AT ALL STAGES OF LIFE

The Woman's Medicine. Good for All Ages. Mrs. Harold Smith's Experience.

Clarksburg, W. Va.—"I am writing to tell you the good your medicine has always done me and I hope my letter may be the means of helping some other suffering woman. When I was 16 years old I caught cold and had suppression for two months. I got so weak I could scarcely drag myself up the stairs. I went to two doctors, then my mother got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I took it. I never had any more trouble and got strong fast. Then I took it again before my little girl was born and it helped me a good deal and I give the Compound the credit for it. Then this spring I felt very badly again, but I took the Compound and have been well all summer. I cannot be grateful enough for your medicine."

—Mrs. HAROLD M. SMITH, 470 Water Street, Clarksburg, W. Va.

For forty years it has been making women strong and well, and curing backache, nervousness, uterine and ovarian inflammation, weakness, displacements, irregularity and periodic pain.

GERMANY WITHIN HER RIGHTS

Washington, Feb. 11.—The United States cannot protect the Teutonic plan of torpedoing armed merchantmen, it was stated today on the highest official authority. Believing that the central powers are within their rights in pursuing such a course, the administration soon will warn Americans not to travel on armed belligerent ships, it seems certain.

The American attitude toward arming merchant ships was set forth in the formal suggestion recently made to the allies, noting the "absence of conditions now, which in earlier times, was an excuse for arming" merchantmen.

London, Feb. 11.—Issues as grave as the Lusitania case may arise between the United States and the central powers, officials declared today, as a result of the Teutonic announcement of intent to attack armed merchantmen.

The entente allies do not yield the right to arm such vessels for defensive purposes, a practice universally recognized. Moreover, they do not believe that, America having recognized this right, will change her policy in the midst of the war, though she has suggested disarmament of such ships.

Authorities here believe that the United States would take prompt and decisive action in the event that an Austrian or German submarine torpedoed an armed allied liner carrying American passengers.

Under headlines like "A New Plan For Piracy," the newspapers today declared that the Germans, after seeking to yield in the Lusitania case, are embarking on a new campaign of "rightfulness" in disregard of law and humanity. They expressed the view that the Teutonic announcements reopens the German-American dispute.

Must Avoid Armed Ships.

Washington, Feb. 11.—Diplomats of the central powers here are understood to have information from the state department on which they base the hope that the administration will soon disclaim responsibility for Americans traveling on armed belligerent ships.

It is believed that the British ambassador, Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, will soon take up the matter of the Teutonic plan informally with Secretary Lansing. There is no indication in all diplomatic circles, however, that the central powers announcement has altered the allies' disinclination to agree to disarmament.

Ambassador Gerard reported to the state department today that he had received the proclamation of Germany's intention to war on armed merchantmen.

aboard the battleship Oregon in San Francisco bay. Kirkpatrick, who was in charge of the book when it vanished, was called to trial before his superior officer, Lieutenant H. H. Jones, was called.

Paymaster E. H. Douglas, counsel for Kirkpatrick, pleaded with the court for leniency in pronouncing sentence on the ground that his client had already suffered great mental anguish.

When the court met at 1:30 this afternoon Lieutenant Jones was brought to trial.

Lieutenant Jones pleaded not guilty. Testimony of Kirkpatrick was then introduced to show that the battleship code book and the general code book were kept in a locker, the key to which was over the door in the officers' ward-robe.

The judge advocate general wanted this evidence, but counsel for Jones held it to be irrelevant. Arguments over its admission consumed quite a long time in the late afternoon.

It was understood that S. Mote, Japanese employee on the Hull, might not be a witness, though he was subpoenaed.

The findings of the court will undoubtedly be secret and will be sent to Washington before they are revealed.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—Next summer when Susie, the beach fairy, comes tripping out in her new bathing suit, which will be mostly absent and considerably skin tight, the beach censor will either throw a fit or wear blinders.
