The Woodmen of the World bowling team is beginning to feel that so far as Oregon is concerned, there is no more worlds to conquer. The Multnomah bowlers came to Salem yesterday to reduce the honor of self esteem of the Salem team, but it worked the other way, the Salem boys winning all three games. Just at present the Woodmen players are open to a challenge from any home team combination or from the best team that any town in the state can send here for a series.

The paving of the fair grounds road will be favorably acted on at the meeting of the council this evening. Fifty per cent of the owners of property according to final measure has signed the petition and 80 per cent according to the value of the property. Besides the petition for paving, a petition will be presented, praying for an extension of the city sewer from the road leading to the tile works to the fair grounds. It is also understood that later a petition will be circulated asking the city to extend the city water works to the fair grounds.

In order to secure a better attendance in the high school, Principal J. C. Nelson will hereafter require excuses that say something more than "Please excuse." Beginning with this week, excuses for absence must say why the pupil was not in school, definitely stating whether sickness, business or work was the cause of the non-attendance and the excuse must be signed by one of the student's parents. Also it is desired that the pupil leave the school after attending for one class, the excuse

The Social Service commission of the Evangelical churches of America will present to the people of Salem the religious exhibits as they were shown at the Panama-Pacific exposition. The exhibit will be shown this week in Salem at Ryan's hall beginning tonight. In addition, there will be a great Palestine pageant of local talent under the direction of Dr. Moore, who has spent 17 years in Palestine and Egypt.

Have you heard the Sonora Talking Machine? You miss a treat if you do not stop in and hear it. Myrtle Knowland, 421 Court.

"Can You Tell a Female Rose From a Male Rose?" This is the title of a book that was to have been published by Henry Gestalter of this city. The book was to have been issued either from a local press or from Portland and was to have been put on sale about May 20. But Henry Gestalter was committed to the Oregon State hospital last Saturday and the prospects now are not favorable towards the publication of his book.

A children's auxiliary to the Salem Floral society was formed at the meeting held Saturday afternoon in the auditorium of the high school with the election of Mrs. E. W. Wallace as president, Ivan G. Martin, vice-president, and Mrs. Inez Knapp, secretary. Supervisors for each of the districts of the city, corresponding with the ten schools of the city, will be appointed by J. W. Marney, president of the society. These supervisors will work with the children of each school. Prizes will be offered and it is hoped to interest the children in the planting of flowers not only at their homes but in many of the vacant lots.

Next Friday will be vacation day for the pupils of the high school. According to the state law, the teachers of each school in the state are given one

A commission house in Dallas, Texas, has heard of the Willamette valley and its dried cherries and has written to the Commercial club asking for samples and prices of the Oregon dried cherry. The matter was referred to the local fruit houses.

The contest for membership, attendance and collections now on between the First Christian church Sunday school of this city and that of the First Christian church of Portland resulted yesterday in Portland winning for the third time, making the score six points for Portland and three for Salem. The attendance yesterday was, Salem, 319, and for Portland, 330; collections were $12.23 for Salem and $24.06 for Portland; new members, 28 for Salem and 22 for Portland. The contest is on for the months of March, April and May.

On account of the cyclone that passed just south of Portland Sunday afternoon about 5 o'clock, the Oregon Electric was put out of business for about 12 hours. With the blowing down of 12 poles and the high tension wire between Donald and Fargo, all trains were stalled and passengers were obliged to stay in the cars until about 4 o'clock this morning. The storm passed on to Butteville where several houses were blown down and several persons killed at Lents. The damage at Fargo has been repaired and the electric trains are now running on regular schedule.

Two ears of corn from the ten ears that received the highest award at the Panama-Pacific exposition were received this morning by L. J. Chapin. The corn is of the Pride of the North variety and was sent to Mr. Chapin by O. E. Freytag, director of agriculture for Oregon. It was raised in the corn belt of the central states and will be planted by Mr. Chapin to test its growing qualities and to find out whether it is adapted to this climate. The cob of the ear is small and the kernels more than the average length. Samples of peas, South American cow hals and pop corn, all prize winners, were received by Mr. Chapin and will be planted if they show growing qualities in this climate.

The city beautiful idea is becoming contagious and now the city council is getting ready to lend its influence towards making Salem what it should be, the prettiest residence city of the northwest. Noting that several societies are preparing plans to beautify the city and that a clean up day will soon be inaugurated by the city department of the Commercial club, a resolution will be introduced at the meeting of the council this evening calling attention to the fact that the city is endeavoring to clean up. Also to the fact that certain buildings on the main streets of the city have been damaged by fire and that their present appearance is unsightly and detracts from the beauty of the city. The resolution asks that the city attorney be authorized and directed to confer with the owners of such property and ask them to cooperate with the citizens in the clean-up movement and remove the unsightly structures.
