Theda Bara Says Few Girls Have Photoplay Talent

Vampire Woman Encourages Only Those Aspirants Who Are Sincere.

Miss Theda Bara, star of the William Fox production, "The Serpent," has issued a warning to all screen-struck girls. Miss Bara is deluged with queries as to the best way to get into photoplay, and are the inquiries all from young people.

"If the average girl only knew the sacrifices necessary to attain success in motion pictures, she would carefully consider before electing screen-acting as her life's work," says Miss Bara. "The demands made on the time of the motion picture actress are greater than those made on the time of the woman engaged in the pursuit of any other art."

"The average girl, according to my opinion, which is founded on the many letters I receive, believes that acting before the camera requires merely ability to reveal her own personality. It would seem to me that she has read about the triumph of some inexperienced girl who has achieved remarkable dramatic success in her first picture.

"Of course there is always the possibility that the embryonic photoplayer may acquire the greatest of laurels in her first photoplay appearance. There is that possibility, but it is a very small one. I myself find that success on the screen requires constant study. If one really feels that she has histrionic talent of a high order and she is willing to labor indefatigably, it may be well enough for her to enter photoplay."

"If, however, she aspires merely to reveal her own personality on the screen, it is best that she remain among her friends who probably will appreciate her more than the average motion picture audience."

Manager Bligh Reviews Empress Show

Brinful of the requisites for a good entertainment is the vaudeville feast spread for the Salem fans at the Grand next Sunday. Mr. Bligh says the bill is a breezy and good one. A musical comedy is the headline and a sextette of singing and playing Italians are a feature.

It's not the "Wallingford" plot of eternal youth or millions of dollars, but some able comedians and a group of pretty dancing, laughing girls that are the making of "Wallingford Outdone," a musical farce in the country setting of "Hayville, N. H." The pretty dancing girls are arranged in striking costumes and their dances are full of youthful grace and enthusiasm.

"Women take so long to dress" is a criticism entirely wiped out by Miss Edith Note, a pretty young singer who simply walks out of one stunning gown into another.

A comedy playlet of a middle-aged man's love affair with his charming young wife, is by Leo Curley and Miss Frederick Allen, styled "She Had to Tell Him." The La Toy Brothers do a whirlwind pantomime novelty act. Raynor & Bell do a very clever and refined musical offering, a whistling number at the piano, dance a little, song and patter. Valli Valli in "Her De of Honor" a five reel Metro wonder photoplay has been added to the show for Salem and this adds great value to the show as the Metro pictures rank among the best that the world affords.

SPORT GOSSIP

Will Cut Out Waste. Modesto, Cal., Mar. 23.—Cliff Blankenship, manager of the Salt Lake Bees, is already stripping his decks for action as soon as the Pacific Coast baseball season opens. He announced today that he would dispose of the services of five of the youngsters he is now carrying and would return to Salt Lake next Monday with all superfluous players eliminated.

May Be Done For Season. Berkeley, Cal., Mar. 23.—It was announced today that Sam Adair, captain of the University of California baseball team probably will be unable to play any more this season. The sprained ankle he sustained a few days ago has developed into a serious injury. E. J. Young will act as captain of the team.

Seals Do Good Work. San Jose, Cal., Mar. 23.—Aside from a short workout early in the morning the Seals loafed today.

Manager Wolverton is delighted with the showing of his proteges made against the Clams yesterday when they shut out the Missionites in a snappy game.

The Seal boss expects to carry six pitchers after May 1 and he is devoting considerable time studying the merits of his staff of fingers to determine which shall go.

WORDY PAVING SCRAP AT PUBLIC MEETING BRINGS NO ACTION

Final Action To Be Taken by Council At Next Regular Meeting

After an extended and wordy discussion of the status of the South Church paving case remains exactly as it did before the meeting of the property owners was called at the city council chambers last night. The members of the street committee heard the discussion and will make their recommendations to the city council. The committee reported last night as being in favor of the improvement and if they make this recommendation to the council the council will vote upon the question. If it is passed the city engineer will look up the titles and ownership of the property along this street and this will probably be the first definite and exact report of actual conditions as the two sides were unable to agree last night upon the amount of frontage represented by the respective sides. If the council decided to reject the recommendations of the street committee the proposed paving will die in the making and the matter will rest until it is brought up again but at present the case remains as it was because nothing was settled by last night's discussion.

Councilman Charles Jones was only a passive supporter of the proposed measure last night and resigned the active leadership of the paving forces to W. H. Brown who was the spokesman of the paving petitioners. Dan Fry was the recognized leader of the anti-pavers and the battle went on with each side insisting that it was right.

Fry Quotes Figures. The figures relative to the holdings of the different property owners interested were given by Mr. Fry substantially as follows:

"In the improvement from State to Mission street the total length of the proposed improvement is 2135.06 feet. Doubling this to get the total length of abutting property we have 4271.32 feet. At Oak street there is sixty-six feet of property which I have included because it has been assessed for the last eleven years.

"Erasing the name of Mr. Trimble from the petition, the total amount represented by the petitioners is 1042 feet. Now regarding the bridge which they say I have included in my figures: From Mission street north the proposed improvement extends 10 feet onto block 11, which is my property, and 10 feet onto the Lord property on the other side of the street. The bridge then extends from Bellevue to Oak except ten feet. The city would then levy an assessment on one lot in my block and on one lot of the Lord block. The bridge is 300 feet long, representing 600 feet. The amount to take out for the bridge is 493 feet. The total improvement is 4337 feet. Taking off 493 there is left 3844. Half of that is 1922, hence the petitioners to have a majority would have to represent 1922 feet. They have 1116, or a shortage of about 880 feet."

Mayor White here called Mr. Fry's attention to block 11 where he stated that instead of 145 feet Mr. Fry and Mrs. Lord had a remonstrating power of only 10 feet and Fry replied that even with this further deduction it left a shortage of 807 on the petition.

Some personalities were injected into the meeting when Mr. Fry declared he had been a booster during his entire 30 years' residence in Salem and asked, "Does any one know of any improvement in that time that I have opposed?"

Mayor White was on his feet in an instant and challenged this statement by asking who besides Mr. Fry was opposing the improvement and who was the most determined champion of the remonstrators. Mr. White continued by saying that the city owed it to the farmers to put in a good street so that they could reach the markets of the town and that there was not a decent street in town to travel on to the various fruit markets.

This was a signal for further protests from the Fry followers and D. N. McInturff declared that he would be in favor of the pavement if he were assured that President Wilson would not be re-elected. Councilman Cook added a little levity to the seriousness of the meeting by asking how McInturff could support Fry and oppose Wilson since both Mr. Fry and Mr. Wilson are well known democrats.

Other property owners spoke either for or against the pavement but no definite action was taken. Mr. McInturff sought to secure some action at the meeting by proposing that a committee of two, one from each side, be appointed to interview the property owners and to secure their stand in the matter for record. Chairman Cook replied that since the meeting had been called by the street committee only for the purpose of hearing the opinions of the property owners that the matter would come up in council in the regular manner and be disposed of by this body at the next regular meeting.

This means that if the council votes in favor of the proposed improvement the remonstrators must secure a two-thirds majority of the frontage on the remonstrance to block the pavement.

NEW YORK GOES CRAZY OVER COMING FIGHT

5000 Wait In Line From Daylight Awaiting Sale of $3 and $5 Tickets

By Fred S. Ferguson.
(United Press Staff Correspondent.)
New York, Mar. 23.—New York has gone nutty over the Willard-Moran fight.

When the $3 and $5 tickets for the topmost gallery went on sale today men fought for them. A line 5,000 strong had been formed at daylight. Thousands more jammed the streets around Madison Square Garden at 9 a. m. when the ticket window opened.

The receipts so far aggregate $143,000. Both fighters are ready and loafing. Willard amused the crowd at the Phonograph club with some shadow boxing. In his last sparring workout it was observed that the champion's defense still had holes in it. He seemed to enjoy slapping Walter Monahan, who raised a blue egg on the title holder's brow several days ago.

Moran was around slapping his friends on the back today, radiating confidence as a steamroller radiates warmth. Up to this morning the challenger has faithfully plodded through snow and sleet for hours a day, but that is all past and done with. Frank cooled his heels around his training quarters without any attempt to work himself into a perspiration.

Madison Square Garden will be a magnet for boxing lovers from all over this end of the continent on Saturday night. Staid middle western farmers who exchanged their wheat crops for scraps of paper with large figures written thereon, have made train reservations and even now are en route to Gotham. Judging from the class of men purchasing seats, the crowd Saturday night will be the swiftest from a cash balance standpoint since the Jeffries-Johnson horror at Reno.

Will Be For Blood. Portland, Or., Mar. 23.—Accumulated venom of four years will be behind Eddie O'Connell, of Portland and Frank Vance, of Seattle when they meet in a wrestling match here April 7. O'Connell is wrestling instructor at the Multnomah club. Vance is wrestling instructor at the Seattle Athletic club.

Four years ago the instructors disagreed when they had their respective teams at a meet in Spokane. They wrestled a private match at the time and it got so rough that bystanders stopped it. Yesterday an enterprising promoter signed them up for a regular match.

Vance weighs about 160 pounds and O'Connell 150. Hockey Sidetracks Willard. Portland, Or., Mar. 23.—Followers of sports in Portland whether their appetites today for two world's championship events Saturday night. And in their minds the hockey game at Montreal, where the Portland Ice Saus class with the Montreal Canadiens, overshadowed the Willard-Moran stepping party in New York.

Each team has taken one game, and the third of the series, which will decide the championship, will be played Saturday night. Playing under western rules the Canadians last night defeated Portland 2 to 1. They were much stronger than during the first game Monday night, when playing eastern rules, Portland won 2 to 0.

Draft Schedule of Games. Seattle, Wash., Mar. 23.—Russ Hall, Bob Brown and Joe McGinnity have been appointed a committee to draft the schedule of games for the Northwest league, the coming season. The moguls are holding their annual pow wow today at the Seattle hotel.

About the only thing accomplished at yesterday's meeting—or at least all that was given out for publication—was the voting of a franchise to Butte and Great Falls.

S. R. Jensen, president of the Great Falls club, and W. K. Quarles, of Butte, were elected to the executive committee.

Russ Hall, who will guide the destinies of the Tacoma team, announced that all difficulties had been overcome in that city.

In the terrible disaster which has befallen the Serbian people and amidst the general horrors of war every where it is no small consolation to see the noble American people undertaking a work of humanity with self abnegation, admirable as well as incontestable.
