INDIANS AND Y. M. C. A. STAGE SPEEDY GAME WHICH ENDS 30 TO 31

Neck and Neck Game Won by Chemawa In Last Minute of Spirited Contest

In what was conceded by basketball critics to be the fastest basketball game played in this city this season the strong Chemawa team defeated the Y. M. C. A. team in the association gymnasium Saturday night by the close score of 31 to 30. At no time during the entire game did either team have a substantial lead. The association team led by seven points when there was but four minutes to play and this was the greatest lead of either team during the game.

For the visitors Byrd scored 21 points for his team of a total of 31. In scoring for the association team McEntire and Sweeney divided honors; Sweeney scoring 12 points and McEntire 10. The defense end of the game Brill and Williams played exceptional games. Both the Chemawa forwards were tied up in a knot most of the time and De-ney, who usually wears the rim of a basket to threads, was successful in landing but one from the field. A'ams was a little more successful and scored four baskets.

The management of the association team will arrange games with the school and Willamette university teams for the city championship and some great basketball may be expected as a result. Probably never before has each institution had teams as fast as at the present time and it is expected that a great deal of local interest will be aroused. Coach Mathews of the university has already arranged games with the Y. M. C. A. team to be played as soon as the university completes its regular schedule of games.

The line-up and score of the game follows:
Y. M. C. A. Chemawa
Sweeney (12).....E.....Downey (2)
McEntire (10).....F.....Atkins (8)
Baker (4).....C.....Byrd (8)
Brill (2).....G.....Kemerly
Williams (2).....H.....Chamberlain
Final score: Chemawa, 31; Y. M. C. A., 30.
Officials: R. L. Mathews, referee; R. C. Bishop, timer; Oscar B. Gingrich, scorer.

When you have dyspepsia your life is miserable. You have a bad taste in your mouth, a tenderness at the pit of your stomach, a feeling of puffiness, flatulence, heartburn, and sometimes nausea.

Dyspepsia is difficult digestion—that is what the word means—and the only way to get rid of it is to give vigor and tone to the stomach and the whole digestive system. Hood's Sarsaparilla, sold by all druggists, is the one medicine which acts on the stomach through the blood and also directly. Its beneficial effects are felt at once. Improvement begins immediately.

Tracing Crime Back to Anarchist Sources

Chicago, Feb. 14.—In their search for Jean Crozes, suspected in the poison banquet plot against Archbishop Mundelein, Governor Duane and others, police today followed a trail into the deepest of anarchist channels. Chief of Police Healy admitted that he had wired St. Paul authorities to seek Mrs. Gaetano Rossi, widow of the assassin of King Humbert, of Italy, inasmuch as it was reported Crozes had once roomed at her home. She recently went to St. Paul from this city, where her home was the rendezvous of a number of anarchists.

Healy declared that possibly there will be "sensational developments later" as a result of the Bresi investigation and other angles to the case. He went on to confirm a report that Crozes's letters showed a connection with the Paterson, N. J., anarchist group, though letters of John Allegrini, held as a witness, disclosed intercourse with anarchists at Trinidad, Colo., Paterson and elsewhere, authorities said.

Charles Vernon Found Dead in Hop House

Charles Vernon, aged about 60 years, was found dead yesterday afternoon in a hop house just east of the Independence ferry, near the Rose hop yards. He was found by a young man who had climbed to the top of the hop house to see whether there was any water on the low lands near. In looking into the hop house, he saw at first what appeared to be a new shoe. As soon as he learned that he had unexpectedly come upon a dead man, he telephoned Coroner Clough.

The man had apparently been dead four weeks. One shoe and stocking were off and the indications were he had died a natural death. In his pockets were found recommendations about two years old from Charles A. Parks and C. O. Constable, each stating that he was an experienced orchardist. As far as can be learned, he had no relatives and had not been in the city for about two years, although he had worked in the hop yards near Independence last fall.

The body was brought to the city last evening by Coroner Clough and will be buried in the Old-Fellows' cemetery.

Securities From Abroad Fail to Shake Market

New York, Feb. 14.—Aside from influences which operated last week to restrain a positive movement of prices, (including doubts as to what the Germans' new submarine policy will mean) the market today paid its chief attention to the arrival from Europe of another consignment of our securities. The street probably exaggerated the amount of these.

It will be observed, however, that while the street was shaking its head over the "burden or liquidation," it expressed its feelings chiefly by selling industrial shares which Europe does not hold. There were desultory and irregular declines in a number of these.

Exchange rates on London and Berlin remained as at the close of last week.

The report of the surplus of idle cars on February 1 showed 21,485, the smallest of any period since 1912.

FIRE IN MUNITION PLANT
Montreal, Feb. 12.—Fire early today damaged the Canadian Car and Foundry company works which had been engaged in production of munitions. Preliminary investigation led to the belief that it resulted from German incendiary bombs. The loss was small, and delay in getting back to work will be short.

Lincoln Honored at Banquet Given by Republican Club

Birthright of Lincoln as he was too great for a single party but was for all of the people.

Mrs. Weathered recalled the fact that her grandfather owned slaves in Carolina and that in his will he granted freedom to all of the slaves on his plantation long before the war and that there were many more below the Mason and Dixon line who believed in freedom ever to the slaves.

Charles A. Marlock said he held office under President Lincoln and had voted the republican ticket since, except at the last election when he voted for Wilson, and as yet had not regretted his action.

Attorney Walter E. Keyes, Blaine McCord, of Woodburn; Colonel E. R. For, H. L. Steeves, Senator John A. Carson, Judge L. T. Harris, M. L. Jones, Miss Elizabeth Cornelius, James G. Heltzel, W. C. Winslow and Thomas Brown also spoke in honor of Lincoln and the addresses of the evening were closed by E. H. Belknap, who was introduced as Turner's leading citizen.

Mr. Belknap's Address.
"Mr. Toastmaster, Ladies and Gentlemen: I want to congratulate the committee that have had in charge the decoration of this hall and the preparation of this banquet. Everything has been done that could have been done to make this scene beautiful, attractive and successful, and yet, believe me, nothing is too good for him whom we celebrated tonight.

"Five score and seven years ago today there was born in a little cabin in the wilds of Kentucky, Abraham Lincoln. A little voice was heard that night, in that cabin, that was destined to resound around this world, and whose measure of the free. A little heart began to beat that night which was always to beat in sympathy with the oppressed of this world.

"It would be vain for me to attempt to characterize this elevated character in five minutes, or any other given time. Just as well for an artist to attempt to catch the glory of an autumn sunset with brush and paint, or to transfer the unbounded glory of the ocean that rolls at our shore upon canvas, as it would be for a man to depict all the grandeur of this matchless figure.

"Events, like coins, like treasures, are treasured, are valued, for what they are worth. There are some treasures that we cannot estimate in value, and there are some events, like the one which we celebrate tonight, that are transcendent in their meaning and reality.

"I am glad tonight that it is my privilege to here give some expressions of our appreciation of that matchless name, a name that is above every such side of Galilee.

"I believe that that is the universal sentiment of this assembly tonight. Not since the Carpenter of Galilee has a man arisen upon the earth that fills so large a place in the heart of humanity, and we are here tonight to celebrate his praises, to commemorate the day that gave him birth.

"I am glad that Lincoln came into this world at the time that he did, in order that he could meet the problems that were then being thrust upon our republic. Mr. Lincoln's name stands pre-eminent among the names of history, not alone for the fact that he liberated four million slaves, made them free, but chiefly because he was the principal instrument in the salvation of this Union, the Union of States that composed the great Republic of the West, which was and is the expression of the thought, the aspiration and the hope, and the result of the struggle, the sacrifice and the heroism of the best and bravest of men from the dawn of human history.

"He was the man that stood for union at any cost. He never was beset with that miserable interrogation, 'What is all this worth?' or 'What is the use to try to preserve it?' but to the enemies of the Union he always said, 'The Union must and shall be preserved,' and that glorious emblem of the free inspired in him that noble sentiment, as it was over the land and over the sea, 'Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable.' That was the sentiment of the immortal Lincoln.

"What can we do to honor his name? We can emulate his memory, we can promote the principles of the republican party and the spirit of our free institutions, always remembering that every triumph of freedom only adds lustre to that name.

Bodies of Drowned Canoeists Not Recovered

Portland, Or., Feb. 14.—Although 35 members of the Portland Rowing Club dragged the flooded river and searched the banks all day yesterday, no trace was found of the bodies of Charles Kirkpatrick and Harry Gamme, the young bank clerks who were drowned Saturday afternoon when their canoe overturned five miles above Oregon City.

Six other youths who accompanied Gamme and Kirkpatrick on their Salem to Portland canoe expedition set out again today to look for the bodies. If they are not recovered within several days, members of the rowing club and the Multnomah club will patrol the river from the scene of the accident to its junction with the Columbia.

Half a mile below the scene of the drowning, Gamme's canoe was found, overturned and caught in the underbrush. Ten miles down stream a canoe paddle drifted ashore.
