An impromptu speaking contest was held this afternoon between the three upper classes of the high school. Each class was represented by three speakers. In the first contest the speakers were assigned their subject at noon but not allowed to read up on the subject. In the second contest, the speakers were not assigned the subject until the last moment, and then they were given two minutes to tell all they knew about it. These inter-class contests are held to secure the silver cup to be given by the civics club to the class scoring the greatest number of points in the various departments of work.

The U. S. department of agriculture at Washington recently issued a bulletin on brown rot especially as it applies to prune trees in the Willamette valley. The bulletin is a contribution from the bureau of plant industry and tells of the experiments in the treating of prunes and cherry trees for brown rot at the Vancouver, Washington, experimental station. This bulletin may be secured by writing the U. S. department of agriculture at Washington, D. C., asking for bulletin No. 368. It is entitled, "Brown Rot of Prunes and Cherries in the Pacific Northwest."

On account of the social service exposition at Ryan's hall, there will be no mid-week services this evening at the First Congregational church.

The Salem Social Service society has a position waiting for the right kind of a man who is familiar with farm work. The farm is not far from Salem and the job is a good one. Ivan G. McDaniel at the commercial club can give the information.

Roy Bryant was yesterday appointed deputy health officer to work with Dr. O. R. Miles. This action was taken as there is plenty of work to be done, and Mr. Bryant will begin his duties at once. The position pays $63 a month.

A river bottom farm of 32½ acres lying north of the city in Polk county on the Wallawa road was purchased yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Matlock. They expect to make extensive improvements. The sale was made by J. A. Mills.

Three films will be shown at the Sunday evening services of the First Congregational church after a short talk by the pastor. They are about the people and customs of Japan, the work of the Salvation army and a Biblical reel, "The Woman of Samaria."

Wesley Downs was arrested today by the Salem police on information from Canby, which stated that the young man was wanted there for robbing a store. Downs told the officers that he was an ex-reform school boy but that he was innocent of any crime at Canby.

J. B. Cornett, of Sheed Station, in Linn county, was appointed today by the state fair board as chief of the livestock department of the state fair and his duties will be about the same as the former superintendent of this division. Mr. Cornett is a well known stock breeder of this valley.

The Frame Shop and Giftery announced that the framing department is now in operation, the work having been suspended during moving and opening of store. We wish to thank all those who have been so patient about waiting for their delayed work and we will soon be turning out frames with accustomed promptness.

Save your old papers and rags. This country is not in quite so bad a fix as several European countries where it has become necessary to economize on food as well as luxuries, but the plain facts are, there is a serious shortage of the raw materials for the manufacture of paper. Old rags and old papers are raw materials and the present housewife may turn a few honest pennies by saving these and selling to the man who collects such materials. This information of a shortage in raw materials comes from the department of commerce at Washington, and a letter from William C. Redfield, secretary, states that a little attention to the saving of rags and old papers will mean a genuine relief to the paper industry of the country. Besides the chance to turn an honest dime by saving, there is also the patriotic side of the proposition.

Deaths Among Wealthy Causes Doctor's Arrest

New York, March 23.—Following the deaths of three wealthy people here, District Attorney Stewart today ordered the arrest of Dr. Arthur Warren Waite.

John E. Peck, Grand Rapids millionaire and father in law of Dr. Waite died March 12, supposedly of arsenic poisoning. Mrs. Peck, his wife, died on January 30. Her body was cremated. Both deaths occurred in Dr. Waite's apartment on Riverside Drive.

Mrs. Emma Bing, aged 60, died yesterday. She left an estate of $400,000. Suspicion was first aroused by a negro maid's statement. The coroner also received a telephone message from an unknown source telling him he better inquire into the circumstances of the tragedies.

After Peck died, his son Percy in Grand Rapids received an anonymous telegram suggesting that he demand an autopsy.

A police guard was maintained at the home of Dr. Waite as he was sick and could not be moved, according to Attorney Stanchfield, his lawyer.

The Central Congregational Sunday school will hold a social Friday evening at the church on Nineteenth and Ferry streets. Besides being a social gathering for the older folks, the occasion will be more in the way of giving the little ones an evening of entertainment in the way of games, music and something to eat.

Tom Bennett, chairman of the railroad celebration committee of Marshfield, is in the city today, seeking to arouse interest in the event in the Capital City. There is to be a joint six-day celebration by the Coos Bay towns when the Eugene-Coos Bay railroad is completed in the latter part of July or first part of August, and every effort will be made to make it a state-wide event. A large delegation, including the Cherrians, will attend from Salem.

After holding the office of coroner for the past 18 years and with no opposition excepting two years ago, Coroner A. M. Clough will experience the feeling of having another candidate in the field as Dr. B. T. McIntyre filed yesterday. Two years ago Mr. Clough was opposed at the primaries by Dr. J. S. Van Winkle. He has held the office so many years that running for coroner has become sort of a habit. Several times he has been nominated on both the republican and democratic tickets.

Ralph Mercer, son of Dr. W. L. Mercer, is home for a few days' visit from Goat Island near San Francisco. Mr. Mercer joined the navy last September and has been in training at Goat Island preparatory to an assignment on a training ship. He will visit here but a few days as he has been assigned to the cruiser Pittsburgh which has been ordered to San Diego for the spring training. Cecil Schaeffer and James Walker who joined the navy a few months ago expect to also be assigned to the Pittsburgh before it leaves for San Diego.

The Cherrians boast of 18 good and true members who have been present at every drill since the commencement of the regular spring training Wednesday evenings. At the same time the organization does not especially do much boasting about the 42 who have not responded to roll call. On a general average the attendance has been about 40. As yet it has not been decided what punishment will be handed out to the 42 who are playing hooky or what reward shall be credited to the noble 18 who have so faithfully responded.

Judge Galloway returned yesterday from Weiser, Idaho where he was called by the illness of his brother, T. C. Galloway. Judge Galloway reports his brother still very low and it is not expected that he will entirely recover from the present attack. Judge Galloway said he found a particularly backward spring in Idaho and that from Huntington to La Grande the snow was covered to a depth of several inches by a recent snowstorm and even yesterday a light snow was falling in that region. Not until Pendleton was reached did the judge observe many signs of spring but found the Willamette valley a particularly welcome spot and says the people here have little cause to complain about the weather.
