

"PETE" SPRINGS ANOTHER ONE ON THE KEEPER

LIST OF CANDIDATES AND JOBS THEY WANT

"Many Are Called But Few Are Chosen"—These Will Be Known May 19

Now that registration day closes on April 18 and the primary elections will be held May 19, the political pot, to use a common expression, is doing considerable boiling. Candidates have about all filed and the politicians who have felt the call are sizing up their opponents and figuring just what is going to happen when the final count is made late on the evening of May 19.

Fortunate is the man who has a four year job in sight that pays an annual salary of $4500 and is done out of getting it. That is just the fix Ben W. Obeity is in at present. At least no one has come out for the office to oppose him. Appointed by Governor West, he has served one term by election and cannot come up for another term.

Thomas K. Campbell has announced his willingness to serve another term on the public service commission at the rate of $4500 a year. Fred O. Buckler, who has been serving as deputy senior of weights and measures also craves a like job and has announced himself as a candidate for public service commissioner.

So far, no one has filed for the office of dairy and food commissioner, held by John D. Mielke excepting Mr. Mielke himself and it looks as if he would have the whole thing with no opposition. The office pays $2000 a year.

No Democrat has filed to oppose W. H. C. Hawley, nor has any Republican. Hence it is a safe wager that Mr. Hawley will receive the nomination at the May primaries.

Would Be Law Makers.

Judging from the number who are anxious to serve Marion county as state representative, it must be a great honor to assist in making laws for the state. The salary is only $1 a day. Hence the ten or a dozen who are in the race can truthfully say it is duty rather than financial reward that induced them to get in the race. Here is a list of the willing ones who have filed:

Seymour Jones, from Keiser, former chairman of republican club; first offense; never held an office.

R. E. Robertson, Turner, is a farmer and at present chairman of the republican committee; was defeated for county commissioner four years ago; never held office but is willing.

H. E. McInturf, rising young attorney of Salem; first offense; never held office but feels he could hold down the job all right.

Ivan G. Martin, another rising lawyer of Salem; second offense, as he ran for representative two years ago and lost out by only 49 votes. Motto, "If at first you don't succeed."

Thomas Rowan, lawyer of Salem, present incumbent; tried it once and is willing to try again.

Sam H. Brown, Gervais, is a farmer and after serving one session like the job and is also willing to try it again.

Paul Schurer is a farmer of Battleville; first offense; only man from north end of county and expects to pull that vote.

E. H. Balkna, farmer from Sidney; never held an office but is willing to help make laws.

George Keech hails from Stayton; is a farmer and this is his first offense; believes a chair in the house of representatives would be comfortable.

Mrs. Rollie K. Page, last on the list but not at all least, as the women are now voting. Mrs. Page is not only a graduate of the law department of the Willamette university, but has also been admitted to the bar, has practiced in the courts; takes an active interest in civil affairs and is entirely competent.

Some Other Jobs.

Mar circuit judge, Percy H. Kelly, of Albany, has announced for a second term on the republican ticket. George G. Hingham, of Salem; M. E. Pogue, of Salem; and Judge William Galloway are also in the running. Judge Galloway is the only democrat in the field and he is now announcing for his third term.

Only six candidates have announced for district attorney. E. R. Ringo, the present incumbent, appointed by Governor West, will not be a candidate. The six good and true lawyers who are willing to serve the district for four years at the rate of $2100 a year are as follows:

Max Gullihar, served as county clerk four years; prior to that time practiced law; has been captain of company M three years and has served in the national guard ten years.

Walter E. Keyes, was deputy district attorney three years under Gail Hill.

Guy O. Smith, Salem; first time he has asked for a public office.

Walter O. Winslow, of Salem; was deputy district attorney under John H. McNary; ran once for the legislature and again for district attorney.

O. H. Carson, young attorney of Salem; first time to come before the voters for public office.

Baino MacCard, of Woodburn; never held a public office and this is his first entrance into public life.

The office of county commissioner pays $4 a day while the commissioner is on the job. Hence the pay is part honor and part real money. Those who have filed on the republican ticket are

J. T. Hunt, of Sublimity; A. C. Libby, of Jefferson, and Monroe Nye, of Jackson Hill. This is the first attempt for Mr. Hunt and Mr. Nye, but not so with Mr. Libby, of Jefferson, as he has served two terms in the house of representatives, was defeated for the third term and was defeated for county assessor. Mr. Libby's hat is one of those that will not wear out and it is still in the ring.

Two Women In Race.

Now that W. A. Jones has announced that he is not in politics, at least this year, the race for sheriff has narrowed down to W. L. Needham, who has been deputy sheriff for eight years and E. E. Cooper, at present constable. There was some talk of Mr. Jones making it a three cornered fight, but a few days ago he announced positively that he was not in the race. The sheriff gets $2,000 a year.

From the present indications, E. G. Boyer will have the race for county clerk all to himself and there will not be much of a race. No one has as yet filed for the office besides Mr. Boyer. He has served four years as deputy and when he begins to draw pay it will be at the rate of $1800 a year.

Ben P. West has served so efficiently as assessor for the past four years that from the present outlook, he will have no opposition and he will be permitted in peace to draw $1800 another four years.

As superintendent of county schools, W. M. Smith has served eight years and wants four years more. Three others also want the $1500 a year the office pays. Those are: Clarence Phillip, of Scotts Mills, who was defeated for the office four years ago; Miss Elizabeth Cornelius, who was school supervisor for three years; and W. C. Gantt, the present superintendent of the Stayton schools.

Mrs. Mildred R. Brooks, who has held the office of county recorder for two years has no opposition for the $1200 a year job and the same may be said of D. G. Dringer, who has been treasurer two years. With the prospects of no opposition, why worry?

German Submarines Reported In Pacific

San Francisco, Mar. 24.—A report that German submarines had been seen in the Pacific was brought here today by passengers on the liner Moana which arrived from Sydney, Australia. They said two submarines and what looked like a German commerce raider had been seen. British authorities are said to believe the submarines were about to operate from a secret base in the Fiji islands. The Moana reached San Francisco one day late or account of having made a detour around the supposed submarine zone.

USES MEXICAN ROADS

Junco, Mex., Mar. 24.—Repeated efforts to communicate with districts south of Casan Grandes failed at the telegraph office here this afternoon. It was unofficially reported that General Porching was using the Mexican North western railroad wires for military purposes south of that city. Porching is using the railroad for transportation of troops.

Arthur Laflar led his Oregon cohorts through the season with the following aides, Jack Zenger, John Sundin, Bert Whorley and Willis Anibal, and the Oregon team kept the Lojus busy keeping in second place.

Henry Preland, as secretary, treasurer, president and official average compiler of the league, and to whom all bowlers in the league feel deeply indebted for his energetic co-operation.

Sufferings of Sailors Rival Tales of Fiction

San Francisco, Mar. 25.—Stories rivaling in horror Edgar Allen Poe's "Narrative of A. Gordon Pym" were told by sailors on the British bark Yavry today when it arrived here after a voyage of 105 days from Dakar, South Africa.

While seamen dies of scurvy and were thrown overboard, terrible storms lashed the sails to tatters and food ran low, the rats aboard ship became so bold they ventured out in daylight and fought with the mariners for what little they had to eat.

Harry Massey, a former Portland high school boy, was among five sufferers from scurvy that were lifted from the ship when it docked here, and taken to St. Joseph's hospital. Three others stricken with scurvy and beri beri, died at sea. The negro cook also died.

For three months there was no fresh food. No land was sighted until the Cape of Good Hope and been rounded, and then it was a desolate coast far away. Only one ship was seen during the entire voyage, a steamer hull down on the horizon.

Had the trip been prolonged, Captain Thomas Dunning fears more men would have died of starvation and disease. The five taken to the hospital are seriously ill.

Fifty Mile Race On at San Diego

San Diego, Cal., Mar. 25.—With a California spring sun beaming down and the gray-white walls of the exposition buildings for a background, the four speedsters were sent away over the hazardous course in the 50-mile exposition automobile race at 2:50 this afternoon.

At the beginning of the race it was estimated that between 12,000 and 15,000 people were massed around the course. Stands were full and every roof and shelter was covered. Hundreds of automobiles were at the north gate.

In the drawing for places Teddy Terlaiff, in his purple Milac, drew the inside position; Cliff Durant, with the red Chevrolet, No. 2; Oldfield and his Delage, got No. 3, and Bob Burman, in a Peugeot, picked No. 4 place.

Backers of Oldfield groaned when they saw the moving pictures snapping "Miss San Diego" taking the famous cigar out of the mouth of Barney. They thought it was bad luck as the speed boy had never driven a race without a "saige".

The racers circled the track once and were sent away by Starter Howard B. Smith.

Willard Really Does Not Need the Money

(By United Press.)

New York, Mar. 25.—Jess Willard really doesn't need the $47,500 he will garner for a few floating minutes in the roped square tonight. Jess, while not a tightwad, is a rugged soul and, to say nothing of what he collected for bumping the big black boy in Havana, he has been knocking out $2,000 a week with a circus for the last 50 weeks or so. Willard is no fool about his financial investments and, while he has a fine home in Chicago, also a car and other little comforts, he doesn't need any of his long green to the birds. He buys a good many hundred acres of oil lands and such stable things as that.

Clay in the sixth round of their scheduled 15-round bout.

San Francisco.—Ed Shannon won a four-round decision over Willie Hoppe.

New York.—Frank Whitney was forced to quit in the fourth round of a scheduled 10-round bout after Freddie Welsh had punished him terrifically.

New York.—Johnny Kilbane out-boxed Harry Donahue, of Peoria, in a 10-round bout.

LOS ANGELES PLAYERS GO

San Jose, Cal., Mar. 25.—Harry Wolverton again got out his well known axe today and lopped Catcher Cross, Outfielder Lang and Infielder Burns, from the Seals' roster.

The biggest crowd the Seals have faced so far this season will be out Sunday afternoon when they meet the Santa Clara varsity for the third time. Joe Sorbett, the veteran boxman, will perform.
