EDDIE MAHAN TO COACH CALIFORNIA KICKERS

News Causes Great Enthusiasm—Tex Richard Expects Greatest Crowd

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 14.—Football enthusiasm soared on the campus of the University of California today when students read the report that Eddie Mahan, famous Harvard football star, would coach the Blue and Gold backfield next fall.

There is no confirmation of the report, but the students place much store by the statement of Ralph Merritt, controller of the university, that he believes the report is correct. John Stroud, graduate manager of athletics, refuses to confirm or deny the report but dispatches from Cambridge, Massachusetts, indicated that Harvard had already accepted the report as true.

It is said that Mahan has not yet signed a contract because he would lose his amateur standing should he do so at this time. He is expected to sign a contract immediately after graduation next June.

The report is that Mahan would be assisted to Andy Smith, who recently signed as head coach.

Moran has established training quarters at Saratoga and is already hard at work getting himself into condition. He is doing considerable heavy road work despite the cold weather and is adding to this a great deal of skating. Moran expresses supreme confidence.

EMPRESS FEATS THRILL

With a strong dual headliner and five other clever acts, the Grand theatre presented a good bill yesterday with packed houses. "Get the Money," a triple-act comedy, abounds with life and fun, while Bud Snyder, the "king of bicycle acrobats," and his pair of grotesque assistants, are attractive. Hebrew comedy and a home setting with a pretty girl, Rose, played by Gussie Shires; her peddler father,

THE VALUE OF TRUTH

Truth in business is just as important as truth in every-day life; truth creates confidence, establishes good-will and builds a reliability that will not be wrecked by the storms of competition. Through three generations people have learned to place reliance on the advertised words of Scott's Emulsion, because they are untarnished, unexaggerated truisms about a household remedy of real and actual worth.

The popularity of Scott's Emulsion is increasing as intelligence advances, because in these days of adulterations it continues to guarantee pure cod liver oil medicinally perfected with glycerine and hypophosphites to build strength, improve the blood and strengthen the lungs. It is free from alcohol or opiates—a wholesome food- tonic, truthfully advertised. Scott & Bowne, 230 South 14, N. J. 15-20

Solomon Marks, played by Harry Mason and her prizefighting brother, Abe Frank Corbet, combine to make an entertaining sketch.

There is much ado about a prize-fight, and a few minutes of screen fight in the National Sporting Club, showing Young Sullivan and Billy Roche, the referee. Then comes the climax when "Abe" wins and brings for $800 to send Rose to college. Chuck McGee, a great burly trainer, appears in the person of Lew Chester, and "Swipes," the "newsie," is Swipes himself.

A daring rider is Bud Snyder, who climbs stairs, jumps boxes and balances cleverly on his wheeled steed. His strenuous work, thrilling though it is, is parodied by two burlesque comedians, red-wigged and ragged. While the bicyclist thrills, the clowns make merry. High steps are erected at the back of the stage and to the very top Bud Snyder climbs by side jumps, then makes a leap on his wheel to a balance below, throwing the clown on his wheel in a complete somersault.

Two dancers who charm are Harry Gerard and Clara West. Their novel dancing is wild and characteristic but always graceful and pleasing. They sing also, and Miss West wears pretty gowns.

Barber and Jackson are funny and artistic with songs and jokes that are new and snappy. The man is "as long as the day" and the girl pretty and fetching in smart gowns. They're a pair that take the audience by storm and surprise it at every turn.

Balancing feats on a bounding wiper are both awe-inspiring and entertaining when done by Cadioux, who opens the bill.

"Norway and the Midnight Sun" are the incentive for songs in the act by Johnson and Connell, who sing, joke and give Swedish parodies.

Body of Minister From Chile Arrives

San Francisco, Feb. 14.—The body of Francisco Y. Herbozo, minister from Chile to the coronation of the emperor of Japan, who died en route, arrived in state aboard the Kiyo Maru today. The body will be taken to Chile.

Over it has been maintained the longest death vigil on record. Through a journey of 10,000 miles, the widow and two guards especially commissioned by the mikado have never left the coffin of the dead minister of Chile.

The state room aboard the liner in which the body of the statesman lies is banked with flowers, kept very fresh by command of the mikado in memory of his late guest. The widow has sat day and night by the side of her dead husband, reading from a tiny prayer book. A sign in four languages, signed by the mikado and posted on the door forbids the ship's passengers from passing the door or from intruding on the widow's death vigil.
