

SOCIETY

Mrs. Ine Fisher Hickerson presented Miss Ethel McDonald, reader, in a private recital Thursday evening at her home, 560 North 21st street. Miss McDonald gave five numbers, the last one was a monologue, 'Aunt Sophronia Tabor at the Opera,' which was given in costume. After the programme, the guests enjoyed a dainty lunch. The rooms were prettily and effectively adorned with Valentine decorations.

Mrs. Lawrence Bunn was the motif of a pleasant surprise party Friday, when a number of friends and relatives gathered with well filled baskets for dinner and a general good time. Pretty Valentine place cards were made by the guests and marked covers for: Mrs. C. E. Whitney and Miss Edith Whitney, Mrs. J. W. Hagedorn, Mrs. Lloyd Hameden, Mrs. J. W. Shaffer, Mrs. Henry Panzer, Mrs. C. G. Witzell, Mrs. Lawrence Bunn, Miss Bonnie Bunn and Miss Mabel Savage.

The ladies of the Women's Alliance of the Unitarian church were entertained by Mrs. J. W. Cox, 354 N. Winter street Friday afternoon. In addition to the regular work of the alliance a very interesting programme appropriate to the memory of Lincoln was given. After the singing of 'American,' Mrs. Wm. Hamilton read 'O Why Should the Spirit of Moral Be Proud?' Lincoln's favorite poem.

Mrs. R. Cartwright read Ingersoll's tribute to Lincoln and Mrs. E. F. Carleton, 'The Gettysburg Address,' being followed by appropriate selections by others present and closed by the singing of patriotic songs.

The rooms were patriotically decorated with flags and pictures of Abraham Lincoln. Later the hostess served refreshments. Friday evening the parent-teachers association of the Simonson school held a meeting at the school building. At the business session, Mrs. W. H. Walsh was elected president to succeed Mrs. Olinger.

During the meeting the association voted to buy chairs for the primary class, and to purchase basket ball and playground apparatus for the children. Later a short musical programme was enjoyed by all present.

The Loyal Order of Moose have issued invitations for a Valentine dance to be given at the Moose hall, Monday evening, February the fourteenth. Rehearsals began this week by the choir of St. Paul's Episcopal church for the presentation of Sir John Stainer's Passion Oratorio, 'The Crucifixion' to be given, sometimes during Holy Week this year, probably on the evening of Good Friday, April 15. Stainer's Crucifixion is one of the best known sacred oratorios, modeled on the style of Bach's Passion music. It is rich in harmonic effect, and has been extensively used, both in full and in part. The well-known anthem 'God So Loved the World' forms one number as does the tender solo 'King of Kings.' There are twenty numbers in all including several hymns.

Solo parts are to be taken by Thomas Williams, Frank G. Deckebach and George C. L. Snyder. A scintillating vaudeville benefit will be given at the Grand theatre on the night of March the fourth, under the auspices of the Moose lodge. In the repertoire of attractions offered for charity, the vaudeville never fails to interest—say what we please to the contrary. The entertainers for the evening will include an all star imported cast and a number of clever local men.

One of the most attractive specialties of the benefit will be the exquisite and artistic dances given by Miss Eriella Fleming at Willard Hall, who are most graceful and excellent exponents of the art. The dances which they are now rehearsing under the tutorage of an expert, will be the latest and most interesting of the season's contributions.

The personnel of the committee in charge of the affair is Ernest Blue, George Patterson and Benjamin Brick. Enthusiasm is already keen for the benefit and there is little doubt that the house will be crowded, notwithstanding the heavy demand made upon Salem for the local and other charities this season.

Salem High Toys With Corvallis and Wins By One Sided Score

The Salem high school basketball team again demonstrated their claim to being the class of the academics of the state when they administered an unmerciful drubbing to the Corvallis high school by a score of 85 to 11. The score at the end of the first half was 24 to 4 and the Salem boys attempted to let up a little on the visitors but they were unable to keep from scoring and just dropped in baskets through force of habit whenever they felt that way. The Corvallis boys showed up as a class, all organized bench in comparison with the clever teamwork and skill of the Salem players and the game held little interest from a spectator's standpoint. The lineups follow: Corvallis—Adams, center; Bailiff, Spence, forwards; Corbett, Fisher, guards. Salem—Gill, center; Broctor, C. Radcliffe, forwards; R. Radcliffe, Ackerman, guards. Referee—Gingrich.

VEGETABLE GARDENING

The following article by J. W. Marney, president of the Salem Floral society, is of interest to those concerned in landscape gardening, as well as the planting of flowers. The floral society will hold its monthly meeting at the Commercial club Monday evening at 8 o'clock. The Salem Floral society wishes to convince all house holders of the importance of having neat and successful vegetable gardens in back yards and vacant lots in place of weeds, unweeded lawns or rubbish. Such a garden not only improves the home appearance but adds to the city's good looks and helps property values. A lot heretofore vacant planted in potatoes ought to produce from $25 to $35 and in general "truck" perhaps as high as $75 worth of produce to the family using it. A small patch in rear premises, thoroughly fertilized and intensively cultivated and irrigated would help materially in reducing living expenses. Such gardens will warrant the expense of seeds, plants, and spading or plowing. Seeds should be purchased only from reputable seed firms who sell the best. Plants should be purchased from reliable market gardeners who raise good truck themselves. Persons having vacant lots and not caring to use them would help a good cause by donating their use to individuals who need land to cultivate. The society will endeavor if notified to secure someone to garden such a lot. As soon as the ground can be cultivated the following varieties can be put in: Spinach, early peas, radishes, leeks, carrots, lettuce, potatoes, parsnips, and also early cabbage and cauliflower plants. From the 20th of April on tomatoes, egg plants and peppers can be set out. After May 1st squash, watermelons, and corn or beans should be planted.

Ex-Senator Dixon Would Nominate Roosevelt

Missoula, Mont., Feb. 12.—Joseph M. Dixon, former United States senator from Montana, and until recently chairman of the Progressive National committee, today announced his candidacy as a delegate to the republican national convention to be held in Chicago, in June and declared that he believes both the progressive and republican conventions should unite in the nomination of Theodore Roosevelt as candidate of a re-organized and triumphant republican party. In his formal announcement Dixon declares that he is not acting with the knowledge or consent of Roosevelt and that he is taking this step in his own personal responsibility.

A Jew Christian To Speak Tomorrow

A remarkable young Jew is in our city and will speak at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. His name is Joseph Cohn and he is the son of ex-Rabbi Cohn, founder of the noted Williamsburg mission to the Jews of New York City. There are nearly a million and a half of Jews in New York City and thousands of them have never heard the gospel. In the section where this mission is located are gathered 300,000 Jews, and only 28,000 are in the synagogues. Mr. Cohn's father was converted over 20 years ago while he was a rabbi in Austria-Hungary. Mr. Cohn will tell of the thrilling experiences of his father, both before and after his conversion and will describe some of the manners and customs of his people as well as their hopes and aspirations so little known by the Christian world. Mr. Cohn is an interesting speaker and he has a wonderful message, which everyone should hear.

Jews Fighting Jews. Joseph Cohn, the Christian Jew who is to speak at the First Presbyterian church tomorrow afternoon was discussing recently the present European struggle and its effects upon the Jews of the world. "Eighty per cent of all Jews in the world are now directly or indirectly involved in the great war," he said. "The actual figures are 9,800,000 Jews." He continued, "and the pathetic thing about it is that they are the helpless victims of conditions and powers over which they have no control. In Russia, for instance, there are, it is estimated, some 500,000 Jews actually at the front fighting for the czar on the various battle lines. The poor Jew owes no allegiance to Russia, which has been his bitterest enemy and destroyer for a thousand years, yet he is loyal to the czar just the same. Likewise in Germany there are some 75,000 Jews enlisted in the German army; Austria-Hungary also has between 75,000 and 100,000 Jews in the allied armies. England has so far enlisted 15,000 Jews, of which number over 8,000 are known to have gone to the front. Thus we have the amazing spectacle of seeing brother Jew arrayed against brother Jew in battle, a thing hitherto unheard of. One very sad incident occurred recently in the Russian Poland campaign. A Jewish soldier in the German lines fired at another soldier on the Russian side who immediately dropped dead. The German Jew went up to the body, turned it over, and was horrified to find that he had shot his own brother. The shock was so great that he turned his gun on himself and committed suicide over the body of his brother. The conditions of suffering brought on the Jews is indescribable. In spite of the czar's professed love for his Jewish subjects, there are even now going on massacres and butcheries in Poland that would make the Belgian atrocities pale into insignificance in comparison. Yet the Jew has no alternative, either he must fight for Russia, or be shot as a traitor.

"Now, about the possibilities of a renewed Palestine movement for the Jews, it is yet too early in the war to foretell with any degree of accuracy what may take place. One thing seems certain, Turkey is doomed, and with the annihilation of Turkey there may come a greater freedom for the Jews in the reclaiming of their own land. England has already given a pledge to the Jewish Zionist leaders that as soon as the war is ended she will see to it that the Jews are given some sort of protectorate to guarantee their safe possession and developing of the Holy Land. Whether England will be able to carry out this promise, remains to be seen. We must remember that Russia is very greedy for the Holy Land herself, and it should not be at all surprising to see the next great war breaking out between England and Russia, and that over the question of who shall have a protection to her possessions in India, while Russia has desperate need of the land for the extension of her own ambitions."

Tomorrow Mr. Cohn's subject will be, 'How a Jewish Rabbi Found Christ,' in which he will tell the story of his father's conversion and his present mission work in New York. New Today Ads work while you sleep—will have results for you in the morning.
