SALEM HEIGHTS WATER USERS SAY RATES FOR IRRIGATION TOO HIGH

Complaint Filed With Public Service Commission Asks Adjustment

Water meters cause an unjust discrimination against water users who irrigate their gardens and lawns according to a complaint filed today at the office of the public service commission against the Salem Water, Light & Power company by C. M. Cox, F. D. Thielson, and S. E. Wolfe. The water users assert that they put on meters and that the charges are excessive and for irrigation purposes are prohibitive and that the charges are based upon the meter measurements are more than the same amount under a flat rate. Again the water users complain that the meter rate is not subject to a 10 per cent discount which is allowed under the flat rate system. The property of the water users who are the plaintiffs in the above complaint is situated upon Salem Heights and it is stated that the pressure in that vicinity is often lacking when there is a heavy demand for water as upon the weekly wash day. The public service commission will make a full investigation of the matter and ascertain whether or not the character of the soil or its hillside location is the cause for the excessive meter charges. The complaint asks for an investigation of the matter and an equitable adjustment of the rates.

AMERICAN TROOPS IN FIELD SUFFERING FROM HEAT AND COLD

Glorify Man Who Made Possible Their Invasion of Mexico

By H. C. Boehme. Douglas Ariz., March 25.—'Viva Villa!' 'Viva Villa!' is the recurring daily occurrence to hear this phrase shouted on the streets. Citizens of Douglas don't seem to pay much attention to it, despite the fact that it is shouted always by United States troops. Expecting a call any moment to rush across the line and hunt down this man, American soldiers sing his praises daily. When the chaos comes they will hunt down 'Pancho' with the same energy of General Pershing's soldiers, and will take just as much glory in making the end of the bandit ruler as bloody as possible, as the troop now close on his heels intend doing. Yet of all the Mexican warriors and revolutionists, Villa is held highest in the esteem of the troops at the international boundary line. Most of the troops will admit that it is not until after they have 'santeened-up a bit' that they shout 'Viva Villa.' They say that the border is no place for army men to camp five years in a climate where every summer day means blistering heat, and winter days mean hurricanes of suffocating dust clouds. With nothing more auring than a frontier movie show, no green trees, nothing but the hum-drum of camp life every day year after year, troops have been dreaming of the man who would finally provoke war and afford them a change. Much as they have avowed to kill him, 'Pancho' Villa is the patron saint of the United States trooper at the border.

SUBMARINE ISSUE LOOMS LARGE AGAIN

Mexican Situation Overshadowed by Torpedoing of Sussex

By J. P. Yoder. (United Press staff correspondent.) Washington, Mar. 25.—The submarine issue with its grave possibilities again confronts the government. For the moment the Sussex and Englishman cases today overshadowed the Mexican situation. Taken with the attacks against the Patria and the Tubantia, officials believed today's reports indicated the central powers had possibly embarked on a submarine campaign similar to the one a year ago which brought the United States so close to a break with them. Officials made no attempt to hide the shock which the news produced. The sinking of the Englishman, with four Americans missing, appeared to be the most serious incident but there was also much anxiety about the disabling of the Sussex. Secretary Lansing called for all the facts. Should they prove that the Sussex was torpedoed it was stated authoritatively the administration would regard as hollow and empty the central powers' promises and assurances. Refidants from survivors of the Sussex disaster should reach the state department Monday or Tuesday. Perhaps the weather is trying to get all the rain out of its system before the style week.

Sunday School Workers Adopt Resolutions

The following resolutions were passed on record at the session of the Marion county Sunday school convention. To a certain extent, these resolutions represent the action taken by the convention on several leading topics of the day. They were drawn by a special committee and passed unanimously by the association. We rejoice in the increasing interest in our organized Sunday school work manifested in this, one of the most helpful conventions that has been held for years. We are persuaded that the county and district gatherings are of great value in the creation of enthusiasm, the exchange of ideas and methods in the vital part of the work of Christ, and finally the mutual acquaintance of the Sunday school workers of Marion county. Now, therefore, as your committee on resolutions, we desire to submit the following: Resolved, first, that the delegates of this convention convey to their own Sunday schools the importance of this organization in the upbuilding of the community. Second, resolved, that we aim, during the coming year to organize a teacher training class in every Sunday school in the county. Third, resolved, that we as a convention recommend the adoption of the graded lessons by the Sunday schools of Marion county; also that we exert every effort to promote the organized Bible class movement, and the extension of the same department. Fourth, resolved, that we lay especial emphasis upon child study and in individual knowledge of each member of the Sunday school. Fifth, resolved, that this convention go on record as favoring a stringent state Sunday closing law. Sixth, resolved, that we extend sincere thanks to General Secretary Chas. A. Phipps for his instinctive and inspirational work in the convention and among the schools of this county, that we also extend to our county officers our gratitude for their efficient and successful work in this field. Seventh, whereas, we have been most heartily received and royally entertained by the people of Salem, we express our most hearty appreciation and bid them God-speed in the work of the Sunday school. Eighth, resolved, that we thus express our appreciation to the official press of this city for their publication of various reports of this convention, and that these resolutions be published in the papers of this city. Ninth, resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be placed upon the minutes of the convention. G. A. ANDERSON, GLADYS CARSON. Officers Elected.
