Pay No Heed to Oregon.

Complaints do not seem to be judiciously handled, local officials burdened with a multitude of operating troubles cannot or will not act, and much delay and dissatisfaction is caused by referring every important matter to San Francisco. With practically 1200 miles of operated railroad in this state your consideration to these properties and the well-being of your patrons.

Cars have been moving eastward and held at Atlantic and Gulf points, serving as warehouses, and the west has been practically drained of closed equipment.

After a long season of stagnation, extending over several years, conditions in the lumber industry began improving; old established mills resumed operations and new mills were building. Prices for lumber increased, the demand became greater and indications were promising for the future. Then transportation facilities became inadequate to handle the business. Now many mills are threatened with failure, and instead of a maximum of capacity, small shifts and short hours are the rule and this condition is delaying the opening of other mills.

Instead of decreasing the shortage is increasing and information in our possession tends to show that this shortage is much more acute in Oregon than in either California or Washington. Other industries besides lumbering must suffer unless this situation can be relieved. Prompt delivery is the key to the lumber industry and unless reasonably quick transportation can be had tenders will be refused and present orders cancelled. Reports come to us that some Oregon mills are placing orders with their competitors in Washington in order to retain their custom and obtain more expeditious service.

ALKAHI IN SOAP

BAD FOR THE HAIR

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulisified coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoons will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulisified coconut oil at any pharmacy, its very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

SOCIETY

ALINE THOMPSON

HONORING Miss Edna Jose, a popular bride-elect, Mrs. Louis Jose and Mrs. Armin Steiner were hostesses this afternoon at the former's residence, for a charming bridge party. Their guests besides the honoree included about thirty matrons and maids.

Miss Hazel Erickson will leave Saturday morning for a fortnight's visit in Portland where she will be the guest of friends.

Mrs. R. B. Houston and Mrs. L. M. Pecks have asked a number of matrons for a charming Kensington Saturday afternoon. Monday they will again entertain at a similar affair, both being given at Mrs. Houston's residence on South Commercial street.

About fifty matrons of the missionary tea club met at Mrs. B. L. Steeves' attractive residence Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Carl Doney and Mrs. Cornelius presided over the meeting. Following the business session the hostess served refreshments.

The tea table at which Mrs. Merrill and Mrs. Savage presided was most artistic with an airy, spring-like arrangement of lovely fragrant violets and greens.

Mrs. Steeves was assisted by Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. G. Edson and Mrs. Hale.

The Degree of Honor Sewing club met Thursday afternoon at McCornack hall. Following a pleasurable afternoon of needlework the guests were served dainty refreshments.

The club members present were: Mesdames Carrie Holman, Edith Parr, Emma Snook, Bertha Vlesko, Sylvia Richter, W. White, Margaret Demeter, Pearl Rolph, Minnie Patterson, Jessie Crossan, Nellie Aufrance and Amanda Anderson.

The invited guests were: Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Orey and Mrs. Collidge.

Miss Margaret Putnam has as her guests for the Grand Military Ball tonight, Miss Mary Stevens, Dr. Walter Blyde and Tom Stevens, of Albany, and Mr. Thompson, of Medford.

Following the dance Miss Putnam will be hostess for a jolly informal supper party.

Mrs. A. Klein and Mrs. John Lewis returned last Friday from a three months' sojourn in Los Angeles, California.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves will have their week end guests Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hunt, of Shaw, Oregon.

Mrs. H. A. Lyons, who has been the house guest of Mrs. W. V. Johnson, left last Saturday for her home in Wood Lake, Nebraska.

En route Mrs. Lyons will visit friends in Seattle and Sunnyside, Washington.

FOUR WEEKS IN HOSPITAL

Mrs. Brown Finally Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"For years I suffered so sometimes it seemed as though I could not stand it any longer. It was all in my lower organs. At times I could hardly walk, for if I stepped on a little stone I would almost faint. One day I did faint and my husband was sent for and the doctor came. I was taken to the hospital and stayed four weeks but when I came home I would faint just the same and had the same pains.

A friend who is a nurse said for me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I began taking it that very day for I was suffering a great deal. It has already done me more good than the hospital. To anyone who is suffering as I was my advice is to stop in the first drug-store and get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before you go home."—Mrs. W. C. Brown, 1109 Auburn Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio.

accepted these indignities as one of the whims of the machine—he calls it "she."

Yesterday, however, the event happened that added insult to injury. Mr. Muths rode the machine home to dinner and as it was cold and wet he covered it with his heavy coat and left it standing on the curb. The coat fell against the exhaust pipe and the heat caused the garment to catch on fire and the meal at the Muths residence was interrupted by a loud explosion when the flames seized the gasoline tank. Luckily the machine suffered no serious injury except that the tank was melted and the paint scorched in a few places. A blanket smothered on the flames and the fire department was not called out.

"Are the Learned Professions Overcrowded?" Quoting the phrase from Emerson, "If you can write a book better than anyone else, if you can build a better mousetrap than anyone else; even though your house is in the depths of the jungle forest, it will not be long before the crowd will beat a path to your doorstep for your product." The same is true said Judge Benson in regard to the professions of law, medicine or theology. The best never need to worry for fear they will not have something to do; for the supply of the best is far below the demand for them. In order to be one of the best there are certain requirements to be followed: First, always know that there is no royal road to success, you must pay the price which consists of a thorough and diligent preparation for your work and after you attain success keep on digging and working to stay at the top. There is no place that you can attract and then take a vacation for the rest of your life, you must constantly keep working to improve yourself.

Beautiful Bust and Shoulders are possible if you will wear a scientifically constructed Ben Jole Brasstiere.

The dragging weight of an unconfined bust stretches the supporting muscles that the contour of the figure is spoiled, but the bust back where it belongs, prevents the fall, but from having the appearance of flabbiness, eliminates the danger of dragging muscles and refines the flesh of the shoulder giving a graceful line to the entire upper body.

They are the simplest and most serviceable garments imaginable—come in all materials and styles: Cross Back, Hook Front, Surplice, Bandeau, etc. Bowed with "Waldin," the rustless boning—permitting washing without removal.

Have your dealer show you Ben Jole Brasstieres, if not stock, we will gladly send him, prepaid, samples to show you.

BENJAMIN & JOHNSON, 31 Warren Street, Newark, N. J.

Two reasons for failure in the learned professions are:

1.—A mistaken choice of a profession. Oftentimes people enter into profession which they later find they are unfitted for from physical or other conditions.

2.—Sluggish indifference to worthy preparation for the profession. Everyone, to a greater or less extent, has certain inherent characteristics which must to a large extent determine their profession. Some are better fitted for one work than another. If you feel that you could be a good farmer, don't spoil your life by studying law and becoming a poor lawyer. Find what you are best suited to then work hard and success awaits you.

Representative N. J. Sinnott will represent the Public Service Commission of Oregon at the hearing to be conducted at Washington, D. C., March 7 and 8 by the Interstate Commerce Commission, according to information received today at the offices of the Public Service Commission.

The Information Bureau of the war department's western headquarters asked the state department of education to furnish data of a military nature concerning the students in the schools and colleges in Oregon. The war department asks for a list of all of the schools and colleges in the state and their location, also the number of boys attending who are over the age of 18 years and the number of schools in this state in which military instruction is given.

Last night the senior and freshman basketball teams played the deciding game of the series for the silver loving cup. Had the seniors won it would have tied the freshman, sophomore and senior teams for first place, but by the freshman winning they are practically assured of receiving the championship cup.

The game was fast and several spectacular individual plays made it brilliant at times, the first half closed with the score 4-2 in favor of the seniors, but in the latter part of the second half the freshmen came back with a rush the final score showed they had won 15-9. The line-ups for the two teams was:

Freshmen:	Seniors:
Sparks.....F..... Ridgeway	Esteb.....P..... Gerhart
Mann.....C..... Bain	Archibald.....G..... Gleiser
