Will Lays It to Luck.

New Orleans, Feb. 12.—Harry Mills of New Orleans, today blamed to pure luck the fact that he was put to sleep in the nineteenth round by Sam Langford last night.

Up to the time the knockout was landed, Wills had easily outfought the Boston negro. He had battered Langford unmereifully and had him groggy on one occasion. In the nineteenth, however, Sam succeeded in slipping one of his terrific lefts to the jaw and Wills went down and out.

How General Sarrail Drove The Diplomats From Salonika

By William G. Shepherd.

Salonica, Greece, Dec. 30.—(By mail) General Sarrail's headquarters. All the dependants and assistants of make it so has been a tough and a long job. General Sarrail settled it all today in one grand eleunap that was full of exciting incidents.

Ever since the allies came to Salonica spies have been here. The German, Austro-Hungarian, Bulgarian and Ottoman consulates have been open as using the consulates and the consulates are consulated as the consulates and the consulates are consulated as the consulates are consulated as the consulated as the consulated are consulated as the consulated as the field forces it was necessary at once to remove from Salonica all enemy citizens and consular representatives.

Salonica, as a military precaution, had to be made an all-ally city. Hoy to do it was the question. The consuls would not go; their governments would not recall them; and so long as they remained their nationals would not denart.

"It's jolly to make you play! How soft you purr when I stroke your fur.

And your claws are all tucked away! I love you ever so much for that," Said a little girl to a pussy-cat. depart.

The beginning of the end came this morning when a flock of three German-neroplanes soured over Salonica and dropped forty bombs on the surrounding eamps. At noon the visit was repeated. The warships in the harbor fired shrapnel but missed the fliers. A lonely Bulgarian shepherd, three miles out of town on a hillside with his flock of sheep, was hit by a German shell and he and five of his sneep were killed.

You killed a poor little baby bird That lived in our apple-tree. You can't be dear to me after that,'' Said a little girl to a pussy-cat, "O little maid,' said the pussy-cat, "You are gentle and kind, they say, flock of sheep, was hit by a German shell and he and five of his sneep were killed.

Many German and Austrian strangers also resided in the hotels. The allies had no control over their coming or going. This situation was not so dangerous to the ally forces so long as they were fighting in Serbia, but when the troops fell back into Greece and Salonica became headquarters for the field forces it was necessary at once
