ALINE THOMPSON

IN the repertoire of attractions on society's calendar this season, "A Mid Summer Night's Dream," to be presented by the drama class of the Salem Women's club at the Grand Hotel, Saturday afternoon and evening, April the twenty-second, will no doubt overshadow all other local offerings in charm and excellence.

The comedy will be read by Mrs. Anna Rogers Fish whose ability is always reflected in every detail of her work. To complete the artistry of the performance there will be a musical setting from Mendelssohn with Mrs. William Burghardt, Jr., at the piano, and a group of prominent society women including Mrs. R. M. Hofer, Mrs. George Palmer Putnam, Mrs. T. H. Galloway and Mrs. John J. Roberts, appearing in the quartet, duet and solo parts. The offering will be further enhanced by Miss Mildred White who will give the clown dance and a dozen other dainty little maids in the dance of the fairies. The date for this benefit is extremely apropos, as it marks the 300th anniversary of the author William Shakespeare. The proceeds from the entertainment will be used toward the building of a woman's club in this city.

The drama class is composed of the following women: Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. John H. Alberts, Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. William H. Burghardt, Jr., Mrs. E. F. Carlton, Mrs. H. P. Minto, Mrs. John H. McNary, Mrs. S. A. Koser, Mrs. H. H. Fish, Mrs. E. J. Dyer, Mrs. Robert J. Hendricks, Miss Mattie Beatty and Miss Edith Hazzard.

One of the most attractive social functions of the week was the party for which Judge and Mrs. William Galloway and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Minto were hosts Friday evening.

The Galloway residence, where the affair was given, was artistic in arrangement and detail, the decorations and appointments, being suggestive of St. Patrick's day. The card rooms were all done in feathery greens, pussy willow, and pale yellow daffodils. Fourteen tables of the game were circled by the guests, card favors being awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ablich.

Assisting the hostesses were: Mrs. R. B. Houston, Mrs. L. M. Boggs, Miss Zilpha Galloway and Miss Ruth Boggs. Their guests included Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Sutherland, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Aldrich, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mills, Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Steussloff, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. George Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Moon, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Galloway, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Craig, Miss and Mrs. Carey F. Martin, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Fry, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGilchrist, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Emmett, Woodburn, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Miles, Mr. and Mrs. A. I. Eoff, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Downing, Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Boggs, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Poiral, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wain, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davey, Mr. and Mrs. E. Cooke Patton, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Daney, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hofer, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. A. Steiner, Mr. Eugene Houston, Miss Florence McKinnis, Miss Ruth Boggs, Mrs. R. B. Houston.

Miss Edna Jesse again will be honored Friday at a luncheon to be presided over by Mrs. Roy Mills. It will be an informal affair and will include only intimate friends of the bride elect.

One of the smartest and most attractive affairs of the week was the informal tea for which Mrs. John McNary was hostess this afternoon to honor her house guests the Misses Gertrude and Margaret Gray, of Seattle, and Miss Eva Bailey, of Hillsboro.

The rooms were artistic and spring like, with golden yellow daffodils and greenery.

Miss Gertrude Gray presided at the tea table which was particularly lovely and dainty with an arrangement of graceful ferns, fluffly tulle bows and pale yellow candles.

Assisting in the dining room were: Miss Veda Cross and Miss Margaret Gray.

About twenty maids and younger matrons called during the tea hour including: Mrs. George William Gray, Mrs. Frank Spears, Mrs. William Connell Dyer, Mrs. Elmer Ladden, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. Clyde Graham, Mrs. Zadoc Riggs, Miss Elizabeth Lord, Miss Rita Steiner, Miss Ellen Thielson, Miss Veda Cross, Miss Aline Thompson, the Misses Esther and Catherine Carson, Miss Ida Simmons, Miss Mable Robertson, Miss Margery Marvin, Miss Grace Bean, Miss Cora Talkingdon and Miss Marie Hofer.

Mrs. Henry Meyers went to Portland Friday to attend the third annual state conference of the Daughters of the American Revolution held at the Hotel Benson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wain were hosts Tuesday evening for the Cherry City Five Hundred club.

The rooms were aglow with an artist arrangement of golden blossoms and greens. Carl honors were awarded to Mrs. Robert Downing and Douglas Minto.

Mrs. J. B. Craig assisted Mrs. Wain.

Mrs. Fred H. Thompson and Mrs. W. E. Moreland were hostesses Thursday for an attractive luncheon. The affair was given at the Thompson residence in honor of Mrs. John Bailey.

Baskets of golden daffodils and festoons of greenery made an effective setting for the small luncheon tables, which were adorned with yellow shaded candles.

The appointments were unusually artistic, dainty place cards marking covers for Mrs. R. B. Goodin, Mrs. J. C. Moreland, Mrs. F. L. Utter, Mrs. G. Bellinger, Mrs. Ray Pemberton, Mrs. Otto Wilson, Mrs. Carl G. Doney, Mrs. R. L. Steeves, Mrs. L. Leedy, Mrs. C. J. Green, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Elliott Colony, Mrs. Corey and Mrs. P. E. Graber.

Messages of sympathy are finding their way to Mrs. Edwin L. Baker upon the death of her mother, Mrs. Emma Brinkerhoff, in Winthrop, Washington, Thursday. Upon the news of her mother's very delicate condition, Mrs. Baker immediately left for Washington, only to receive the sad message on her arrival in Portland. Mrs. Baker did not continue her trip but returned that afternoon.

A delightful and artistic affair of the mid-week was that for which Mrs. Robert Hendricks and Mrs. Fred Stewart were hostesses Thursday afternoon at the beautiful Hendricks residence on Summer street. Over twenty prominent matrons of the Thursday afternoon club were asked to participate in the afternoon, which was made unusually memorable by Mrs. Alice H. Dodd who told the Blue Bird story in an artistic and inspiring manner. The rooms were aglow with spring blossoms and pussy willow, baskets of similar flowers adorning the small refreshment tables which were arranged in the dining room.

Mrs. Paul Johnson gave a most enjoyable afternoon of sewing Friday, having a score or more of guests, including besides the maids and matrons of the La Couder club, Mrs. Frank Meyers, Mrs. Grant Bonnell and Mrs. Armin Steiner.

Mrs. Walter Minier was hostess on Thursday afternoon for an enjoyable sewing, including as her guests the members of the W. A. E. club.

During the afternoon Mrs. W. R. Kane favored the guests with several delightful instrumental selections.

Mrs. Cecil Cooper and Mrs. Daniel Bright assisted the hostess in the serving.

The club is composed of the following matrons: Mrs. R. S. Nelson, Mrs. M. E. Moore, Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, Mrs. W. R. Kane, Mrs. Charles M. Fuller, Mrs. L. Mickelson, Mrs. Warren Poole, Mrs. W. O. Asselin, Mrs. A. A. Gueffroy and Mrs. W. B. Minier.

Additional guests of the afternoon were: Mrs. Cecil Cooper, Mrs. Daniel Bright, Mrs. E. M. Rulifson and Mrs. J. C. Cooper.

Sunday evening a musical service will be given at the First Methodist church, under the direction of Dr. Frank Wilbur Chase.

A chorus of fifty voices will enhance the excellent programme which will also include a number of solos by Miss Lela MacCaddam, Miss Louise Benson, soprano; Miss Ruth Fugate and Miss Lucile Barton, alto; A. A. Schramm, tenor; R. R. Jones and Richard Barton, bass.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Olinger on the Wallace road, was the scene of a pleasant surprise party Friday evening in honor of the silver anniversary of their wedding.

Their friends assembled with belles, thus announcing their arrival.

During the evening the couple was presented with a beautiful gift by their guests, including the ladies of the Sweet Briar club and their husbands.

The guests were favored with music and readings, games were also enjoyed. Supper was served the Merry Makers by Miss Olinger.

Those participating in the festivities were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Olinger, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Peetes, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Dunn, Mr. and Mrs. C. Beckett, Mr. and Mrs. Chaffee, Mr. and Mrs. W. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. Isherwood, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Moll, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Adams, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Webb, Mrs. James Imiah, Mrs. Jennie Hodson, Mrs. J. C. Ferguson, Miss Mildred Imiah, Miss Mildred Bunn, Lockwood Franklin and Gaynel Beckett.

Mrs. G. C. Wills was hostess Friday afternoon for an enjoyable sewing, her guests being the members of the Three Ink Needle club.

After a short business meeting the guests indulged in games appropriate of St. Patrick's day.

Mrs. Ida McDaniels and Mrs. C. J. Nichols captured the prizes.

Mrs. A. A. Miller assisted the hostess in serving dainty refreshments.

A SPRING TONIC

Old Reliable Hood's Sarsaparilla is Pleasant and Effective.

In the spring your blood is impure and weak, eruptions appear on your face and body, you lack vitality, strength and animation, your appetite is poor and you feel all tired out. Get Hood's Sarsaparilla from any druggist. It combines just the roots, barks, herbs and other substances that you need.

It purifies and strengthens the blood—makes the rich red blood that you must have to feel well, look well, eat and sleep well. This is confirmed by thousands of letters from people in all parts of the country.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best spring medicine, but is not simply a spring medicine—it is an all-the-year-around blood purifier and tonic. Remember it has stood the test of forty years. Be sure to get Hood's, and get it today.

Among the smart social functions scheduled for next week are the attractive bridge parties for which Mrs. E. C. Cross and Miss Veda Cross will be hostesses Thursday and Friday afternoons. Their guests will include about thirty matrons and maids of the smart set Thursday and the same number on Friday.

At the tea hour the party will be augmented by about a dozen more guests.

Messages of sympathy are finding their way to Mrs. Edwin L. Baker upon the death of her mother, Mrs. Emma Brinkerhoff, in Winthrop, Washington, Thursday. ONE of the most delightful memories of the week was the Monday night dance—the Moose hall. The affair, which was attended by a large number of the members composed of a long list of the younger girls and men and married contingent was followed by several supper parties, among the hosts were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Webb, who presided at a supper, their party including: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Myers, Mr. and Mrs. Merin Harding, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Boston, Mr. and Mrs. Craig Marvin, Miss Harriett Hargrove and William Walton.

Mrs. Jesse Flanders, of Portland, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. L. F. Griffith.

Charming and informal with fragrant Ayaenith blossoms arranged about the drawing room, a group of society matrons enjoyed bridge with Mrs. George Rodgers as hostess Thursday afternoon.

Sixteen guests circled the tables, including the Thursday afternoon club and Mrs. Ben Olett, Mrs. James Wilson, and Mrs. Jesse Flanders of Portland.

The attractive card favor fell to Mrs. Milton Meyers.

Mrs. Joseph Rethelid (Marguerite Egan) of Portland, is a guest at the Egan country place.

The handsome and artistic Frame and Giftery Shop will be formally opened next Friday and Saturday, when the Gilberts will give a reception both in the afternoon and evening to their patrons.

A charming musical programme will be given by Mrs. Carlton Smith, Miss Lucile Barton and Miss Marguerite Flower, interspersed by piano selections and readings.

The matrons of the Brode Embroidery club were delightfully entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Fred Erickson. By way of varying the sewing the guests appeared in fancy costumes.

Gay colored gowns were effectively arranged about the room.

Mrs. Joseph Reinhart assisted her mother in the serving.

As additional guests Mrs. Erickson asked Mrs. Stanley Morgan and Mrs. F. T. Harlan.

Mrs. Milton Meyers had about sixteen prominent matrons at her home for an attractive bridge Monday afternoon.

A veritable air of spring time surrounded the guests, a harmony of fragrant pink hyacinths and pale yellow daffodils being effectively used in the drawing room and dining room.

Card favors fell to Mrs. Harry Olinger, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner and Mrs. Joseph Albert.

Assisting were: Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. Harry Olinger and Miss Barbara Steiner.

Mrs. Walter Minier was hostess on Thursday afternoon for an enjoyable sewing, including as her guests the members of the W. A. E. club.

Margaret Mason Writes of Gotham Fads and Fashions

By Margaret Mason.

What ravishing frocks For we curly locks Fine feathers for little birds fine, What fetching chapeaux What stunning manteaux For little Miss Three-up-to-Nine

New York, March 10.—They're little, but Oh my! For frocks and frills the tiny dolls mount up as enormous bills as the big gals. No longer are little sisters content with dresses made over out of big sister's or mother's cast offs. Nowadays, with all the sophistication of a full grown follower of vogue, the wee ones insist on the latest Spring lines and silhouettes in the replenishment of their wardrobes. Like the elders, the children's styles smack of period dressing; Louis Seize, directoire, 1800, 1830 and also Louis Quize. Of course all their skirts are as full and wide as their mother's and but a modicum shorter. Cuning little peasant frocks with pointed bodices of laced black velvet over short sleeved, frilly blouses of white batiste and little full flowered skirts of challie or crepe are quaintly charming and also childish. Many indeed are the little models shown with separate waists and skirts, some with penguins and others with little suspender effects to match the skirt material. Dear indeed to the hearts of little girlhood are these miniature separate skirt and blouse affairs just like a real grown up lady's. One of the suspender models comes with a skirt of striped green and white lines, a veritable little shirt waist of white baristo, its turn over collar and cuffs finished with a frilling picot edged in green. A wide, band like belt of plain green linen embroidered in a vine of white has two wide suspender straps going one over each shoulder, the square ends of which protrude below the belt line in little tab effects, like a penguin. This model also comes in rose and white and blue and white. As for coats, they are all narrow across the shoulders and flare modishly toward the finish. Silk pelmas or gabardine are the smartest materials, always of course including faille. Some of them show touches of smoking, insets below the high waist line of blocks and pleats or tucks and some are frogged smartly in gold or silver braid. Yet others rely on a collar of real lace, a jeweled button or two or just the lustre of the material to add chic. Hats run mostly to inverted bowl effects of leghorn and Milan braid or to quaint little bonnets. Picot edged ribbons are used lavishly as trimming, as are button roses and the gay cherries so beloved of the grown ups just now. Little feet shod in high, white-kid-topped patent leathers and white silk stockings show dazlingly below the full short skirts just like Mother's. Indeed, these little feet follow in mother's footsteps often more sartorially than fittingly.

the patrons and patronesses were the national chapter presidents and their escorts. A feature of the dance was the Delta Delta Delta waltz sung by Misses Marie Churchill, of Salem, and Margaret Sprangler, while the others danced.

During the intermission each girl was given a tiny Kewpie doll dressed in a striking black and white costume bearing the name of the man who was to be her partner for the next dance. At the beginning of the last dance serpentine of various colors were thrown about the room and multi-colored balloons were set free to float over the dancers.

The refreshments consisted of ice cream and cake served in small individual flower pots, from the top of which bloomed tiny yellow flowers. The cakes were Delta shaped iced in yellow.

The guests remained over the week end and were the motif of a number of informal affairs.
