Recommend Confirmation of Fletcher's Appointment

Washington, Feb. 23.—Confirmation of the nomination of Henry P. Fletcher as ambassador to Mexico was recommended to the senate today by the senate foreign committee. Senators Borah of Idaho and Smith of Michigan dissenting.

They declared they will fight the confirmation and insist upon an open, instead of an executive session, to consider it. Their opposition is based upon the fact that President Wilson, in replying to the Fall resolution for Mexican data, withheld important information.

Arrested Suspect Had Plenty of Explosives

North Plains, Or., Feb. 23.—Two suspects were in jail today after a dynamite, dynamite caps and fuse had been found in the lumber yards of Halmebeck Bros. mill. The explosive had been cached under a pile of railroad ties near the mill.

Two suspects were arrested. Each and several bars of soap in his possession. This didn't guarantee their virtue in the eyes of the sheriff, for soap sometimes is used in the delicate process of blowing a safe.

The prisoners are believed to be vegans. It is not thought they and designs against the lumber mill, unless they were attracted by its safe.

HUBBARD NEWS

Mrs. Jacob Stauffer, of Aurora, formerly of Hubbard, visited in Hubbard the first of the week.

C. W. Marger spent Tuesday in Portland on business connected with the Hubbard creamery.

Mrs. Jennie Hawgood left on Wednesday for Turlock and San Francisco, California, for three weeks looking after business.

Dr. Schor was called to Woodburn Wednesday to attend Mrs. S. C. Curtis who is suffering from a complication of diseases.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Johnson at Butteville gave a tea and three fourths pound baby daughter, born on the 14th, St. Valentine day.

Monday was onion set day in Hubbard. Three hundred sacks were delivered at the station. This lot going to the Chicago market.

Ralph Martin is home from Juneau, Alaska, after being away from the state about a year. He left Juneau on the second and arrived in Hubbard on the fourteenth, stopping in Seattle a short time. He expects to visit the old home town a few days before seeking a new location.—Enterprise.

LOUISIANA FLOODED

New Orleans, La., Feb. 22.—The Louisiana flood situation grew serious again today with Avoyelles being submerged and the streets of Ashwood and Rayville already inundated.

A HEALTH STATEMENT

New York, Feb. 23.—Health commissioners told the congestion committee that persons living in dark cellars are as healthy as inhabitants of sunny apartments.

Sheep Losses Are Severe During the Late Cold Weather

Portland, Ore., Feb. 23.—Losses of close to 500,000 sheep are reported in the Pacific northwest states during the winter, according to special reports received by The Journal from its special correspondents.

The losses during the season are said to be the greatest ever known in the four states of Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Washington. The total supply of sheep available for shearing this season will therefore be somewhat diminished from previous expectations.

According to the reports, the losses in lambing, which has recently started, have been enormous. Just what the totals are in this line it is impossible to ascertain at the moment, but reports indicate that they are serious.

Cattle losses are also reported as heavier than usual because of the protracted cold spell, and the great shortage of feed in the interior. It is also stated that considerable loss is shown of hogs, although in that line the totals are smaller than in cattle and sheep.

Wool Goes Higher

With wool on the dollar basis for clean in the Atlantic seaboard markets, the highest price there in 50 years, indications point to some very strong bidding for the Pacific coast clips of the current season.

Contracts are being eagerly sought at all Pacific coast points by eastern mill representatives with prices offering at an advance of 2c a pound over what similar quality was bringing a year ago.

The volume of contracts has been exceedingly small. Wool growers are showing no disposition generally to accept the prices offered and as the foreign fleece would cost milling interests more money than they are at present offering for domestic stock, quality considered, the future of the price and trade seems unusually bright.

A late Philadelphia mail advice says of the general trend of the trade: Wool is scarce and high. Values at home and abroad are at the topmost level since the Civil war. The clean cost of $1 a pound has been reached. Local wool men also say, with the increased consumption and reduced production in the United States, Australia and South America, the time is propitious for a speculative movement on a grand scale.

The last epoch of the kind, it was remarked in the local market, was in 1900. The movement that year, those who experienced it declare, collapsed the instant the periscope of trade revealed plenty of wool the world over, and thus showed that no substantial basis supported the "boom." Opposite conditions, it was pointed out, exist now, and while it was denied that the purchases were speculative in intent, much of the business of the past fortnight, comprised trading among dealers. Contracting in the west by local houses, and Great Britain's decision that no more licenses to ship merinos from the United Kingdom would be issued, were the features of the wool market last week.

Hogs Sell at $8.00.

There was another fair run of swine in the North Portland yards, and the trade was barely steady, with extreme top at $8.00. While a sale of two of extra good stuff, with no additional freight to northern markets was made Monday at $8.05-8.15, the bulk of the stuff did not sell above $8.00 for the very best.

Killers have ample stocks of swine on hand for immediate requirements, and are therefore rather independent of fresh arrivals.

General hog market ranges:
Choice light weights $ 8.00
Good light weights 7.90-7.95
Medium weights 7.75-7.80
Rough and heavy 7.50-7.60

Cattle Market is Weak.

Market for cattle continues weak, as reported in Monday's report. Sales then did not reflect anything better than 47-50 for extreme top quality, and the situation during the day was indicating no improvement.

Killers have quite fair stocks of cattle on hand, and, as in the swine trade, are not anxious bidders. There is no mystery at all attached to the present weakness. It is simply a case of a temporary oversupply.

Eggs Are Weakening.

Fresh eggs along front street show a further weakening of the trade and a lowering of prices in some instances.

Sales of case count were reported cents a dozen but the trade was unable to clean up and some trading was reported and confirmed at 24 1/2 cents.

Receipts of eggs are fast increasing along the wholesale way and for that reason outside markets are absolutely necessary in order to clean up as it is much too early for the storage season to start and even then prices are far too high for such a purpose.

Inland Empire points continue the chief buyers of the surplus stocks of eggs in this market. Heavy shipments were sent in that direction during the last 24 hours.

While the California egg market is recovering slightly from their recent extreme weakness sales are still lower than here.
