions are to either sell it out quickly or to send it back to headquarters. Were I to send this stock back to headquarters, it would still have to be sold and we would be adding the cost of cartage, freight, insurance and storage. Rather than do this, I am going to make prices so low that everything will be taken off my hands here.

The Chickering, the Kimball, the Smith & Barnes, and other Pianos—the Strohber; the famous Kimball Acme Melodic Player Piano; and the wonderful Bungalow Player Pianos are the best and costliest instruments that are made in the Nation. Money and brains cannot produce anything finer.

Monday, I am going to sell the finest $450 Pianos—instruments that have never been sold even by our own house, under our little-profit-per-piano plan, for less than $368. I am going to take $215 for each of these; this is less than half price. Everything else at corresponding reductions. Pianos that you have been paying $275 or $300 for, I will take $100 even money for them. Older Pianos for $35, $50 and $75 each. But at these low prices, I must have all cash, as we cannot put a contract on the books for so little an amount, but come right away. Don't delay, for at the end of a few weeks this store will close. Whatever is not sold by that time will be shipped back.

For those who are not prepared to pay all cash, I am going to make the same prices, on our easy payment plan. Bring fifty dollars, twenty-five or even ten dollars, as the first payment, to show good faith, then I will arrange payment of the balance as best suits the convenience of each buyer. The same cash prices to each and all alike, but those buying on time will have to pay interest. Now is the time to get a piano, or best of all, a player piano—an opportunity like this will never come again.

Everything that is sold by me is covered by Eilers Music House guarantee as good as a government bond. It means satisfaction to every purchaser, or money back. Store open day and night until sale closes.

General Agent for Eilers Music House and Manufacturers.

Valley Music House Goes Out of Business

J. G. Gallagher, who has been in Salem in the interest of the factories, stated yesterday that his instructions are to close out the stock of the Valley Music House and to wind up the affairs there as quickly as possible. Owing to the unexplained disappearance of C. F. Hull, former manager, recently, under suspicious circumstances, as was announced in the Journal a few days ago.

To a representative of the Journal, Mr. Gallagher said: "Having failed to interest local business men in the continuance of the business, it is my intention to close out the pianos at once, or to ship them back to headquarters. It is a good deal better to take cost for the instruments in a hurry, than to add the expense of the cost of cartage, freight, etc., in returning them and then have to sell them anyway. The popular have to close in short order, as I have little time to devote to the undertaking. Shortly I will ship back in cars what I cannot take back in contracts and cash. Meanwhile the greatest sacrifice of pianos, new and used player pianos, grand and uprights is now in progress.

"Our closing out announcement appears in this issue."

"This is a real bonanza for music lovers as everything must be sold. It is really a sad breaking up—but owing to conditions we cannot avoid it and we must make the best of it."

To Prevent The Grip
When you feel a cold coming on, stop it by taking LAXATIVE BROMO QUININE and thus keep the system in condition to prevent the GRIP. There is only one "BROMO QUININE," E. W. GROVE'S signature on box. 25c.

Mutual Insurance Company Must Pay Up or Quit

Insurance Commissioner Harvey Wells yesterday informed the Bankers and Merchants Mutual Insurance Company, of Forest Grove, that the company must pay its losses within 60 days or suspend. The claims against the company total a little over $22,000 and the company's only asset is an overdraft of $22.63 and a mortgage of $1500.

Pomona and Surprise Granges Have Meeting

Marion County Pomona Grange met in regular session, with Surprise Grange of Turner, on the 19th. The grange was called to order by W. M. W. H. Stevens with a good attendance present from the several granges of the county.

The greater part of the forenoon was taken up by State Master Spence, relative to grange work and what the grange stands for. One of the things emphasized was, "Get the habit" of working for what is the most interesting and beneficial to the local neighborhood.

He spoke of the granges of Lane county having established a public market at Eugene, which has proven very successful. Thus enabling the consumer to deal direct with the producer, thereby getting the best, and at a less price than when purchased through the middleman.

At noon a bounteous repast as always was served to those present. The following officers were installed by State Deputy Zella S. Fletcher, of Salem grange, assisted by Mrs. J. Girardin W. M.—W. H. Stevens.

- O.—Mary Howd.
- L.—A. C. Libby.
- S.—J. E. Whitehead.
- T.—Mrs. A. V. Davidson.
- S.—Eva Jones.
- L. A. S.—Sarah Lewis.
- C.—Mrs. Hamilton.
- P.—Clara Sellwood.
- F.—Mrs. A. C. Libby.

This is the eleventh term for Mrs. Davidson as treasurer. After installation the fifth degree was conferred on a large class by State Master C. E. Spence.

Resolutions introduced by Woodburn grange and passed by Pomona grange favoring mutual protection in the interest of better prices, and a uniform high grade of dairy products, advocate cooperation and organization, against unfair competition and combination as has been alleged, is now being done in Portland, and would bend our energies toward high quality to be indicated by a uniform trade mark, that will make Oregon butter famous.

The lecture hour was taken up by State Master Spence in stating the position of the National Grange on some of the vital questions of today. That the good roads policy adopted two years ago be reaffirmed. It is opposed to bonds for roads, is in favor of market roads first rather than scenic highways, but always in favor of pay as you go. Emphasis was placed on the demand

Mr. De Gogorza To Visit Pacific Coast

It may be seriously doubted whether there is another male singer in the country who is held in higher esteem upon the concert platform than Emilio de Gogorza, the baritone, who is coming here for a recital on Monday evening, February 7. It was only recently made known that he would visit the Northwest and the Pacific coast, and the announcement has naturally created some stir in musical circles.

Throughout this country and Europe, Mr. de Gogorza has long been looked upon as a vocalist of the loftiest attainments both musically and vocally, and he is a great favorite in the concert halls west of the Rockies.

January and February will be given over to visiting more than a score of cities in this part of the country, and following this tour, the distinguished baritone will travel through the south, singing in Texas, Louisiana, Georgia and the Carolinas. Several music festivals await his return in the east during April and May, so that the artist will have had a truly remarkable season of concerts. He is under contract with the Wolfson Musical Bureau, of New York, an agency that directs the destinies of many famous concert stars.

Roseburg Girl Marries Klamath Falls Man

San Francisco, Jan. 22.—A former society girl, of Roseburg, Oregon, Miss Mildred Wilson, today is Mrs. Luke E. Weller, wife of the prominent cattle buyer of Klamath Falls, Oregon. The ceremony was performed secretly here last Wednesday, but did not leak out until today.

Mrs. Weller came into prominence as a playwright when she wrote the comedy "Love Game." She and Weller were schoolmates when the Wilson family lived at Klamath Falls.

Mrs. Weller expects her father, H. G. Wilson, government Indian agent at Roseburg, here from Washington within a few days.

TO DEFEND MRS. SANGER

San Francisco, Jan. 22.—San Francisco women today joined the fight for freeing Mrs. Margaret Sanger, New York editor, from the charge of circulating obscene matter in the mail through her publishing discussions of birth control. The first step in creating sentiment in favor of Mrs. Sanger will be taken in a mass meeting tomorrow under the auspices of the birth control league.

Prospective Candidates Would Be Models If Elected To Office

D. C. Lewis, of Multnomah county, who was member of the last legislative assembly, today filed his declaration as candidate for republican nomination as representative from Multnomah county in the office of the secretary of state.

His statement of principles is: higher than it should be—I will work for relief. We have too many commissions. We should combine them. The state needs developing. That would make Portland grow. That would help the laborer and he needs it. Rural credits would help Oregon. Equal opportunity, same laws are Oregon's needs. These I worked for in the last legislature, this I will do again."

At the regular monthly meeting of the parent-teachers' association at Brush college last evening a clever programme was given by the young men of the neighborhood.

Those taking part in the entertainment which was in form of a minstrel show were: Carl Beckett, Russell Beckett, Earl Oliver, Frank Winslow, William Woeck, Robert Cutler, E. G. Shultz.

Other features of the evening were: Instrumental solos, Messrs. Michelson, Sockley; violin solo, Ferre Buell; vocal solo, Frank Winslow.

One of the most clever numbers of the entertainment was the vocal solo on pantomime by A. R. Ewing.

L. G. Lehman is president of the association.

Judge George Alden, of Massachusetts, is scheduled for a lecture at the armory next Wednesday night, January 26 as the third attraction on the local Lyceum course. His subject will be "The Needs of the Hour" and because of his wide experience in dealing with the social problems of the day together with his close contact with our national government he should be well equipped with the necessary information to handle his subject.

Modesty disclaiming the right to pose as an "Orator" Judge Alden is quoted as saying: "I had rather be the corner of a helpful phrase which would linger in the memory than to paint one of those beautiful word pictures which fade before the lecturer takes his train. An epigram thrills me. A set figure of speech makes me tired. One is real, the other is artificial. One stimulates, the other cloy. I love sentiment, I hate sentimentality. I had rather touch an audience with truth than thrill it with eloquence.

"I guess, after all, what I am striving for in my platform work is lasting effectiveness rather than momentary effect."

Twenty years of experience on the lecture platform make Judge Alden the master that he is and many Salem people who have heard him predict that his lecture will be one of the best attractions of the entire course.
